

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 12

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, January 12, 1950

This is a picture of the revised Athletic building now under construction on the campus. Many students have been wondering how the building has been changed. This is it. Compare this building to the picture of the other printed in a former La Vie.

NSA Observers Voice 'Thumbs Down' To SFC

Lebanon Valley College was represented by four official observers at the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania region of the National Students' Association, held December 16-18, 1949, at Albright College in Reading. Those attending the meetings were: Nancy Klein of Reading, Ray Kline of Lebanon, James Trimble of Philadelphia, and David Wallace of Annapolis.

The LVC delegation was sent to the meeting by the college for the purpose of observing the NSA in action and of making a recommendation to the Student-Faculty Council on the question of LV's joining NSA.

The members of the delegation attended the plenary sessions of the meeting, but as mere observers were unable to take any seat in the official business of the organization, which consisted of procedural and budgetary action and the passage of a series of resolutions embodying the recommendations of the various workshops and clinics.

The work of the clinics was to discuss various problems of students and colleges with a view to evolving solutions through pooling of ideas and experiences of many colleges. In two of these workshops the LVC delegates were able to take an active part.

The work of the clinics on Human Relations and Student Government, which were observed by the delegates, was so hampered by the absence of competent leadership and a carefully prepared program that little was accomplished. Nothing more than aimless discussion and drawing up aimless

(Continued on Page Two)

Annual LV Concert Features M. Gould And Brahms Second

The annual Lebanon Valley College Symphony Orchestra concert will be held on Friday, January 13, 1950, at 8:30, in Engle Hall.

The orchestra, under the baton of Prof. E. P. Rutledge, will play a movement of Brahms' second symphony, a Morton Gould suite and a Tchaikovsky art song. They will also offer Kister's PRELUDE TO THE 3RD ACT of the opera KUNIHILD, an overture by Offenbach and a TOCCATA by Frescobaldi.

The soloists for the evening will be Louis Smith, violinist and George Ritner, a junior in the conservatory, tenor soloist. Mr. Smith will play ALLEGRETTO NON TROPPO from SYMPHONIC ESTROPPEO FOR VIOLIN AND OR-

Philo Outlines Plans For Coming Months

At the regular January meeting of Phi Lambda Sigma, held on Thursday, January 4, plans were laid for the coming semester's activities.

President Bob Haines appointed the following men as a standing committee to provide entertainment at the regular meetings of the society for the second semester: Don McCurdy, Dick Kohler, Mark Schbeiderhan, with Jack Saylor as chairman.

The possibility of a society sleighing party was discussed, and Charles Blaich and Jack Saylor were assigned to investigate the weather predictions and the availability of sleighs.

President Haines also added two men to the Dance Advertising Committee, which now consists of the following: John Kreig, chairman; Bernard Goldsmith, Carl Stein, Dick Kohler, and Dave Bomgardner. The last two men were added to the committee as new members.

CHESTRA by Edouard Lalo. Mr. Ritner will sing E LUCEVAN LE STELLE from TOSCA by Giacomo Puccini.

The members of the orchestra are: Robert Fisher, Concertmaster, Doris Klingensmith, Arlene Shuey, Wilbert Hartman, Harold Malsh, Jean Wenner, Joan Bair, Annette Read, Geraldine Rothermel, Richard Moore, Elma Jane Breidenstine, James Barber, Richard Lukasiewicz, John Wuertz, Louise Moeckel, Doris Powell, Robert Clay, Jane Holliday, Miriam Fuller, Allen Koppenhaver, Ray Kauffman, Beatrice Royer, George Eschbach, Carol Kling-

(Continued on Page Two)

Robert Moller President Of Kalo Second Semester

At the regular monthly meeting of Kalo on Thursday evening, January 5, 1950, elections for the coming semester were held. Bob Moller was re-elected President and Pat Esposito was elected to continue to hold the office of Vice President. John Charles Smith was unanimously selected Treasurer, a post he has held for three semesters. The Society obtained a new Recording Secretary when Gerald Miller was elected to that position. Don Yeatts will continue as Corresponding Secretary. One of Kalo's newest members, John Walter, was elected Chaplain. Gerry Pratt will be the new Sergeant-at-Arms.

Four new members were elected to the Executive Committee. They are Bob Geyer, Bob Eigenbrode, Bill Miller, and Earl Redding. Ed Tesnar will continue as a member of that committee.

Immediately following elections President Moller inducted John Walter, Bob Eigenbrode, and Earl Redding into their offices.

The President appointed Don Yeatts to obtain bids from orchestras for the Kalo-Delphian dance which will be held March 4, 1950 in Lancaster.

The President also announced that orders for Kalo jackets will be taken at the beginning of the next semester.

REMEMBER . . .
DI DAY — MARCH 1

On Freedom

By Carl Y. Ehrhart, Professor of Philosophy

(Ed. note: This is the second in a series of articles written by faculty members of Lebanon Valley College. The third in this series will appear in a near-future edition of La Vie).

One of the indications of personal immaturity is the unwillingness to tolerate expression of opinion contrary to our own, that is, to the received opinion with which we have identified ourselves. And if you insist on disagreeing, you must be removed or throttled, at all costs.

Americans both cherish and fear freedom. Else why would they expend themselves and pour out their wealth in a tremendous conflict to preserve their liberties, and at the same time deprive a portion of their own citizens, negro citizens to be sure, of those very liberties? Citizens incidentally, who were considered "good enough" to fight in defense of that which they were being denied.

Americans both cherish and fear freedom. Else why would they encourage meetings dedicated to race-hating "Klu-Klux-Klanism," and break up with stones and clubs a meeting dedicated to communism?

Americans both cherish and fear freedom. Else why would a Congressional committee ostensibly set up to protect our civil liberties from nefarious groups designated "Un-American" seriously propose to examine college text-books, in the best fascist and totalitarian manner? Or a Congressman proud of his defense of freedom and "individual initiative" propose to set up a committee of art critics to police artists, making sure that none of them painted anything more abstract than a photograph of your Aunt Tillie or anything which would not look nice on a recruiting poster, or on a calendar from Jake's Meat Market?

There is a lot more that could be used by way of illustration, but columns, like bologna, must be cut off and tied up somewhere. The sort of behavior we've been talking about seems to indicate a sort of social and national immaturity. And a theologian might say that these examples are all instances of the self-centeredness and pride that is the chief manifestation of original sin. At any rate, we had all better grow up while we have the chance.

Freedom is to be cherished, not feared. A prominent newspaper, in commenting on the "Robeson incident" at Peekskill, says that in the long run, freedom is itself the best weapon we have against those who would deprive us of it. John Stuart Mill tells us that even recognized errors quite often contain a portion of truth; and furthermore, they perform the happy service of keeping the believers and defenders of truth alert. We can only add this, that freedom is like friendship. It is found only in sharing.

Scorn in Boston

(Ed. Note: This article was printed in the current issue of PATHFINDER.)

Lawrence Dame, veteran Boston Herald reporter, had often heard Psychology Prof. F. Alexander Magoun of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology express himself frankly, but confidentially, on the low status of college teaching. Stocky, energetic and full of ideas, Dr. Magoun has been at M.I.T. for years. Reporters found him an endless source of information. But when he came to his choicest comments, he would always add: "Now, remember, that's off the record."

Last week Dame heard the professor was resigning to do some writing. Maybe now the lid would be off. He hurried off to see Magoun. Not only was the lid off, but he gave Dame the whole kettle.

In it were some things that sent a cold chill down the spine of many a U. S. educator. Good teachers exist in the colleges, admitted Magoun, but they are all too few.

Safe Rut. "The trouble is there are too many teachers who dish out the same old thing year after year. That's the safe way. They stay out of trouble. But it isn't the stimulating way to teach... What right has anyone to become a teacher without ideas? Why, it's become so bad in some places that when a professor says 'good morning,' the students take that down in notes!

"What most teachers are doing is 'telling' something to students, instead of letting them discover. If students memorize, they get good marks. But if they think for themselves, they get poor grades."

"Remember, the mind, which is so often considered a mere instrument of reasoning in academic halls, is actually the center of the nervous system and is the thing you feel with. How you use it to think depends on how you feel. There is too much of the idea of 'think like the professor or flunk.'"

Look to the Coach. For those who think a football coach should not get three times as much salary as a professor, Magoun had only scorn. "The football coach deserves what he gets. Why? Because he studies each man. The more successful ones are good psychologists. Imagine—some professors can't hitch up names and faces."

In Magoun's own classes, students enjoyed themselves. He made it known ideas which disagreed with his own were welcomed, not discouraged. His favorite method of prodding his students to think was one word: "Why?"

Added Magoun: "A lot of teachers think most universities would be swell places to work in were it not for the students. A good teacher, on the other hand, is a man who unites his two loves—his students and his subject."

A Fine '49 — A Finer '50

By BILL FISHER

To all of you interested in and concerned about Lebanon Valley athletics we pass belated wishes and comments on Valley sports who gave us a fine '49 and, we hope, will give up a finer '50.

To Hank DiJohnson—Lebanon Valley's own "Man of the Half Century."

To George Roman—A little "Roman army" to play football for LV.

To Dale Shellenberger—Touch-downs, plenty of 'em.

To Fred Sample—A football team that will really, "C'mon gang, woork!"

To Tom Quinn—An oversized football field so he won't have to tackle halfbacks on the cinder track.

To Walt Gage—A degree for his educated toe.

To Frank DeAngelis—A hope he'll live up to his nickname of "Mighty Joe Young."

To Bob Fischer and Norm Lukens—Some pollsters looking for an All-State end and center.

To Andy Kerr—Many thanks.

To Ralph Mease—a basketball team that will carry him into the Middle Atlantic play-offs.

To Dick Fox—One of the best L.V.J.V. teams ever.

To Floyd Becker—A top "Hooper rating."

To Red Langstaff—Many points to keep LV basketball in the "black."

To Chuck Zimmerman—The most under-rated athlete at Lebanon Valley.

To Larry Kinsella—The laundry man. May he take all our opponents to the cleaners.

To Neal Woll—May he up his batting average 200 points and hit 300 this coming baseball season.

To Fred Fore—May his "curve service" be especially tasty this spring.

To the new gym—With crossed fingers that it will be finished by its Nov. 15th deadline.

To the new athletic field—With crossed fingers that it will be finished. Also a name—Snavely Stadium, after North Carolina coach, Carl Snavely, class of '15.

To all of you, a most nifty '50. May it be a banner year in Lebanon Valley sports.

Concert...

(Continued From Page One)

smith, Jack Snavely, George Rutledge, Fred Brown, Leroy Evans, Bruce Wiser, Harry Keim, Lloyd McCurdy, Auguste Broadmeyer, Chester Richwine, William Lemon, Charles Kreis, George Wolf, John Heck, George Alwood, and Jed Dietrich.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 12 January 12,

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published throughout the college year, except during examination periods, by the student body of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press and the Intercollegiate Press.

Editor.....Al M...
Associate Editor.....Dorothy T...
Sports Editors.....Bill Fisher and Jim...
Conservatory Editor.....Robert...
Exchange Editor.....Betty B...
Photographers.....Jim Gregg, Martin T...
Advisers.....G. G. Struble, E. P. Rut...
Business Manager.....Victor A...
Business Adviser.....A. P...

Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Lee Wells, Alex Fehr, Jeanne Bozarth, Milan, Dick Kaylor, Kermit Kiehner, Anne Shenk, Audrey Geidt, Glenn Vivian Werner, Carl Daugherty, Nancy Donald Paine, Marianne Shenk, Melroy, Dorothea Cohen, David Ruth Evans.

NSA...

(Continued From Page One)

recommendations occupied time of the delegates.

It was the feeling of those represented LVC that the benefit to be gained from membership in the NSA, such as travel plans, credit card system, speakers rears, and information service are not sufficient to warrant establishment on this campus of an NSA committee. The existing setup for student-faculty cooperation makes unnecessary the addition of any new committees to campus already over-organized.

The adjustment of Valley students to their environment and problems of student relations unusually good, judging from complaints voiced by students at other colleges.

The delegation has, therefore, recommended to the Student-Faculty Council that Lebanon Valley College remain independent of NSA and continue to rely upon its own resources to solve its problems.

THANK YOU

Dr. Lynch has requested the editors of La Vie to publicly thank all those persons who were kind enough to send him Christmas wishes during the vacation.

Conserv Notes

By Bob Rhein

Professor E. P. Rutledge has announced the completed itinerary for the annual tour of the L. V. C. Glee Club. The Club, combined for the first time with the orchestra, will appear at the following places:

Sat., Feb. 4—Columbia, Pa.; (aft) Sun., Feb. 5—Mt. Wolf, Pa.; (eve) Sun., Feb. 5—York, Pa.; Mon., Feb. 6—Red Lion, Pa.; Tues., Feb. 7—Baltimore, Md.; Wed., Feb. 8—Washington, D. C.; Thurs., Feb. 9—Hagerstown, Md.; Fri., Feb. 10—Waynesboro, Pa.; Sat., Feb. 11—Chambersburg, Pa.; (a. m.) Sun., Feb. 12—Shippensburg, Pa.; (aft) Sun., Feb. 12—Carlisle, Pa.

Prof. Frank Stachow has just received word that his suggestion, made during the PMEA Conference in Harrisburg, has been accepted by the Universal Reel Contest Committee. This contest was sponsored by the Universal Electronic Sales Corporation, and was open to all members of the PMEA. Ideas were submitted for new uses of tape recorders. For his suggestion Prof. Stachow will receive a tape recorder.

The Harrisburg Symphony will present a concert Tuesday, January 31, 1950, at 8:30 P. M., in the Forum at Harrisburg. Constance Keene, pianist, will be soloist.

Who's Who In The Conserv

Barbara Ann Kleinfelter

This week's choice for Who's Who has also been elected to the Who's Who in College. Babs is a member of the Jiggrboard, President of North Hall, Music Chairman of the Y Cabinet, Secretary of Delphian and Assistant to the Dean of Women. She is a part time chapel organist and accompanist for many soloists. In addition she plays bass drum in the Girls Band.

Barbara, whose home is in Biglerville, Penna., began her musical career in High School. She accompanied the Biglerville Glee Club. More recently she was the accompanist for the L. V. C. Glee Club on their '49 tour, and the Chorus during its rehearsals for the 1949 music festival. In last year's Quittie she was selected as the outstanding Woman Leader. She was also Co-Chairman of the recent Conserv Formal Committee.

To The Editor. . .

To whom it may concern:

The most puzzling question of the new year is, "When do we eat?" The boarding students of the college can not seem to digest beans for four meals in a row nor can they saw the shoe-leather brand steak that is served with the hardware which the dining hall provides. And fruit cocktail for three meals in a row! Can't there be better deserts if there can't be better meals? Who is to blame when ten students leave the dining hall because the meal does not look digestable, besides the fact that it isn't?

So for the New Year, we students resolve to eat better meals if only better meals are served!

Dear students,

It was two months ago when I arrived here in Annville to continue my studies at Lebanon Valley College. The first time the doors of this college opened before me, I knew that I was entering the new world—a world of youth, a world of happiness. It was a world with the motto, "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Now it was going to be my motto, too.

You professors who are teaching the truth to the young men and young women, and you fellow students who are here to learn the truth, you are the citizens of this happy world, and I am so glad that I am able to be a part of this student body.

You all have given so much to me that I can never repay you. You have given me a place in the world I have dreamed of. You have made it possible for me to continue my studies. You have provided me with all the necessities of life. In Christmas holiday you gave me nice presents and made it possible to spend my vacation with my friends in New York. You have given to me a happy end or 1949.

What I can do to repay a little to the student body of L. V. C. is to promise to be a good citizen of this new world and I am always thankful to you.

Please find here my thanks to your president Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, to Mr. Gockley, to all professors of Lebanon Valley College, and to you my fellow students.

I wish to you a happy new year, full of luck and success! That all the happiness you have made for others should return to you this year!

Felix Viro.

Essay Of John S. Mill Picked By Great Books

The second meeting of the LVC Great Books Discussion Group will be held tonight, January 12, at 7:30 P. M., in Room 212, Washington Hall.

The work to be discussed is the nineteenth century political classic, ON LIBERTY, by John Stuart Mill. The discussion will be key-noted by several members of the Political Science Department.

Copies of the essay may be purchased prior to the meeting in the Library at eighty-five cents per copy.

The meeting for February will be devoted to a study of THE BOOK OF JOB and Aeschylus' PROMETHEUS BOUND, the first of a series of three meetings centered about the problem of evil. This discussion will be led by Professor Carl Ehrhart of the LVC faculty.

For All Your Jewelry . . .
The Best At Hawryluk

Annville, Pa.

Conserv Grad Of '48 Announces Betrothal

The engagement of Miriam R. Wehry, class of '48, to Mr. Bruce E. Hawkins is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wehry, of Summit Station, R.D. 1.

Miss Wehry is Supervisor of Music in the Orwigsburg Borough Schools.

Mr. Hawkins, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Hawkins of Schuylkill Haven, is a senior at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. He served with the U. S. Armed Forces for five years.

IT'S A DATE:
FEBRUARY 10
Annual Day Student Valentine Dance
At The Hershey Hotel
Music by Don Trostle
Dancing — 8:30 — Midnight
Semi-Formal — Open $2 Per Couple

Basketball Team Nets Two Wins From Elizabethtown And Kings College

By JIM PACY

Coach Ralph Mease's Lebanon Valley Flying Dutchmen started the new year off on the right foot as they registered two impressive, high-scoring victories over Kings College of Delaware and Elizabethtown College, during the past week. On Wednesday night the Blue and White took a thriller from Kings by a 77-73 score, and on Saturday night, the Mease five fought off a stubborn E-town quintet and produced an 84-77 triumph. Although team play in general has been rather good, Larry Kinsella and Floyd Becker seem to have been the prime movers in the success of the Dutchmen. Both have been consistently high scorers and at present Becker leads the team with 101 while Kinsella has racked up 99. Larry has been hitting the basket regularly with all sorts of shots and has shown his wares as an able backboard man in proving that he is one of the better players on the floor; while Becker continues to tantalize the crowds with his unique and deceptive antics which are rare on any college court. Red Langstaff and Richie Furda, both of whom hail from Union County, New Jersey, as does Kinsella, have also shown well with the Dutchmen. Richie, although a freshman and not exactly a George Mikan, really keeps up with the pace the heighty boys impose, and has demonstrated his ability as an excellent player in that he is a calm, hard-charging, and an accurate shot while also being a good floor man. Langstaff hasn't been seeing his usual amount of action lately, but when he's in there, the "Ole Redhead" is always valuable around the boards and is another Valley stalwart in team play. Henry DiJohnson is one of the most sensational "fakers" seen in a long time and Hank really draws the "oo's and ah's" from the spectators when he exhibits some of his spectacular faking. Eddie Frazier is a clever and deft ball handler with a well-developed eye for shooting and along with lanky Chuck Zimmerman, Johnny Hess, and Bill Tomilen, this rounds out the team that has been scoring at a torrid 74.5 average per game for Lebanon Valley, winning four times and losing twice.

Against Kings, the Dutchmen led at the end of the first canto by an 18-11 mark, but after a high scoring second quarter during which the visitors outpointed the Valleyites by two buckets, the Blue and White held a slim 42-39 advantage. Majority of the time the contest was evenly fought with with amazing basket-for-basket scoring, but midway through the third session the Lebanonian five pulled out to what seemed as though the clinching commanding lead, by having a 60-52 margin. The visitors from Delaware came to life again, and much to the surprise of the crowd the Scepterholders were in the van leading 62-60 after slashing the cords for twelve consecutive points.

Lebanon Valley then came back and gave a little demonstration of their own as they flipped in a string of six markers and were leading once again, 66-52. After a few exchanges of shots the Crowned-ones were ahead once more, this time by 69-68. Becker's set shot put the Measemen in the lead, but Kings just wouldn't submit and retaliated with two more points. DiJohnson then hit the silk for a deuce and converted an ensuing foul to allow LVC a 73-71 bulge. Two successive free throws by the visitors tied it up once again, and as the score board showed 73-73 the crowd was on their feet with their yelling and noisemaking in general coming to a near hysterical state. Richie Furda calmed the LVC loyalists somewhat as he took a pass from Frazier and sank the decisive goal. Kings failed to rally on this and sterling Larry Kinsella took a rebound, dribbled through the middle of the visiting team's defensive zone and threw in a two-pointer for good measure as the hectic encounter ended. George Dempsey, top college scorer in Delaware last season, led the scorers in the game by tossing in eleven field goals and four charities for 26 points. Larry Kinsella was high man for the Dutchmen with 20 markers while Eddie Frazier pilfered the nets for 18, and "Flashy Floyd" Becker hit the hoops for sixteen registrations.

That's Larry Kinsella reaching for the sky in the picture above. Taken during the E'town game, Larry was in the act of adding more points to his already high average this year.

The contest with Elizabethtown got off to a ragged start and in the early moments the tussle looked as though it was some sloppy high school affair as both teams put on a dismal presentation of bad basketball. The scoring was nip-and-tuck, but the Dutchmen managed to muster a 13-10 first quarter lead. The second period saw the fray turn to its should be class as the Flying Dutchmen scorched the nets for 28 points while the E-towners rang up 23. This gave Valley a 41-33 working margin at intermission.

The Blue E's, however, came back strong in the second half, outscoring the Dutchmen, 44-43. They rallied in the final canto, but the damage was already done and LVC walked off the court with a hard-earned 84-77 win. Although E-town was Frank Keath-less for a change, another E-town, LeRoy Trupe, took over high scoring honors for the night as he threw in 27 points. Larry Kinsella, Floyd Becker, and Don Langstaff were the big guns in the Valley cause, as they accounted for 24, 18, and 16 markers respectively.

Coach Dick Fox's Junior Varsity aggregation continued to mow down all opposition as they entered the Elizabethtown Junior game, the Foxmen politely sacrificed a weak Indiantown Army outfit by 56-12 in shorter six minutes periods. Joe O' has been high scorer on both occasions with 20 points against the E-town Jay-Vees and against Indiantown Gap. "Home" Fischer was second high against the Soldiers with 10, while Jones had the same number against the E-towners.

Saturday Sees Valley Facing Moravian Fire

Since they lost to West Chester State Teachers by a horrid 77-30 score on Monday night, the Flying Dutchmen cagers will attempt to jump back into the win column on Saturday evening at Lehigh when they face the dribbling forces of Moravian College from Bethlehem. Last season the opponents split a pair of games which saw Valley win at home 84-73 while losing at the Grousehound lair, 73-61.

CARL'S SHOP

Expert Hair Cutting

Visit . . .

"HOT DOG" FRANK

"Nothing But the Best"

For . . .

LVC Class Rings and Pins

See . . .

Bob Eigenbrode, Rm. 311, Men's Dorm

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 13

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, Feb. 9, 1950

Coming Next Week . . . The 'Di Day' Campaign

Hank DiJohnson, one of the most renowned of Lebanon Valley College athletes, will be the recipient of student and college recognition on March 1, which has been designated Di Day. In a celebration sponsored by the Student-Faculty Council of the college, DiJohnson will be given official student recognition of his achievements on March 1, preceding the last home game of the season. This celebration will culminate a two week campaign beginning next Monday, February 13.

The purpose of the campaign will be to raise money from the students of the college to purchase gifts for Hank. All the campus population, as well as the day students will be asked to make contributions of any size to help reach the proposed goal of one hundred dollars. Collection boxes will be placed in various places on campus. A large poster in the administration building will indicate the amount of money received each day.

Further plans for Di Day will be announced via bulletins, chapel announcements, and La Vie, as the campaign progresses.

Glee Club on Tour Of Central Penn

The 10th annual Lebanon Valley College Glee Club Tour was released today by the Conservatory of Music and their itinerary, under the supervision of Prof. Edward P. Rutledge, Director of Musical Organizations, includes the following towns and cities: Feb. 4, Columbia, Pa.; Feb. 5, Mt. Wolf, Pa.; Feb. 5, York, Pa.; Feb. 6, Red Lion, Pa.; Feb. 7, Baltimore, Md.; Feb. 8, Washington, D.C.; Feb. 9, Hagerstown, Md.; Feb. 10, Waynesboro, Pa.; Feb. 11, Chambersburg, Pa.; Feb. 12, Shippensburg, Pa. and Carlisle, Pa.

There will be 32 selected voices in the Glee Club, some numbers being accompanied by a twelve piece orchestra, and the personnel includes the following: Sidney Garverich (Harrisburg); Nancy Lutz, (Lititz); Annette Read, (Carlisle); Beatrice Royer, (Lebanon); Joyce Carpenter, (Harrisburg); Doris Eckert, (Reinholds); Mardia Melroy, (Lansford); Geraldine Miller, (Seven Valleys)—Soprano.

Altos—Miriam Fuller, (Harrisburg); Louise Light, (Lebanon); Barbara Metzger, (Harrisburg); Betty Miller (Mohnton); Anne Shroyer, (Annville); Elma Breidenstine, (Lancaster); Gloria Dressler, (Millersburg); Mary Edelman, (Hagerstown, Md.).

Basses—Pierce Getz, (Denver); John Heck, (Reading); Richard Kohler, (Allentown); Richard Miller, (Reading); Alden Biely, (Lebanon); Kermit Kiehner, (Schuylkill Haven); George Rutledge, (Annville); William Shoppell, (Reading).

Tenors—Paul Broome, (Mechanicsburg); Joseph Campanella, (York); George Eschbach, (Tyrone); George Ritner, (West Lawn); Eugene Fisher, (Lemoyne); James Fisher, (Thurbersburg, Md.); Harry Forbes, (Chambersburg); and Richard Kline, (Fleetwood).

Miss Mary Elizabeth Funck will be accompanist for the Glee Club. She is from Palmyra, Pa.

Kiscadden Drive And Record Fund Drive Reported

The Student-Faculty Council will terminate the drive for the Kiscadden Fund on February 21, 1950. Almost all organizations have reported contributions to the Council, but a few tardy groups are still to be heard from. Will the responsible persons kindly settle this matter as soon as possible.

The Record Pool drive will be suspended temporarily due to the discontinuing of Rec Hour. Funds already secured will be reserved until a future date.

Diploma Awarded to LVC Dean of Women

Dr. Clara Chassell Cooper, Dean of Women, received a Teachers College professional diploma as Dean of Students on December 21, 1949, for her post-doctoral study at Columbia University this summer and earlier related studies.

She has recently been notified of another professional achievement. She will shortly receive a diploma in counseling and guidance awards by the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology. The information came from Dr. John G. Darley of the University of Minnesota, who is Secretary-Treasurer of the Board. The award of diplomate status is the highest rating obtainable by a member of the American Psychological Association, and constitutes official certification in professional psychology.

Famous "Belvedere" Hero of Annual K-D Offering, Mar. 3

Gwen Davenport's three act comedy Belvedere was chosen by Kalo and Delphian for their annual play which will be presented on March 3. The play is based upon the movie Sitting Pretty. Armen Banklian, Jean Bozarth, and Nick Bova will have principal parts. Guy Euston, Dolores Zarker, Dave Dundore, Joyce Carpenter, Evelyn Gehman, Betty Edelman, Joe Shemeta, and Dottie Dando will complete the cast.

Commute Beaut Will Be Crowned At Valentine Dance

The midwinter social season gets off to a gala start this Friday evening, February 10, with the annual Day Student Valentine Dance, to be held at the Hotel Hershey. The evening will be climaxed by the crowning of Lebanon Valley's Queen of Hearts, chosen from a bevy of the Valley's most pulchritudinous commuting females.

Music for the semi-formal ball will be furnished by Don Trostle's collegiate ensemble; dancing will commence at 8:30 sharp and continue 'till midnight. In addition to the coronation ceremony there will be a number of program dances.

Arrangements for the dance are in the hands of Norman Bucher. Tickets ($2 per couple) can be obtained from any member of the Men's Day Student Congress and the Women's Commuters' Council. Those seeking transportation or looking for extra riders should sign the transportation sheet in the Ad Building or see Bob Uhrich.

Philo Plans Social, Receives Souvenirs

The monthly meeting of the Phi Lambda Sigma was held Thursday, February 2, in Philo Hall. The main business transacted concerned the special social to be held Friday, February 16. This affair, to which the sister society Clio has been invited, will be highlighted by the showing of a special entertainment film. Details will be released next week.

A number of souvenirs of Philo anniversary events from the 1920's and '30's were presented to the society by Dave Wallace in behalf of his parents. These items will be placed on deposit in the College library, along with all Philo's old financial records and minute books dating back to 1905.

The announcement of the choice was made at a joint meeting of Kalo and Delphian held Thursday evening, February 2.

Committees of K-D weekend were appointed by Bob Moller and Jean Bozarth, presidents of Kalo and Delphian respectively. Ed Tesnar was appointed business manager of the play and will be assisted by Ken Grimm. Virginia Wagner, Joe Shemeta, Elvin Heller, Ruth Evans, and Norm Lukens will take care of advertisements. Publicity and ticket sales are in charge of Al Zangrilli, chairman, Jim Zangrilli, Bob Guyer, Ruth Kramer, Dottie Dando, and Jane MacMurtie. The stage crew consists of Bob Fisher, chairman, John Stamata, Earl Redding, Gale Plantz, and Don Anglemeyer. Virginia Wagner is chairman of the properties committee and will be assisted by Liz Beittle and Grace Frick. Dottie Dando, Dotty Cohen, and Babs Kleinfelter will take care of the grease paint. Pat Esposito will be House Manager.

Guy Euston was put in charge of drawing up the program with the help of Pat Esposito, Peg Bower, Joan Orlando and Ann Shroyer.

Plans were made to have a reception in Kalo Hall following the play in honor of the cast. Dick Schiemer was appointed chairman of the committee and Helen Erickson, Nancy Linnen, and Dave Dundore will assist him.

Committees for the dinner dance to be held Saturday night, March 4, at the Brunswick Hotel in Lancaster were also appointed. Don Yeatts is in charge of the affair. The dance program committee consists of Bill Miller, chairman, Bob Glock, Marianne Shenk and Mary Dougherty. Invitations will be taken care of by Dottie Thomas and Betty Bakley.

All those members who do not have transportation to Lancaster were directed to contact Fred Brown or Betsy Myers. Members were reminded that their dues must be paid before they will be permitted to sign up for the dinner dance.

Causes With Caution

By MARVIN E. WOLFGANG, Professor of Sociology, LVC

One of the most widely used expressions today, both in scientific and non-scientific literature is that one phenomenon or situation causes another. Representatives of advanced learning have also become emissaries of good causes, often without an adequate understanding or appreciation of their assertions. The historian may irrevocably claim that the cause of World War II was German militarism or the frustration caused by the punitive nature of the Versailles Treaty. The American economist, with no methodological quiver in his capitalistic throat, may say that the financial plight of Britain is due to socialism. A well-versed political scientist may state that the China problem was caused by inadequate foreign policy or by the corrupt past of the Kuomintang. The Psychologist, with equal certainty, will say that Whittaker Chambers lied because he is a constitutional psychopathic inferior. The decline of morals is the cause of family disorganization, crime, and alcoholism, assert many religious leaders. Failure to give attention to the will of God can mean the decay of civilization, claim some philosophers.

The sociologist sees the cultural environment and the social milieu as the cause of social disorganization. The psychiatrist takes us back to childhood experiences to determine the causes of present disharmonies and the psychoanalyst back to our repressions and complexes.

To Lombroso, the criminal was a "type," a result of "atavism." To the successful businessman labor strife is responsible for the high costs of living; but the spokesman of the labor union asserts that management produces its own chaos. Is the prohibitionist right when he says liquor is the root of all evil? Can the race enthusiast be correct in accusing the South for our major minority problem? What is the cause of divorce, crime, sex perversion, delinquency? Do any of these explanations as to cause reflect a higher order of knowledge that that possessed by the man on the street?

A cause of any observable phenomenon is the invariable indispensable antecedent that has the capacity to produce that phenomenon. But these antecedents may be multiple, and so vastly interwoven as to deceive the most astute observer. As John Stuart Mill asks in his System of Logic, what is the cause of a man's drowning? Is it his falling into the river? Is it the fact that his foot slipped? Or is it the fact that the water was too deep, or the fact that he could not swim? It is evident that we must be aware of both the positive and negative factors involved in the situation. Can we, with our limited specialized knowledge, our academic glasses steamed with error and tinted to match our professional colors see clearly the causes of the effects that lie before us?

Our various disciplines must look more closely at social phenomena before definitively asserting that one thing has produced another. Our professors should teach discrimination between reason and emotion, evidence and opinion, absolute and multiple cause. Our students should become scientifically skeptical, critical, and alert. Else the college education of the future will come to mean nothing more than an organized body of digested knowledge, the evaluation and understanding of which the average illiterate could similarly report.

* * *

Ed. Note: This is the third in a series of articles written by members of the faculty. The fourth article will appear in a near-future issue of La Vie.

Quakers Offer Social Work To College Youth

Service opportunities in work camps, seminars, institutes, internships in industry and cooperatives, and in mental and correctional institutions are being offered to college students again by the American Friends Service Committee it was announced today by Clarence E. Pickett, Executive Secretary of the Quaker organization.

Three of these projects, Internship-in-Industry, Institutional Service Units, and Service Units in Mexico, are planned on a year-round basis and are open to applicants at any time during the year.

In New Jersey, at the Clinton Farms State Reformatory for Women and at the Overbrook Essex County Mental Hospital, 14 Institutional Service Unit members, serving as attendants, are helping to meet the needs of the delinquents and the mentally ill.

In four Mexican villages, 50 unit members are working singly, or in groups, to aid Mexico's health and education program by helping in clinics, organizing recreation programs for children, or working on road construction, hospital repair, and village water and sewage systems. The project at Nayarit, a Pilot Program in Basic Education, is jointly sponsored by the Mexican Government and UNESCO and administered by the Service Committee.

Special summer units of these three year-round projects will also be sponsored by the Service Committee.

Additional Institutional Service Units will be sponsored in California, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and a possible third unit in New Jersey in a correctional institution.

Three or four short-term projects will be added to the AFSC program in Mexico.

Work camps and community service units will also be held in the United States and in Europe, and in Jamaica this summer.

Campers will help build community facilities or conduct recreational programs in various parts of the

(Continued on Page 3)

Conserv Notes . . .

Highlights of the L.V. Glee Club tour . . .

Fifteen members have become victims of the virus from which many of the campus students have suffered . . .

. . . Bob Clippinger, organist, '39, and Harold Rothenberger, clarinetist, '53, appeared in a recital on February 4 at the home of Dr. H. D. Rhein in Reading, Pa. . . .

Joyce Carpenter has been engaged to sing with the Palmyra Legion Band during the 1950 summer season . . .

Gerry Rothermel, '50 announced her engagement to Russel Getz, '49, over the Christmas vacation . . .

Dick Murphy stopped into the Conserv on February 1 to give a glance at the musicians' madhouse . . . still with Jimmy Dorsey . . . putting in four weeks at the Hotel Statler in New York.

Delegates from Annville attending the annual convention of the National Associations of Schools of Music to be held at the Hotel Statler, Cleveland, February 22-28 will include Miss Mary E. Gillespie, Dean of the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory.

The Cleveland convention will mark the end of the 25th anniversary of the NASM, an event which was celebrated throughout the year 1949 by the organization's 180 member schools. The growth of the Association during the past quarter century has paralleled the phenomenal development of American music in all its phases. The epoch has witnessed the transformation of music from dilettantism and patronage into professional and industrial sufficiency.

The music schools of 25 years ago, modeled after European conservatories, recognized at that time the need for a strong centralizing current of control, an organization capable of amalgamating the best interests and highest ideals of men and women in charge of music schools throughout the land. The result was the birth of the NASM which held its first formal convention in Pittsburgh in October 1924.

A highlight of the coming convention in Cleveland will be the Silver Anniversary Luncheon at one o'clock in the Euclid Room of the Statler. Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill, who has served the Association as secretary since its inception in 1924, will be Master of Ceremonies. Responses from Past Presidents will be given by Dr. Kenneth M. Bradley, Dr. Harold L. Butler, Dr. Earl V. Moore, Dr. Howard Hanson, Dr. Donald Swarthout, and Mr. Price Doyle.

CONFIDENTIAL

Democrats and Republicans (Only)

— TAKE NOTICE —

BALANCE SHEET (Certified)

Year Ended November 29, 1949

Population of the United States .....	135,000,000
People 65 years or older .....	37,000,000
Balance left to do the work .....	98,000,000
People 21 years or younger .....	54,000,000
Balance left to do the work .....	44,000,000
People working for the government .....	21,000,000
Balance left to do the work .....	23,000,000
People in the armed service .....	10,000,000
Balance left to do the work .....	13,000,000
People in state and city offices .....	12,800,000
Balance left to do the work .....	200,000
People in hospitals and insane asylums .....	126,000
Balance left to do the work .....	74,000
Bums and others who won't work .....	62,000
Balance left to do the work .....	12,000
Persons in jail .....	11,998
Balance left to do the work .....	2

TWO—YOU AND I

AND YOU'D BETTER GET A WIGGLE ON—I'M GETTING AWFULLY TIRED OF RUNNING THIS COUNTRY ALONE.

—Taken from The Juniatian

Who's Who . . . In the Conservatory

Geraldine Rothermel

"Gerry," a native of Reading, was chosen this week for inclusion in the annual Who's Who Among Students in the LV Conservatory. She has been exceedingly active both on and off the campus during her college career. This is her fourth year as a member of the Cheerleading squad. She plays the violin in the College and Symphony Orchestras, and was a member of the Girls' band for three years. Along other musical lines, she gave a studio piano recital last year, and has been heard several times playing in concerts in Engle Hall. She is an active member of Delphian, and was on the Coordinating Council for Religious Emphasis Week this year. In addition to all these activities, Gerry has been working as Assistant to Miss M. E. Gillespie, director of the Conservatory of Music of LVC.

Gerry plans to teach (preferably music) upon graduation. Also in the offing is marriage to Russel Getz, popular LVC graduate of the class of '49. All in all, it's easy to see why this is one of the busiest bees on campus.

Quakers . . .

(Continued from Page 2)

United States. The camps will be held in the slum area of North Richmond, California; the fishing villages surrounding Southwest Harbor, Me.; and on an Indian reservation in a Southwest state. In Mayland, Tennessee, the campers will construct a community center-clinic building; in Washington, D.C., they will conduct interracial playgrounds; and in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, they will work in a depressed area with the self-help redevelopment plan administered by the Friends Neighborhood Guild and the Service Committee in cooperation with various government agencies.

The Service Committee will send approximately 60 Americans to participate in work camps in 13 countries in Europe and in Jamaica. The camps and will harvest fields, clear land, rebuild homes, schools, community centers and playgrounds.

Other young men and women will

Television Script-Writing Contest Opened by CBS and World Video

A nationwide collegiate writing competition, designed to encourage the emergence of new television writers, was launched today by joint announcement of the Columbia Broadcasting System and World Video Inc., leading independent television producing organization.

The competition, to be known as the CBS Awards, is open to students in American colleges and universities. It will offer four prizes, the first to be awarded March 31, 1950, and the others at monthly intervals during the rest of the spring academic semester. The amount of the award will be $500 if the prize-winning script is of one-hour performance length, or $250 if it is a half-hour script.

The prize-winning entries will be screened by a board of editors and the final selections will be made by a three-man board of judges comprising:

Charles M. Underhill, Director of Programs for the CBS Television Network,

John Steinbeck, author, and a Vice President of World Video Inc.

Donald Davis, dramatist, screen writer and producer for World Video Inc. of the Peabody Award-winning "Actors' Studio," which launches its new schedule of one-hour programs on CBS-TV Friday, Feb. 3.

In describing the aims of the contest, the official announcement declared:

"The development of television as a mass communication medium brings with it the promise of unprecedented cultural advantages. Realization of this promise depends not only on the excellence of television's technical facilities and on its operational scope and skill, but equally on the development of new creative writing talent devoted to the new medium.

"The Columbia Broadcasting System and World Video Inc. believe that some of tomorrow's most gifted television writers may be found among the large number of college and university students of today. This competition, to be known as the CBS Awards, is therefore instituted with a twofold purpose in view:

"To encourage new writers to discover and bring to maturity their special television talents; and by this means to contribute to the steady advance of television's entertainment standards."

Announcements and regulations governing the competition are being sent to the English and drama departments of the approximately 1,800 accredited colleges and universities in the United States. A numbered entry blank must be obtained for each individual script entered in the competition and must accompany the submission. Contest rules and the required blanks must be obtained by writing directly to:

Director, CBS Awards
Headquarters:
15 East 47th Street,
New York 17 New York

The over-all competition begins Feb. 3, 1950, and ends June 30, 1950. The four monthly competition periods are Feb. 3 to March 20, April 1 to April 20, May 1 to May 20, and June 1 to June 20.

Entries postmarked later than the 20th day of any contest month will be considered for the following month's prize. No entries will be accepted if postmarked later than June 20, 1950.

Awards will be announced directly to the winners in telegrams sent on the last Friday of each month, commencing March 31, 1950, and continuing until Friday, June 30, 1950. Only one prize will be awarded each month. Public announcement also will be made on the CBS Television Network during regular broadcasts of "Actor's Studio."

The competition is open only to students 18 years of age or over who are residents of the United States and are attending accredited colleges or universities in the continental United States.

All entries must be original television dramas which have never been produced on the air or published. Adaptations of existing novels, short stories, plays or other literary creations will be disqualified. Scripts will be judged for originality, freshness and ingenuity in exploring television as a new intimate visual-auditory medium.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 13 February 9, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press and the Intercollegiate Press.

Editor . . . . . Al Moriconi
Associate Editor . . . . . Dorothy Thomas
Sports Editor . . . . . Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor . . . . . Robert Rhein
Exchange Editor . . . . . Betty Bakley
Photographers . . . . . Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers . . . . . G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager . . . . . Victor Alsberge
Business Adviser . . . . . A. P. Orth
Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dick Kaylor, Kermit Kiehner, Marianne Shenk, Audrey Geidt, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myer, Donald Paine, Mardia Melroy, Dorothea Cohen, David Wallace.

study problems of international cooperation and peace in seven-week International Service Seminars and in ten-day Institutes of International Relations. In both projects, well-known authorities on international affairs serve as faculty members, discussion leaders, and advisers. Institutes and seminars will be located in New England, the Middle West, and the Far West. The Service Committee will also sponsor seven seminars abroad, five in Europe and two in Asia. The seminars in Europe and in Asia will be attended by people who are already studying in these areas. The Committee does not have funds to send people abroad to participate in seminars.

More information concerning these projects may be obtained by writing to the American Friends Service Committee, 20 South Twelfth Street, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Pictured above are Coach Roger Robinson (left), and Ralph Mease who will mentor the track and baseball teams this year. Mease's bat boys have just released their schedule for '50, which is printed below. The track team, under the guidance of Roger Robinson, is still negotiating with several hoped-for opponents and will release its schedule soon.

1950 LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE BASEBALL SCHEDULE:

Saturday .... April .... 15	Juniata .....	Away
Monday ..... 17	Scranton .....	Away
Wednesday ..... 19	Temple .....	Home
Saturday ..... 22	Lafayette .....	Away
Wednesday ..... 24	Albright .....	Away
Saturday ..... 29	La Salle .....	Away
Tuesday ..... May ..... 2	Moravian .....	Away
Thursday ..... 4	St. Joseph .....	Away
Saturday ..... 6	Elizabethtown .....	Home
Monday ..... 8	Franklin & Marshall .....	Home
Wednesday ..... 10	Western Maryland .....	Home
Saturday ..... 13	Moravian .....	Home
Tuesday ..... 16	Elizabethtown .....	Away
Friday ..... 19	Juniata .....	Home
Saturday ..... 20	Albright .....	Home

Peggy's BEAUTY SHOPPE

54 West Sheridan Ave.
Annville, Pa.

Everything Musical LOSER'S MUSIC STORE

605 Cumberland Street
Lebanon, Pa.

REMEMBER
MARCH 1 IS—
DI DAY

PMC Tosses LVC Cagers For An Away Loss, 70-65

There's a sign in Chester, Pennsylvania, the home of Pennsylvania Military College, that reads, "Electricity Is Cheap in Chester." Well, after Saturday night we came to the conclusion that, "So is the officiating." PMC rudely defeated the Flying Dutchmen at their home base in what was probably one of the worst exhibitions of refereeing ever witnessed by Lebanon Valley 70-65 in the routy final.

Eddie Frazier garnered high scoring laurels for the contest by dunking 19 counters while Al Murawski sent 13 points through the nets. Floyd Becker sank 12 and we want to add that the "officials" were somewhat baffled by the classy and unique play of Floyd and a few times called walking when he dazzled some Cadet with his "round-the-back" trick with the ball.

Larry Kinsella played his usual heads up ball game as did Red Langstaff, while Richie Furda was also outstanding. Ingber was the big-gun for the home squad with 14 markers and was followed by Udovich with 13 and Martz, a clever ball player, with 12. In the preliminary tussel Coach Dick Fox's Junior Varsity encountered no trouble with the officiating and sailed through the Little Cadets for a 56-47 win which is their seventh in nine starts. Joe Oxley was high scorer with 16 while Leon Mile and Bill Vought each had 11 counters. Plomis shone for the Red and Yellow with 10. Previous to their encounter with PMC, the Flying Dutchmen played four games of which they won all except one, and that being the clash with our arch-rival, Albright, at Reading on January 29. This contest saw the Dutchmen falter 26-17 in the first period, but come back to outscore the home team in the second canto 14-9, and thus be on the short end of only a five point half-time margin, 35-31. The second portion was more evenly played with Albright scoring 20 to LV's 18 in the third session, while LVC, mainly on the shooting of Flashy Floyd Becker did the same to the Cadets in the final. The damage however was already too extensive and the Red Lions walked off the court with a 74-67 win.

Floyd Becker swished the silk for 18 points to lead the LV squad, followed by Richie Furda with 15, Larry Kinsella with 14 and Eddie Frazier with 13. Albright, who has defeated such prominent opposition as Seton Hall and St. Joseph's, was led by D. Beiber with 19 and Eddie Anlian with 18. The Albright Junior Varsity pulled an upset by defeating the LVC Juniors 39-36. Shipe of the Little Lions was high man with 12 while Robin Moore netted 11 for LV. The following Wednesday, February 1, the Flying Dutchmen played host to the touring team of the University of Mexico. The colorful array of Mexican dribblers proved to be a much more formidable team than the Valley victory by an 86-66 margin might seem to indicate. The Dutchmen fell behind in the early moments of the tussle as the Mexican's Carlos Villarreal kept fascinating the fans with his basketball know-how. The Mexican's presented a fast break and shot often thus keeping up with the Dutchmen's same style of play. The first half ended with the Pumas trailing 40-38. Lebanon Valley turned on the heat in the second half and soon took a decisive lead which was not again threatened.

CARL'S SHOP

Expert Hair Cutting

Visit . . .

"Hot Dog" FRANK

"Nothing But the Best"

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 14

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, February 16, 1950

So Long, Andy

By Jim Pacy

Andy Kerr, "Dean of American Football Coaches," resigned on Saturday as head man of Lebanon Valley College football, in order to devote full time to the annual East-West charity football game. Kerr's resignation, which came as quite a surprise to the Annville campus, means an end to his active career as a college football mentor. According to Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, college president, a successor will be named soon, but as yet no information concerning such will be divulged.

"Andy," as he is affectionately called, came to Lebanon Valley in 1947 after compiling one of the most enviable records as a gridiron coach at Colgate University where he served with distinction for 18 full seasons. While at the helm of the LVC Flying Dutchmen, Kerr saw his charges win 15, lose 3 and tie 2. Of those contests, one victory was the stunning 13-7 setback pinned on Scranton University's powerful contingent in 1947, while one of the ties was a 7-7 deadlock with the much heavier pigskin forces of Temple University in 1948.

Commenting on his resignation, Kerr stated, "I am leaving Lebanon Valley with regrets as I was perfectly contented here." President Lynch issued a statement saying, "we regret his decision to retire from the active coaching field in general and his severance of his close associations with Lebanon Valley College in particular."

The 71-year-old famed grid boss mentioned that he would serve as the eastern representative and business manager of the East-West game held annually at San Francisco on December 31. He has been a coach in the East-West series for twenty-three years and the last game ended in a triumph for his Easterners.

Kerr was born in Cheyenne, Wyoming, the son of a stock man and received his elementary education in Carlisle, Pa. He was graduated from Dickinson College of the same place and while there competed in three sports, of which baseball proved his most outstanding.

W. Henry Johnston, Director of Athletic Publicity at Harvard University, in his "Biographical Sketch of Andy Kerr" mentions that, "Persons (Continued on Page 3)

Would-Be Personnel Workers Invited to Spring Convention

Philadelphia—College and University students interested in carving a career for themselves in the field of educational and vocational guidance or in personnel work, will have the opportunity of attending the national convention of the Council of Guidance and Personnel Associations, scheduled for March 27-30, in Atlantic City, N.J., it was announced today by A. Blair Knapp, vice president of Temple University and national coordinator for the 1950 convention of the guid-

(Continued on Page 4)

Clonians Make Midwinter Plans

A Clio meeting was held February 2, 1950. Barbara Christianson was elected Anniversary President and will be responsible for appointing committees for the annual Clio-Philo Dance. Plans were also discussed for raising funds by having a bake sale.

Tentative plans have also been made for a play in April. Lois Adams and Julie Thatcher were placed on the play reading committee to meet with Philo to discuss the possibilities.

Three Day Music Parley Held at Lebanon Valley

Wednesday, February 15, 1950, marked the advent of what is expected to become an annual affair. The Pennsylvania Music Educators Association is sponsoring an intercollegiate music festival with Lebanon Valley being chosen for the first festival. Professor E. P. Rutledge will act as host. Mr. Lara Hoggard, of the Waring School of Music, will direct. Representatives from all the colleges in the state will participate. A series of events have been planned for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Wednesday is registration day with a rehearsal in the afternoon. Thursday will be filled with rehearsals, and in the evening Mr. Hoggard will conduct a vocal clinic from 7:30 to 9:30 P.M. During this time he will discuss problems of choral directing. Following this clinic a dance will be held in the Annville High School Gym. Don Trostle and his orchestra will play. At this time also a buffet supper will be served to visiting supervisors at the Annville American Legion. Friday evening at 8:30 the concert will be presented in the Forum at Harrisburg.

The Lebanon Valley College Orchestra will be used to accompany several of the selections. Personnel is as follows: Flutes—Ray Kauffman, Beatrice Royer; Clarinets—Jack Snavely, William Cagnoli, Harold Rothenberger, Richard Stewart, Clayton Schneck; Bass Clarinet—Melvin Schiff; Trumpets—Chester Richwine, William Lemon, John McKenzie, Donald Coldren; French Horns—Bruce Wiser, Harry Keim; Trombones—Charles Kreis, Eugene Tritch, George Wolf; Tuba—Allen Koppenhaver; String Bass—Miriam Fuller; Percussion—George Alwood, Jed Dietrich; Celeste—Joyce Hammock; Vibraphone—Kenneth Keiser.

The following members of the Glee Club have been chosen: Sidney Garverich, Annette Read, Doris Eckert, Mary Edelman, Betty Miller, Anne Shroyer, Louise Light, Elma Breidenstine, Paul Broome, George Ritner, James Fisher, Harry Forbes, Richard Kline, Joseph Campanella, George Eschbach, Pierce Getz, John Heck, Robert Shultz, Richard Miller, Kermit Kiehner, George Rutledge, William Shoppell, Robert Rhein, Jay Heisey, Mary E. Funck and Alden Biely will be the accompanists.

Rev. David Gockley has adequately taken care of housing all the out-of-town participants in homes in Annville during their stay here.

How's the Makeup, Gals? Sloppy? Try Beauty 101

By Bill Einspanier

ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY NEWS

Schedule:

Intercollegiate Festival

Wednesday, February 15

10:00-12:00—Registration, Room 2, Conservatory
12:00-12:45—Lunch, E.U.B. Church, Social Room
1:00-5:00—Rehearsal (College Church Sunday School Rooms)
6:00—Dinner
7:00-9:30—Rehearsal

Thursday, February 16

8:30-12:00—Rehearsal
12:00-12:45—Lunch
1:00-5:00—Rehearsal
6:00—Dinner
7:30-9:30—Rehearsal and Clinic (Guests are members of the In and About Club of Harrisburg)
9:30-12:00—Dance in the Annville High School Gym (Music by Don Trostle)
9:30-12:00—Buffet for visiting choir directors and guests (American Legion Home, Annville)

Friday, February 17

8:00—Leave for Harrisburg
9:00-12:00—Final rehearsal (Forum in the Educational Building)
12:00—Lunch in Harrisburg
2:00—Leave for Annville
3:30—Meeting of Executive Council and P. M. E. A. business meeting
5:30—Dinner
6:30-7:00—Short vocal "warm-up"
7:00—Leave for Harrisburg
8:00—Report at the Forum
8:30—Concert.

A release from a well-known cosmetics manufacturer was received in the News office this week and just couldn't be thrown into the wastebasket. Several of the more barly sports writers tried, but the release just refused to be so easily snubbed. Indeed, it was thought-provoking and somewhat unique. It began: "For immediate release" (underlined) and was titled: Beauty 101. We decided to take the release apart, read between the lines a bit, and see what it was really worth. Our objective criticism is subordinated in parentheses. The release read:

"If you could put your nose or your eyes on your face each day, would you slap them on in any position? (All right, you've got a point there; continue.) Your nose and eyes are there to stay (Flattery will get you nowhere)—but you can place your lip outline each morning. (Like you would outline an essay on Nuclear Fission or a plan for a new parking lot.)

"Painting lips, like any other painting, begins with an outline (then slap your face on an easel and smear in the goo) and you, like any other artist, should use a brush such as *** lip brush of Russian sable (other styles available: Tibetan mountain goat, New Zealand Apteryx, plain, old, everyday feathers from a tanager's chin.)

"First, put plenty of lipstick on the brush to trace a smooth line. (We sell more lipstick that way, too.) Keep the lips closed and in repose while drawing the outline (Use thumb-tacks, if you like) because a gold-fish expression distorts the natural lip line (unless, of course, you're a goldfish.)

"Trace the upper lip first (to keep it stiff) from the outside corner to center (as in basketball) and then draw a short, straight line across the bottom of the lower lip. (With a ruler, of course.) Starting at the outer corners of the lower lip, indent slightly. (After you've acquired the habit, you can simply use the tabulator key and set it for five spaces.) and then draw a full, soft curve down to the straight line (continuing up your cheek, making a complete circle around your left eye, and tracing your in-

Give . . .

for Di Day

March 1

ials in Old English script on your forehead.)

"There's the outline . . . now fill it in with lipstick, not with a brush. (You can use the Russian sable brush on your teeth or for putting black polish on the rim of your shoes.)

"Wait! If you're ready to blot that lipstick, drop the tissue! (Sorry, wrong again, we're using an old bur-lap sack. And quit trying to frighten us.) With lipstick, as with any other pigment, the more you put on, the longer it lasts. (Sounds logical. Come on, drag out the floor mop and we'll really go to town!)

Does this sound complicated? (Yes, but go ahead.) It's simpler than filling your date book, if you're the only

(Continued on Page 3)

Waring Artists Taking Active Part in First Music Festival

Lara Hoggard, gifted young choral director for Fred Waring, is fast becoming a familiar person to high school and college music teachers and their students. As Fred Waring's envoy, Hoggard has been guest conductor of many high school and college music festivals and has lectured at choral clinics before public school, college and church choir directors, demonstrating the practical choral techniques which have been responsible for the phenomenal success of the Fred Waring Glee Club. Dovetailing with Hoggard's field trips for the Fred Waring organization are his activities as Choral Editor of Shawnee Press which publishes the Fred Waring Choral arrangements and during the summer months as Dean in Charge of Instruction at the Fred Waring Music Workshop for choral conductors held at Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.

Hoggard's primary function with the Pennsylvanians is assisting Fred Waring in training and rehearsing his famous glee club for their radio, television and concert performances.

After a year of fellowship graduate study at Columbia University in 1939, Lara was selected by the University of Oklahoma as director of choral music and professor of music education. While there, his glee club recordings were chosen by the Department of State's Office of Inter-American Affairs to represent the section of music in American colleges. These recordings were used as a part of the "good will" plan and were played in all the principal cities of South America. Hoggard's University of Oklahoma glee club went on to win further laurels for the young man of music. In the finals for the National Inter-Collegiate Glee Club competition, sponsored by Fred Waring in 1942 and held in Carnegie Hall, Hoggard's glee club won a special award for the finest "choral artistry."

Fred Waring was so impressed with Hoggard's ability at this time that he asked him to join the staff of the Pennsylvanian's, but Lara had volunteered for duty in the United States Navy where he served in combat duty for three years.

Lara Hoggard

Morley and Gearhart

Virginia Morley and Livingston Gearhart

Critics often use the word "versatile" to describe Virginia Morley and Livingston Gearhart, duo-piano team featured on Fred Waring's broadcasts and concerts. Acclaimed as concert artists, they have won equal recognition in the popular music field.

The two youthful pianists met and combined their music talents in Paris where they were both scholarship students at the Fontainebleau Conservatory. Their Paris debut was a brilliant critical and public success and before returning to this country the pair presented several joint recitals in Paris, Lyons, Zurich, Berne, Fontainebleau and Brussels. In New York the two have appeared at Town Hall and in concerts for the League of Composers and the New York Philharmonic Symphony League. They make annual concert tours extending to all parts of the United States as well as Canada. Three eminent composers—Darius Mielhaud, David Diamond and Norman Dello Joio—have dedicated important piano works to "the two artists who play as one."

In abrupt contrast to their classical talents, Morley and Gearhart have been featured in several of New York's top night spots, where their distinctive and ingenious arrangements of popular music brought them to the attention of Fred Waring. Since 1943 they have been heard regularly over the air on the Waring show for which Livingston has also written many of the unusual musical arrangements including the well-known "Dry Bones." More of their inventiveness is apparent in the nine popular tunes contained in their new album, "Night Life on Two Pianos" (Columbia).

In private life, Virginia Morley is Mrs. Gearhart. She is a native of California and studied piano from early childhood. Later she won highest honors in piano and composition at

(Continued on Page 4)

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 14 February 16, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Editor ..... Al Moriconi
Associate Editor ..... Dorothy Thomas
Sports Editor ..... Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor ..... Robert Rhein
Feature Editor ..... Betty Bakley
Photographers ..... Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers .. G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager ..... Victor Alsberg
Business Adviser ..... A. P. Orth
Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Jean Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dick Kaylor, Marianne Shenk, Audrey Geidt, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myer, Donald Paine, Maudie Melroy, Dorothea Cohen, David Wallace, Patricia Wood, Dorothy Dando, Harry Graham.

Who's Who ... in the Conserv

Mary Elizabeth Funck, Prof. Rutledge and Alden Biely

We deviate a bit in this week's choice for Who's Who in the Conserv by naming two sophomores, Mary Elizabeth Funck and Alden Biely. Mary and "Ollie" are two excellent pianists who will furnish the two piano accompaniment for several of the ICF numbers.

Mary, who hails from Palmyra, is a pretty Miss with a harmonious mixture of brains and talent. During her student days at Palmyra High School Mary served as editor of the school newspaper, accompanied the Junior and Senior High School choruses, and the Glee Club, and, as a nice finale, was elected valedictorian of the '48 class. And now she is the accompanist for the Harrisburg Choral Society.

"Ollie," a product of Lebanon, is a tall, serious looking boy with an unexpectedly deep voice. He was co-editor of the LHS year book, assistant accompanist of the A Capella Choir, and an accompanist in Junior High School. He is also to be classed as a thespian because of his role of Sir Joseph in the operetta "H.M.S. Pinafore"—LHS production.

Both Mary and "Ollie" recently completed a tour as accompanists with the LVC Glee Club.

The distinguished looking man in the above picture is Prof. E. R. Rutledge who is acting the role of the host to the forthcoming Musical Festival.

Beauty 101

(Continued from Page 1)

girl at the junior prom. (Of course, if there were other girls there, you might just as well go home.)

"With any lips you can paint a perfect shape with a lip brush. (Suggested shapes: rectangular, trapezoidal, triangular, zig-zag, spiral. Why not try drawing a few pictures while you're at it. Your face may win you a medal in an abstract art show.) Your morning art-work will require less time than finding your note-book. (But I haven't lost my note-book) ... and its results will be evident all day. (Don't mind those smudges in the back of the room, you look beautiful.) Follow this advice, and after meals the mouth will need only a quick fill-in. (We suggest a foundation of Portland Cement.)

"Remember—BEAUTY 101 is a course in which you're tested every day!" (Don't feel bad—those bags under your eyes are just desks for your pupils.)

Personnel

(Continued from Page 1)

ance and personnel council, which has a membership of 10,000 persons throughout the United States and Canada.

Knapp said the convention will provide an opportunity for students to meet and talk with guidance and personnel specialists who are tops in their field. More than 2,000 educators representing the major colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, as well as a large number of public and private school systems on the secondary school level, will attend and take part in the convention.

The guidance council serves as the coordinating agency for a group of

Scranton Knocks LV from 1st Place in Extra Period

By Harry Graham

Conserv Notes

Glee Club Department: The Glee Club has completed another very successful tour presenting one of the best programs to date. The new feature of having an accompanying orchestra was well received and will continue to be a part of the program. Especially thrilling were the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "The Italian Street Song" which featured Annette Read. Despite the time and effort it took trying to put all one's belongings into one suitcase, unpacking, setting up the stage, and giving the concert, everyone had great fun. Can't you picture—Senator Harry Forbes deliberately disregarding the "No Smoking" sign—Ann Shryer finally seeing the funny side of the "radio" joke after hearing it fifteen times—Prof. Rutledge in the role of a man of mercy (paragoric, yum, yum)—Pierce Getz and Bob Fisher viewing Red Lion from an airplane—Joyce Carpenter, Miss Bowling Ball of 1950, flying along with what she should have let go of—Dick Kline and Louise Light dancing to "Rag Mop" in a five and ten in Chambersburg—Bob Clay experiencing his first trip to a movie theatre—Geroge Shoppell and George Eshbach spending a night with Minerva and her collection of statues—Dori-I-tot-I-taw-a-putty-cat—Eckert, Alden Biely, Mary Funck and Dick Miller holding down the rear of the bus. Mrs. Paul Brume was one of the most ardent fans—Anyone finding a lonesome mustache in the Hagerstown vicinity please contact George Rutledge—Joyce Carpenter and Barb Metzger are expected to be arrested any minute for violating a state bathtub law—For information about life in the home of a wealthy WCTU president see Betty Miller or Mardia Melroy—Imagine finding cowbells chained to the springs in your bed—For a minute-by-minute description of the words and actions of William Lemon III see Bruce Wiser—Pierce Getz fined $10 coming in on the home stretch.

Kenny Keiser, xylophonist, appeared at a past meeting of the Lebanon Valley College Auxiliary. His accompanist was Joyce Hammock.

Another group who performed for the auxiliary was the saxophone quartet consisting of Jack Snively, Clayton "Wolfgang" Schneck, Lynn Blecker, and Bob Rhein.

constituent organizations concerned with all phases of personnel and guidance work—among which are the National Association of Deans of Women, National Vocation Guidance Association, American College Personnel Association and the Alliance for the Guidance of Rural Youth.

Any full-time college or university student interested in attending the convention may apply for information at the Dean of Students office of their own institution, or write to A. Blair Knapp, vice president, Temple University, Philadelphia 22, Pa.

Last Wednesday the Dutchmen quintets journeyed to Scranton, only to absorb two heartbreaking defeats. In the varsity game, Scranton stayed out in the front the whole way. They grabbed a quick 4-0 lead and tenaciously clung to a small lead the whole game. Larry Kinsella quickly pumped through two one handers to put the score at 4-5. A few seconds later scrappy Al Murawski tied it all up at 7-7 with a foul shot. The game see-sawed back and forth until the quarter ended with the Royals holding on to their 13-10 lead. It was a very listless first quarter with Scranton missing layups and the Valley loafing and taking long sets instead of their usual brand of working the ball around.

The second quarter was almost a repetition of the first. Scranton scored first and then Murawski and Becker zipped through 4 points to narrow it down to 14-15. Then the Royals caught fire and began to pull away on their ability to sink hook shots around the basket, and to almost always come up with the ball under the boards. The only thing that held the score down to 20-28 at halftime was freshman Murawski's inspired playing. He was getting a majority of the Valley's rebounds, and proving a real thorn in the Royals' side.

At the start of the second half L.V. narrowed the lead down to 23-30 and then Scranton, dumping in all kinds of shots, increased their lead to 40-25 with four minutes to go in the quarter. The Dutchmen pulled together and narrowed it down to 33-42 at the close of the third frame. For a team that was averaging close to 76 points, the Valley was really annoyed at what was happening.

As soon as the fourth quarter started you could see a different Annville team on the floor. "Chuck" Zimmerman put in a nice one-hander and Becker swished a set from way outside. Eddie Frazier chalked up a free throw and seconds later Becker rang up another two points to put the score at 40-46. The Royals returned the spree with one of their own and quickly ran the count to 40-52. At this point Scranton's Jim Tully went out on fouls and perhaps this was the break the Valley was hoping for. There were only four minutes left now and L.V. had to make up to 12 points. The Dutchmen started scrapping and stole the ball away after two foul goals were converted by Eddie Frazier. Murawski scorched the cords with a nice overhead set shot, after which Becker stole the ball on the throw-in, dribbled down the floor and laid in 2 points. Seconds later, Hank DiJohnson stole the ball and zoomed down the court for 2 more points. Now the Royals had only a 3 point lead, 54-51. Frazier grabbed a pass, faked his man out of position and drove in for another basket. One point behind with

(Continued on Page 4)

Hank DiJohnson, number 50, is shown here nailing one in at the Juniata game last Saturday, which was ultimately won by LVC.

Kerr

(Continued from Page 1)

watching the razzle-dazzle of the Red Raiders during Andy Kerr's lengthy football hey-day at Colgate University would expect that only a mathematics teacher could produce such formulas." This statement can be well upheld by the fact that upon receiving his collegiate degree he taught mathematics at Johnstown, Pa., High School, but soon gave up the classroom for the football field he loves so well. His initial college coaching effort was as track coach and assistant football coach to Glenn "Pop" Warner at the University of Pittsburgh, where he remained from 1914 to 1922.

When Stanford University of California appointed Warner as head football coach, Warner sent Andy Kerr ahead to install the double wing system which he had developed and in which Kerr is a foremost authority. For two years Andy acted as head coach of the Indians and also coached basketball until 1926 when he returned to Pennsylvania to take over the head coaching reins of both football and basketball at Washington and Jefferson College.

However, Kerr established his nationally famous self as a football professor at Colgate where he assumed coaching duties in 1929. The Hamilton, New York, institution was immediately successful under Kerr as their football squads were defeated but five times during Andy's first six years of tutelage. He directed the Red Raiders in 152 tussels of which they won 95, tied 7, and lost 50. Kerr produced an undefeated, untied and unscored upon team in 1932 and his Red Raider eleven of 1934 lost only to the sensational Ohio State gridders of that year by a field goal.

In 1946, the New York Touchdown Club added to his national fame by presenting him their coveted award for "outstanding permanent contribution to the advancement of the game of football." January of 1949 saw the American Football Coaches elect Andy to honorary membership in the association.

It is quite apparent that Andy, or the "Canny Scot" as he is so often called by sports writers, has one of his main likings of football involved with the East-West classic which is staged by an organization that he belongs to, the Shriners. Andy spoke to Lebanon Valley College students in chapel on February 1 and there outlined briefly the vast part the great gridiron stars of our nation do in playing this post-season game for the benefit of crippled children.

In conclusion, it has been a great honor for Lebanon Valley College that such a man as Andy Kerr guided the destinies of our football forces and brought publicity through his own renowned personage. Wherever he goes or whatever he does, the time Andy has spent at Lebanon Valley will be honored and appreciated by its students.

Waring Artists

Mills College, California, which lead to a scholarship study under Robert Casadesus in France.

Gearhart was born in Buffalo, New York, where he took his first piano lessons from his mother, a fine pianist and teacher who studied with Leschetisky. An oboist and composer as well as pianist and arranger, he has also co-authored a book of arrangements for violin students under the title "Fiddle Sessions."

Lara Hoggard, along with Morley and Gearhart, will appear together tomorrow evening in a concert for the students attending the Intercollegiate Music Festival at the Forum in Harrisburg.

Dutchmen Dump Juniata In Decisive 64-51 Win

Scranton

(Continued from Page 3)

about 55 seconds to go Scranton tallied up a foul to stretch their lead to two points. The Valley stole the ball on the throw-in and zipped it around for about 25 seconds. Then quick as a flash Frazier sped by his man and carefully laid in those precious two points to tie it up at 56-56. Scranton froze the ball for the remaining three seconds until the buzzer sounded ending the game. The Valley had done it again, and they had never lost an extra period game yet.

Scranton opened up the five minute period with a quick one hander and two points. Becker knotted it at 58-58 with a set. Scranton scored and then Al Murawski put in a beautiful hook shot. Medvecky of Scranton then fouled Frazier while he was going up for a shot after racing down the court. It was deliberate, knocking Eddie down and shaking him up considerably. Eddie stayed in the game but unfortunately missed both his shots. That was a tough break, for Scranton put in two to tie up their lead 64-40. Murawski put in a foul and Frazier scored one more to make the final count read: Scranton 64, Lebanon Valley 63. It was a tough one to lose and it knocked LV out of their tie for first place which Scranton took over. It was a hard blow to take, but during the first part of the game the boys looked as though they didn't feel like playing basketball. Only in the fourth quarter did they wake up to the fact that they had better start moving. Becker was high man for the visitors with 9 field goals for 18 points. Murawski had 4 field goals and 9 fouls for 17.

In the J.V. game, Scranton nosed out the Valley by a 52-48 count. With a minute to go Scranton led 48-47, but the Valley couldn't overcome the one point. The one bright spot was the Valley's sinking 21 out of 26 fouls. Scoring honors went to Jim Collucci, Leon Miller, and Jim Hanley who had 10 points.

College Seniors . . .

Civil Service Examination

for

VISITOR POSITIONS

in the

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Starting salaries $2124 and $2496 per annum. Eligible lists will be available by June.

See examination announcement and secure application blank at Placement Office; or write State Civil Service Commission, Harrisburg, for further information.

Well, the Valley's Varsity quintet finally got a foothold on the win column again. Saturday night saw them winning out over a poor Juniata team to the count of 64-51. The large crowd saw Ralph Mease's charges grab a lead early in the quarter, which was never to be relinquished.

Eddie Frazier got the boys off on the right foot by grabbing a pass immediately after the tap in and laying it up for a quick 2-0 lead. Juniata countered with a foul, then Larry Kinsella and Frazier bucketed two more baskets. At this point it looked like a rout for the home team. Due to some sloppy ball handling and some wild passes by the Valley, Juniata came back with two goals and put the count at 6-5. Red Langstaff dumped two fouls to help matters some but the Blue and Gold equalized it with a nice set. Shortly later the visitors took their only lead of the night by virtue of two foul shots.

Floyd Becker connected with a set and Dickie Furda broke into the scoring column with two more fouls. Juniata tied it up on a lay up, but a nice one handed drive shot by Kinsella and a foul by Eddie Frazier put the Home Team out in front by a 15-12 count as the quarter ended.

Juniata opened the second period with a quick basket but the Valley now got hot and a set by Frazier, some fouls by Langstaff, a set by Becker, put the score to 22-17. Hank DiJohnson contributed an underhand shot then Al Murawski connected a beautiful pump shot. DiJohnson put in another basket and Floyd Becker gunned in another set to put the Dutchmen out in front by a comfortable 30-19 score at the half.

The Juniata started the 2nd half out with 2 quick baskets but the Valley calmed down as Frazier dashed in another set and Murawski tapped in a stray rebound. DiJohnson converted a foul toss to put the score at 35-25. The boys began to tighten up too much and were seemingly trying too hard. Juniata kept hammering away and throwing them up from all angles but luckily couldn't connect very consistently. Occasionally the Dutchmen would match a goal to hike the score to 45-36.

The fourth quarter saw the locals hang on and slowly but consistently chalk up the goals. At one point Juniata chopped the lead to 10 points but L.V. countered with three goals while the best Juniata could do was ring up a foul. The game finally came to the end with the Dutchmen on the long end of a 64-51 score. By rights L.V. really should have run up about 100 points, but the boys weren't quite up to par. They hit on 25 of 65 shots however for 36%, not bad at all. They were losing all of their rebounds and consequently getting in only 1 or 2 shots at a time.

Eddie Frazier was tops for L.V. with 6 field goals and 4 fouls for 10 markers. Floyd Becker had 7 field goals for 14 points.

Jim Hanley and Jim Colucci paced the Dutchmen Juniors to a 66-41 rout of the Juniata Junior Varsity.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 15

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Tuesday, February 28, 1950

Joan Orlando, Nick Bova, and Armen Banklian appearing as the principal characters in the Gwen Davenport three-act comedy Belvedere, to be presented by Kalo-Delphian Societies Friday night, March 3, in Engle Hall.

Fire Protection Work Complete on Campus

The buildings of Lebanon Valley College have for many years passed the annual inspections of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, made to check properties for safety and fire hazards.

After the disastrous college fire in the west about six months ago, the administration asked the state to make a special survey in order to have the buildings on campus properly equipped above the basic legal requirements.

The results of this survey are two new fire escapes; casement windows leading to all fire escapes have been constructed; smoke barriers have been installed on the second and third floor levels in the halls of four buildings; partitions and doorways have been built in several places; electric exit signs have been placed where suggested; emergency lighting system has been put into operation in Engle Hall; and in addition, other minor repairs have been made. The cost to the college, well over $4,000, is considered to be an excellent investment by adding to the protection of the students.

The administration appeals to the student body of Lebanon Valley College to do his or her share in cooperating to prevent fire. A student cannot be fireproofed. Smoking in bed, careless disposal of cigarettes, use of defective electrical appliances are all potential disasters. The danger of fire is present anywhere on the campus, but with the thoughtful cooperation of the students themselves, this project will be most effective.

Kalo-Delphian Societies' Week-end Plans Revealed In Letter from Katey K-D

You think you're wise in the way of the theatre? Well, imagine what happens when an author (I.Q., 167), a sculptor, a gossip, a lawyer, two demonic brats, and a couple of Bridge fans are tossed into one living-room. Where does the mysterious bolt belong? Did you ever think "Lefty" Euston would become a horticulturist? Would you believe that Nick Bova has been drying dishes? Let us give you a clue, students and faculty, "Belvedere" has all this and more! Choose your humor, subtle or slapstick, when Kalo-Delphian presents the hilarious comedy "Belvedere" on Friday night, March 3, at 8:30, in Engle Hall.

Senior Snapshot

by Betty Bakley

It is said that good things come in little packages. If that slogan wasn't made for Dave Wallace it should have been. The wrapping may not be very big, but the contents are terrific.

Dave Wallace, by-the-way an ever-reappearing name on the Dean's list, is a member of the Day Student Congress, student representative for Pi Gamma Mu, and chairman of the Great Books discussions.

Last year as editor of the Quittie he headed the production on one of the best year books put out here in some time.

Dave, following in the footsteps of his brilliant father, Paul Wallace, one time professor of English and head of that department at Lebanon Valley College, is in the process of making some rather big tracks of his own.

A history major, Dave works in the Historical Society in Lebanon and is the youngest member of the Key Stonians, an honorary literary society in Harrisburg.

To this varied list of activities our versatile Dave adds a flare for acting, a contagious sense of humor, an insatiable love of the pun (corny joke to you low brow students), and just enough polish and aplomb to put it over. Though scholarly in appearance the humorous twinkle in his eye belies the dignified exterior.

It looks as if the little guy with the big voice will do big things and go big places. With a wish for the best of luck we give you Wallace for Who's Who of this week.

Further hints. Have you heard the story of the "Wee Little Woman" from the lips of a genius? Do you know who is the "Busiest little bee on Humming Bird Hill"? We could go on and on, but Friday night is the night when you may see for yourself what makes "Belvedere" as witty as its movie counterpart, "Sitting Pretty." Don't miss it! Tickets may be procured from any K-D member, or if Uncle Sam is late, buy them at the door.

A note to all members of the cast, Kalo-Delphian members, and alumni of the two societies. A party in Kalo Hall will round off the evening with refreshments and dancing, immediately following the production.

On Saturday night, March fourth, the spotlight shifts to the Brunswick Hotel in Lancaster. The event is the annual Kalo-Delphian formal dinner-dance to which all members and alumni are invited. Dinner will be served at six-thirty and dancing will continue until the "bewitching hour," 11:45 P.M. Music will be provided by popular Andy Kerner and his orchestra. The event marks the highlight of the Kalo-Delphian social year and is the signal for alumni reunions. If you are a member and have not made your reservation, contact Don Yeates or Jeanne Bozarth immediately. Chaperones for the big evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Claude Donmoyer and Pro-

(Continued on Page 3)

Remember . . .

TOMORROW is

Di Day

See Page 3

Who's Who ... in the Conserv

Jack Snavelly

This week's choice for Who's Who is one of Prof. Stachow's "boys." Jack is a very conscientious clarinetist and an excellent performer. While in John Harris High School at Harrisburg, Jack took second place in State Forensic, held solo chair second clarinet in All-State Band, and played clarinet and Alto Saxophone in the Harrisburg Symphony. During the war he played at local U.S.O.'s both in dance bands and as soloist on entertainment programs. He has also appeared as soloist on many band concerts in the Harrisburg area.

Jack is first chair clarinet in the LVC Symphony and Concert Band and is also a member of the clarinet quartet and newly formed woodwind quintet. He is also an arranger with many of his arrangements being performed by a Harrisburg dance orchestra of which he is a member.

Oslo Summer School Courses Announced

Announcement has been made by the St. Olaf College News Bureau in Minnesota of the annual summer session for American students at the University of Oslo, Norway.

As in past years, some 250 American students are eligible for enrolment in the June 26 to August 5 session. Requirements for admittance are two completed years of college work in any field. The courses this year will emphasize the Norwegian culture.

Twenty scholarships, which will cover tuition, student fees, are available to American students. And, since the school had been approved by the Veterans Administration, veterans may receive the usual subsistence plus the V.A.-paid tuition and possible student fees. The total expenses for the school are $110 plus $360 excursion fees.

Application for admittance may be obtained from the Oslo Summer School Admissions Office, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota.

Adieu . . .

Perhaps you haven't read the staff list this week—not many people notice it, but to the Staff of La Vie, it is a radical change.

As you know Al Moriconi was the paper's editor and "top-dog." Because of unforeseen circumstances, Al has resigned his post and La Vie is without its story-writer, headliner, typist and general office boy.

The change was very sudden and the staff would like to take this opportunity to thank Al for his untiring efforts and encouragement in the past. Good luck to you, Al, La Vie will miss you.

Conserv Notes . . .

by Bob Rhein

Hoggard Thrills Music Students

The First Intercollegiate Chorus Festival has passed, but the thrill of the experience and the memory of Dr. Hoggard will live with us for a long time. We, who were among those fortunate students participating in the event should be thankful for having been allowed to be a part of such a stirring performance. Suffice to say, our heads are still "above the clouds."

We were all completely surprised and, I believe, a bit scared when Dr. Hoggard asked Fred Waring to direct us in our last two selections.

Congratulations to the host, Prof. E. P. Rutledge and the committee which was composed of Miss Gillespie and Mr. Seiverling—Publicity; Prof. Carmean—Program; Mr. Russel Shutlesworth, Music Supervisor of Harrisburg—Tickets; and Dr. Claude Rosenberry, Chief of Music Education in Pennsylvania. They did an excellent job.

Mary Elizabeth Funck and "Ollie" Biely, duo-pianists, Chester Richwine, cornetist, and Ray Kauffman, flutist, highly deserved the praises which Dr. Hoggard and Mr. Waring gave them. The members of the LVC Band gave a highly professional performance in their position as accompaniment for many of the selections on the program, and our members of the chorus along with those from the other schools literally "sang their hearts out." All in all it was an outstanding performance.

Four Conserv students have been chosen to play in the Third Intercollegiate Band Festival which will be held at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., on February 23, 24, and 25. Chester Richwine will occupy the solo cornet chair, Bruce Wiser will play first French horn, and Harold Rothenberger and George Rutledge will play third clarinet.

The Glee Club spent a pleasant evening at "Etsy" Etzweiler's home in Columbia, Pa., Mel Schiff was assistant host.

Hoggard

. . . in conference with accompanists and ICF Chorus Members.

HANK DIJOHNSON

by Betty Bakley

Tomorrow is Di-Day, Di-Johnson-Day . . .

Hank DiJohnson—that powerhouse of football fury who plunged through many opposing lines to get that touchdown for the Valley, the guy with a fast feint on the basketball floor and the man who wields a mean catcher's mitt, the stocky, rugged, friendly guy from Lebanon—that's Hank and a sportsman in every bulging bicep.

Born in Lebanon, Pennsylvania, in 1924, Hank attended Saint Mary's Grammar School and Lebanon Catholic High School. In high school he played basketball but did not begin his football career surprisingly enough until much later, after his entrance into Lebanon Valley. He was appointed, however, during his years in high school, athletic instructor to the grade school students.

After graduation in '42 Hank worked for a time in the Bethlehem Steel Company in his hometown, Lebanon. That was cut short when he was inducted into the Navy Air Corps in '43. While in the service Hank was in Oregon, Virginia, New Jersey, Florida, and Panama, and during his stay out west was assigned as athletic instructor.

Honorably discharged in '46 Hank with many other G.I.'s then entering colleges over the United States came to Lebanon Valley and enrolled as an Education major.

One gets a picture of a career with Athlete written all through it.

His Valley record speaks for itself: unparalleled performance on the gridiron; outstanding work on the basketball floor and the diamond; a starter on every Valley football, basketball, and baseball team. On graduation he will be the only athlete in the history of the college to have won twelve varsity letters. As a climax Henry was chosen as fullback for the INS All-State Small College Team and titled "Pennsylvania's Most-Valuable Small College Player of 1949."

Tomorrow Is Di-Day . . .

It's a day when the Valley will have a chance to say "Thanks Hank," thanks to Hank from his friends, from the people who know him best. When a guy plays football or any other sport it takes time, sweat, energy. It means getting battered and bruised for the glory of old LVC, it means carrying the ball no matter what, 'cause we expect it. It means sweat, energy, and tears maybe, inside ones, when the going is tough, when no matter how hard you try you just can't win.

"Thanks, Hank." And while we thank Hank we also are in a way saying thanks to all the good, game guys who carried the ball for the Valley before him, the guys who played with him and those who will come after. It's thanks to them, to all sportsmen, to that grand guy the American athlete who just can't be beat.

So "thank you, Henry." We of the Valley wish you the best that life can offer. You deserve it.

Banquet Planned By Pi Gamma Mu

The Pi Gamma Mu held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, February 21, in Philo Hall of the Administration building. During the course of the business session it was decided to hold the second annual banquet at the Gren Terrace on Monday, May 1, 1950, at which time members of the faculty, former members of the society, neighboring chapters and their guests are to be invited. Arrangements are being made to get an outstanding speaker.

The remaining meetings of the society for the balance of the year will be held on Thursday instead of Tuesday.

At the conclusion of the business session the meeting was turned over to Professor McKlveen, head of the Department of Education, who delivered a very well organized address on the role of Federal aid to Education. At the conclusion of which an open forum was conducted.

Professor Lochner Invited to Bucknell

The first Collegiate Conference on Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations will be held March 5 on the campus of Bucknell University. A special luncheon meeting is scheduled for Monday when the speaker will be Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, Chief of the Economic Analysis Branch of the Economics and Statistics Division of the FAO, who will discuss recent developments of financial aid to under developed nations.

In the evening there will be an informal meeting of conference personnel and members of Bucknell faculty at the home of Bucknell's president. On Tuesday a tour will be conducted to the Federal Penitentiary there and the surrounding countryside. In the evening a radio forum will be conducted on "Point Four" of President Truman's program.

Lebanon Valley College will be represented March 5, by Professor H. L. Lochner of our Economics and Business Administration Department.

Cast Chosen for W & B Production

The Wig and Buckle Club at a meeting on Wednesday night selected their cast of characters for their Spring production, The Hasty Heart.

The plot revolving around seven men and a nurse in a jungle hospital presents interesting situations. The play provides excellent entertainment with elements of human interest, love, and good humor.

The cast of characters is as follows: Orderly, Don Kreider; Yank, Eugene Fisher; Digger, George DeLong; Kiwi, John Heck; Tommy, George Haines; Colonel, Charles Kagey; Margaret, Joyce Carpenter; Lachie, Milton Baker, Jr.

Visit . . .

"Hot Dog" FRANK

"Nothing But the Best"

College Seniors . . .

Civil Service Examination

for

VISITOR POSITIONS

in the

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Starting salaries $2124 and $2496 per annum. Eligible lists will be available by June.

See examination announcement and secure application blank at Placement Office; or write State Civil Service Commission, Harrisburg, for further information.

Exchange Notes

Slippery Answer

Having trouble carrying those slippery-covered books? Here's a way of keeping them tightly together so that they will make an easy-to-tote package:

Just interlock the covers: insert the top cover of one book into the bottom cover of the book on top, and so forth.

It's the same as using an old-fashioned grammar school strap, but less expensive. —From King's College

* * *

Poem

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I copied your Psych,
And I flunked too.

—From Mt. St. Mary

* * *

Thoughts of a Biology Student

Until I heard the doctor tell
There's danger in a kiss,
I had considered kissing you
The closest thing to bliss.
But now I know biology
And sit and sigh and moan
Six million mad bacteria—
And I thought we were alone

—From Akron Buchelite

KALO-DELPHIAN

(Continued from Page 1)

fessor and Mrs. Marvin Wolfgang. Honored guests who have been invited include Dr. and Mrs. V. Earl Lght, Mr. and Mrs. Felds, Miss Sutton, and Felix Viro and guest.

From here, it looks as if the third and fourth of March will be one of the highest marks of the social tide of L.V.C. Get in the swim and throw out your anchor in Engle Hall on Friday night!
—Katey K-D

CARL'S SHOP

Expert Hair Cutting

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 15 February 28, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors . . . . . Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
Assistant Editor . . . . . Marianne Shenk
Sports Editor . . . . . Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor . . . . . Robert Rhein
Photographers . . . . . Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers . . . . . G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager . . . . . Victor Alsberge
Business Adviser . . . . . A. P. Orth
Circulation Manager . . . . . Phil Hayes

Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Audrey Geidt, Kermit Keihner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardia Melroy, David Wallace.

Dutchmen Swamp F & M Drop Thriller To Moravian

By Jim Pacy

After dropping a heart-breaking 94-90 overtime thriller to Moravian College at Bethlehem on February 15, the Lebanon Valley College cagers played host to an inept Franklin & Marshall College quintet on Saturday night before approximately 2,300 spectators in Lebanon. When the final buzzer was sounded the Flying Dutchmen recorded their ninth win of the season by easily outwitting the Diplomats 93-63 and boosted their seasonal average up to 75.3 points a game to remain as one of the highest scoring small college basketball teams in the nation.

Franklin & Marshall attempted to make the Dutchmen play their brand of ball in the first stanza by moving the sphere slowly and thus allowed the locals but a 14-12 first period lead. The Valley's class and ball-handling soon overcame the visitors from Lancaster and LVC's combine outscored them 21-4 in the second chukker to move to a 35-16 bulge at halftime. Big Al Murawski, the freshman sensation, along with Larry Kinsella, proved to be the major guns in the first half as they dropped in 13 and 12 points respectively. The entire team however, presented their capabilities in this stage, as well as later throughout the contest, reeling off some plays that would prove tantalizing to anyone's basketball palate. This over all classiness was one of the main cogs in the wheel leaving the Dips far behind. Flashy Floyd Becker, who is one of the better ball players to come out of this region, stole the ball from an F & M dribbler in the waning seconds of the first half and dribbled furiously down the court with three visitors and diminutive Richie Furda right behind. Becker then stopped and flipped the ball back over his head right into the surprised hands of Furda who capitalized on the situation by laying it up for a deuce while the Franklin & Marshall players gaped on with awe. Such ball handling and faking kept the Lancasterians out of the ball game all night.

"Big Bill" Tomilen Wows 'Em

When the second half got underway, Murawski moved out to the guard position and "Big Bill" Tomilen took over the pivot spot. With plenty of encouragement from the stands and the ever present will to play good ball, "Big Bill" became the hero of the night by cutting the cords for nine markers in both of the last frames. All in all, Tomilen played a wonderful game and the Valley rooters were more than pleased with his best performance of the year. Becker continued his torrid scoring in third portion also, as he blistered the basket with five field goals while Murawski, although playing barely a few minutes, threw in three buckets.

F & M "Nowhere"

The Blue and White cagers ran rampant over the Diplomats in third session as they slashed the zone of the blue-clad's to shreds and scorched the nets for 30 points without too much effort to take a decisively commanding 65-41 advantage going into the final session. Once again the Valley clicked on all cylinders and it was difficult to keep the score respectable as the F & M basketeers were literally, "nowhere" and the Dutchmen registered goals from all parts of the floor to sew up the victory.

Co-captain Becker set the pace with his keen eye, parting the net for 24 counters, while Tomilen accounted for 18. Murawski pummelled the basket for 17 and Larry Kinsella played his usual dependable game of ball coming through with 16 markers. Co-captain Hnak DiJohnson, whose faking is as sterling as his gridiron play, plunked in 4 field goals for 8 points while Furda and "Chuck" Zimmerman scored 6 and 4 respectively. Curt Gallagher of the Dips came out on top as high man of the evening by dropping in 28 counters, while Bobby Zink, F & M's ballyhooed hot-shot, managed to rack up 12.

Moravian Triumphs Despite 30 by Murawski

When an athlete with a good Polish name such as Murawski goes into the area around Bethlehem he is usually well received, but you can bet your last quarter that our Al wasn't too popular with the Moravian rooters and followers last week when he sank thirty points that almost submerged Moravian in the overtime game that the Greyhounds won only after a hectic extra session. Murawski displayed a deadly hook shot during the course of the evening's events while his ball playing in general was excellent as he grabbed numerous rebounds and played the pivot position in yeoman fashion.

The tussle opened with the Flying Dutchmen playing a fine style of basketball and building up a lead which soon gained such proportions and seemingly insurmountable odds that probably even the Moravian fans thought it was going to be a repeat performance of the 102-79 slaughter the Blue and White pinned on the Greyhounds when they visited Lebanon on January 14. The first quarter ended with Valley men on the long end of a 27-15 lead and although Moravian rallied in the second chukker the Measemen, mainly on Becker's five field goals, still outpointed them 26-25 to take a nice 53-40 lead at intermission.

Wieder, Toner and Werpewski went to work with a determined rally to win for Moravian as the second half began and sliced LV's margin down to 69-62 at the three-quarter mark by out-countering the Dutchmen 22-16 during the third period. The Greyhounds kept up their comeback as the finale opened and to add to the Valley's miserable situation, Eddie Frazier drew his fourth personal and then as Moravian took its initial lead of the night, 80-79, Kinsella had his fourth personal marked up; all this calling for that much more careful ball playing during the tense race to the finish. Just as LVC got back on the van with an 82-80 headway Furda fouled out. The situation became more perplexing at 82-82 as Kinsella headed for the showers. A very short time before the regulation fray was up Werpewski missed a foul attempt and Becker tried a desperate last second set which fell to the side as the buzzer sounded announcing overtime.

Al Murawski, frosh star, flipping in a left handed hook shot during the second quarter of the LVC-F&M fray on Saturday night as the Flying Dutchmen pulverized the Diplomats 93-63 for their ninth win.

Moravian scored first in the extra stanza which saw Frazier leave the floor with a foot injury almost immediately after the starting whistle. Murawski tied it up at 84-84 and Tomilen sent the Dutchmen to the fore by converting a pair of charity tosses for an 86-84 advantage. Murawski tossed in a field goal and DiJohnson countered on two free throws which gave the Valley what seemed a definite lead at 90-85. Moravian however just wouldn't go down and roared back with two scores, and as the clock showed 33 seconds left LV had a skimpy 90-89 lead. Stengele stepped up to the foul line while the on-lookers stared with varied hopes as to the outcome of his attempts. Unfortunately for the Blue and White the Greyhound player threw in all four shots and thus wrapped up the ball game.

As was stated before, Murawski was high man for the visitors with 30 while Becker hit for 19, Frazier for 15 and Furda, 11. Toner came out as top-dog for the Greyhounds with 26 markers, and Werpewski followed by rimming 18. Stengele, Moravian's hero of the night, had 16.

Junior Varsity Splits Pair of Games

In the preliminary at Bethlehem, Coach Dick Fox's Junior Varsity aggregation fought off a Moravian rally in the second half and thereby muzzled the little Greyhounds 61-60 to set the stage for the close finish of the varsity battle. Joe Oxley pushed in 17 markers to lead the Little Dutchmen while Ray Dankowski, Leon Miller and Robin Moore all rang the bell nine times. Williamson racked up 13 for Moravian.

Franklin & Marshall salvaged some pride for itself as the F & M understudies subdued the Valley Juniors by a 46-42 count. Once again Oxley led the Foxmen with 11 points while Moore and Jim Hanley banged up 9 and Jim Colluci collected 8. Lenz was the reason for the visitors' win with 23 dunks.

Dutchgirls Halfway Through Season

The Dutchgirls rang up the curtain of their 1950 basketball season with a bang but have since slowed down. At this time their record includes two wins and three losses.

The Blue-and-White lassies opened their schedule on January 14 at Moravian. The home team bowed to the L.V. sextet by a 65-33 score. Jeanne Hutchinson was high scorer with 32 points to her credit.

On January 21 Elizabethtown was the opponent on the Annville floor. This time the Dutchgirls suffered a 60-42 defeat at the hands of the veteran Blue-and-Gray team.

L.V. retaliated the following week when they racked up a 46-18 victory over Millersville State Teachers' College. The tightly-knit zone defense of the three guards, Joyce Hammock, Betts Slifer, and Libby Roper, was especially commendable.

After a week's lay-off, the Dutchgirls traveled to Gettysburg only to find themselves on the short end of a 54-39 score. The Valley scoring was divided rather evenly among the three starting forwards, Betty Edleman, Helen MacFarland, and Jeanne Hutchinson.

On February 18 the Dutchgirls dropped their third game by a 40-38 score to Shippensburg State Teachers' College.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 16

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, March 9, 1950

MAY QUEEN FOR 1950

Above, left, is Jeanne Bozarth, a senior from Cresona, Pa., who was elected by the student body of LVC to be May Queen for 1950. On the right is Phyllis Dale, a senior from Lebanon, Pa., who will serve as Maid of Honor. Other senior coeds who were elected to the Queen's Court are Nancy Bowman of Palmyra, Pa., Mary Edelman, Hagerstown, Md., Evelyn Habecker, Hershey, Pa., Ellen Jepson, Reading, Pa., Jeanne Hull, Hagerstown, Md., and Pauline Stoner of Lancaster. May Day will be observed on May 6, and all May Queens since 1940 have been invited to attend.

I.C.G. Team Scores; Fehr Made Chairman

On Saturday, March 4, at the south-central Regional Meeting of the Inter-collegiate Conference on Government, Lebanon Valley came, saw, and conquered.

They came to the meeting in the Hershey Junior College with 10 delegates, 3 observers, and the faculty advisor, Prof. Maud P. Laughlin.

They saw, in miniature, a model

State Constitutional Convention, similar to the one which will be held in Harrisburg, April 13-16.

They conquered, after a terrific struggle, the State Chairmanship of the Civil Service Committee for Mr. Alex Fehr, by a vote of 62-2.

In addition, the delegation, headed by Ray Kline, worked tirelessly in committee meetings and spoke with authority at the plenary session to inform one and all that Lebanon Valley College would again be a force to be reckoned with at the forthcoming ICG.

Big Battle Brewing: Brains Brace Bulges

The annual All-Stars versus the Faculty Fatties basketball game will be played on Friday night, March 10, in the Annville High School Gym.

Preceding the faculty-student tussle will be the play-off intramural game between the winning "Ax" League team and the winning Day Student team.

Between games the tumbling team that appeared at May Day last year, will present a new act.

After the bloody battle, the hosesses and hosts of the Y cabinets will serve refreshments at the dance where Don Trostle and his orchestra will play.

The twenty-five cent donation, which will be collected at the door, will go to the World Friendship Project Fund.

LA VIE Staff and the entire student body of the College extend their sympathies to Miss Anna Faye Hall, College senior, on the death of her father on February 28, 1950.

Notice: Video Comes To the White House

The Administration has reopened Washington Hall to offer to all Lebanon Valley students Tuesday and Thursday night television shows.

The new R.C.A. set is to be operated by Mrs. Shroyer from 7 to 10 o'clock on the designated evenings. If the student body shows favorable response to the T.V., the Hall will probably be opened on all week nights.

The other recreational facilities, that is ping-pong, checkers, cards, will also be available to those interested. Bridge lamps will be installed to alleviate any unnecessary light on the television set.

Because T.V. stations do not offer programs before four o'clock in the afternoon and classes are being conducted in Washington Hall at this hour, the set will not be available for student use in the afternoon.

In the case of special affairs, however, arrangements will be made to open the Hall for those interested.

It has also been announced by the campus governing bodies that rec hour will be open on Tuesday and Thursday night from 6:30 to 7:30 in the College gym.

Schedule Of Coming Events

Thursday .....	March 9	College Orchestra Concert.
Friday .....	March 10	Play-Off Game between Ax League and Day Student Teams. Faculty Fatties versus All-Star Team.
Saturday .....	March 11	Faculty Follies of '50.
Saturday .....	March 18	Mother's Weekend.
Friday and Saturday	March 24, 25	Wig and Buckle Play, "The Hasty Heart."
Friday .....	March 31	Spring Vacation Starts.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 17 March 9, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors ..... Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
 Assistant Editor ..... Marianne Shenk
 Sports Editor ..... Jim Pacy
 Conservatory Editor ..... Robert Rhein
 Photographers ..... Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
 Advisers ..... G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
 Business Manager ..... Victor Alsberge
 Business Adviser ..... A. P. Orth
 Circulation Manager ..... Phil Hayes
 Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Audrey Geidt, Kermit Keihner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardian Melroy, David Wallace.

Ahoy!

General Mud was overrated in Russia. He can't hold a candle to Captain Coagulated Clay of Lebanon Valley College. Had Hitler fought in spring battles in Annville, he undoubtedly would have been accredited as the first naval commander to retreat approximately 200 miles into the interior.

Annville precipitation is matched only by its lack of absorption. Somebody should tell the East Coast Seagull Association about this wonderful inland resort. "Spend the winter in central Pa. All fresh water facilities. Guarantee no Sharks."

The Rains Came and stayed. Snow and fog for holidays. We have temperature too. The thermometer expenditure is terrific. In the summer housewives leave the kitchen door open and check the oven gauge. If the milk freezes on Sunday (no alcohol thermometers, y'know... Pennsy Blue-law), the kiddies iceboat home from church.

Capital punishment for wayward pets is to spend the night outside. Anticipation of the unforeseen will make in repentant wrecks by daylight.

All kidding aside I like it here. You see, my mother is a mermaid.

Exchange Notes . . .

Lawyer (reading client's last will and testament to a circle of expectant relatives); "And so, being of sound mind I spent every darned cent I had before I died."

—Upsala Gazette

The old mule skinner was a couple of hours late getting into ranch headquarters.

"Why the delay," asked the foreman.

"Well, you see it was this way boss," the skinner replied, "I picked up the parson about five miles back down the road, and from there on them durn mules didn't understand a word I said."

Lowell Text

First student: "What's the best way to teach a girl to swim?"

Second student: "First you put your arm around her waist, take her right hand in yours . . ."

First student: "But this girl is my sister."

Second student: "Push her off the dock."

—Susquehanna

Early to bed
 Early to rise
 And your gal goes
 With other guys.

—Midland College

Question: Mr. Kalo asks what's the fastest way of spreading a message in South Hall?

Answer: Give the message to a girl and tell her that it must be kept a secret by all means.

Question: A freshman girl asks what constitutes your idea of a fine Saturday night date?

Answer: My idea was different when I was a Freshman.

EXAMS

Little cuts from classes,
 Little slips marked "late"
 Makes the student wonder
 If he'll graduate.

Now I lay me down to rest;
 Before I take tomorrow's test.
 If I should die before I wake
 Thank God! I'll have no test to take.

State University of N.Y.
 The Leader,

In college days I must confess,
 I've often heard it said:
 "The biggest block to one's success
 Is usually one's head."

Illinois Wesleyan University
 The Argus

Give a pessimist a piece of rope and he'll hang himself, but give an optimist the same piece of rope and he'll start a cigar factory.

College Orch and Pianist Freeland Program Tonight

D. Clark Carmean,
Conductor

Merl Freeland, Soloist

The Lebanon Valley College Orchestra, under the baton of Professor D. Clark Carmean, will present its annual concert on Thursday, March 9, at 8:15 P.M. in Engle Hall. Professor Merl Freeland, piano professor, will be the guest soloist.

Professor Freeland will play three Chopin numbers: a valse, a nocturne, with the exception of his years in the service during the second World War, studied at the University of Oklahoma and then taught at the University for ten years. He studied privately under Madame Olga Samaroff-Stokowski, famed pianist, for four years.

Professor Freeland will play three Chopin numbers, a valse, a nocturne, and a scherzo, and Brahms Intermezzo-Opus 117, No. 2, and Opus 119, No. 3 presentations.

Among the many well-chosen numbers that the college orchestra will present is Tchaikovsky's Symphony Pathétique, Second Movement, Allegro con Grazia. This movement is written in the unusual meter of 5/4 (five pulses to each measure), and is considered one of the loveliest bits of music that the famed composer has written.

Another featured work will be Divertissement by Ibert. A satire on music in general, it contains what might be termed a nocturne, a processional, a waltz, a parade march, with appropriate side remarks by various instruments.

The final number will be the Concerto in E Flat by Liszt. This work features both Mr. Freeland and the orchestra. The concerto is often referred to as the Triangle Concerto because the triangle is featured in the Scherzo movement.

Program notes have been prepared by Dr. Elizabeth Kaho. The admission is free.

PERSONNEL OF COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

1st Violin	String Bass	Trumpet
Robert Fisher	Allan Koppenhaver	Robert Shreffler
Doris Klingensmith	Miriam Fuller	Betty Miller
Robert Hartman		Donald Coldren
Richard Moore	Flutes	John McKenzie
Arlene Shuey	Janet Weidenhammer
Geraldine Rothermel	Ray Kauffman	Oboe
Joan Bair	Grace Mohn	George Eshbach
Jean Wenner	Richard Kline	Mary K. Frey
2nd Violins	Saxophone	Percussion
Mary Jane Kern	Anne Shroyer	George Alwood
George Ritner		James Sendi
Elma Breidenstine	1st Clarinet	Gerald Dietrich
	William Cagnoli
Viola	Richard Hawk	Bassoon
Richard Lukasiewicz	George Rutledge	Fred Brown
John Wuerz		Louise Lighty
Louise Moeckel	2nd Clarinet
Annette Reed	Joseph Campanella	French Horn
Cello	Evelyn Habecker	Harry Keim
Robert Clay	Pauline Stoner	Auguste Broadmeyer
Jane Holliday	Trombones	Scott Hamor
Jane McMurtrie	John Heck	Ervin Hamme
Elizabeth Kemmerling	George Wolf
Mardia Melroy	Jay Heisey	Piano
	Gloria Stager	Katherine Noll

Conserv Notes . . .

By Bob Rhein

Doris Eckert and Annette Read will be the featured soloists in a number of concerts to be given by the Bethlehem Steel Chorus of Lebanon. This Friday evening, March 10, the group will perform in Lebanon High School. "Dori" will sing five solos, including an operatic aria and Rubenstein's "Romanze." It is hoped that she will have recovered from an attack of the grippe sufficiently in order to perform. "Toni" will sing "The Italian Street Song," a number which is so highly popular on the Glee Club's program.

There will be a public recital in Engle Hall, of the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory, on Tuesday, March 14. Featured in the program will be Richard Kline, pianist; Mary Elizabeth Funck, pianist; Robert Smith, organist; Pierce Getz, pianist; Chester Richwine, cornetist, accompanied by Pierce Getz, pianist; and Barbara Kleinfelter, pianist. Selections by a clarinet ensemble are scheduled tentatively for the program . . .

Mr. D. Clark Carmean, Dean of Admissions, was host to the members of Reading High School's "Future Teachers of America" club, upon their visit here on February 28, 1950. Serving with Mr. Carmean on the welcoming committee, was Dave Gockley and Dr. Fritz K. Miller. . . Upon arrival, the visitors were taken to the chapel for services, following which they were guests of the college for lunch. A tour of the campus and science laboratories followed. The students then were adjourned to convene for departmental interviews of their own interest. Miss Gillespie conducted the interview for the music department; Mr. McKlveen, education; Dr. Struble, English; Dr. Erickson, mathematics. In the evening, the guests gathered in Kalo Hall for a recital which was presented by Robert Fisher, violinist, accompanied by Pierce Getz, pianist; George Ritner, tenor, accompanied by Richard Kline, pianist; Mary Elizabeth Funck, pianist; and the clarinet quartette consisting of Jack Snavely, William Cagnoli, Richard Stewart, and Mel Schiff. Dr. Miller made the brief farewell speech and the visit was brought to a close. The success of this program has instigated Albright College to incorporate this idea, with proper elaboration, into their plans for the very near future.

Intellects Perform Staff for the '52 In Faculty Follies Quittie Selected

A new campus feature will be presented by the faculty on Saturday night, March 11, at 7:30, in Engle Hall.

The program will consist of duets, quartets, skits, elocution numbers, and sundry other things, too numerous to divulge. Those participating in this first faculty extravaganza are Professors Ehrhart (M.C.), Shay, Wolfgang, McKlveen, Keller, Crawford, Rutledge, Light, Fields, Struble and Mr. Donn timer (of the Faculty Follies), Mr. Gockley, and Mr. Robinson.

The star-studded show is open to all who come without the conventional ripe fruit or rotten eggs and to all those who promise to applaud after each act.

The staff of the 1952 Quittapahilla has been selected, a working organization set up, and is already underway with its plans for its yearbook. At the head as editor is Lois Adams, a capable, blonde, English Major from York, Pennsylvania. As her associate is day student Ann Blecker from Harrisburg. The rest of the skeleton staff is as follows: Betty Bakley, literary editor; Ruth Shumate, art editor; Jim Pacy, sports editor; Virginia Wagner, advertising editor; Edward Tesnar, photography editor; and Adrian Bamberger, business manager. Each of these general departments will have a full staff under it to be announced later.

Armen Banklian as Mr. Belvedere as he appeared in the Kalo-Delphian success last weekend.

NOTICE!

Any students interested in joining a C.A.P. squadron should contact George Bowman at Reigle's airport, Palmyra. The squadron offers ground school, communications, and flight time. With the exception of the flying, no previous aeronautical experience is necessary.

Visit . . .

"Hot Dog" FRANK

"Nothing But the Best"

Who's Who ... in the Conserv

Miss Isabelle Haeseler, the attractive, naturally blond, wavy-haired senior conservite from Bloomfield, New Jersey, is this week's choice for who's who in the conservatory.

Belle, as she is commonly "tagged," attended Bloomfield High School and there played first flute in the school orchestra and band. Upon graduation from high school she went on to study music at Oberlin College specializing in organ under the instruction of Miss Claire Coci.

Belle transferred to Lebanon Valley at the end of her sophomore year. Since her sojourn here she has appeared in three recitals and is preparing for a full organ recital in May. Belle, who has studied organ for seven years, is noted for her brilliant powers of memorization.

In 1943 she was presented with a plaque from the Griffith Music Foundation for having achieved the highest honors in the intermediate class of an organ contest. She also received a certificate of merit from the Trinity College, London, England, for having gained the highest grade in the advanced piano division in a contest conducted by Sir Granville Bantock, president of Trinity College.

This week's who's who has been president of West Hall for two years and is a member of the Girls' Band. Her ambition is to become an organ teacher in a junior or senior college.

To the girl with the "golden locks" goes heartiest congratulations for her fine accomplishments in the past and sincere good wishes for the things she will do in the future.

SCHEDULE for Scholarship Exams

ANNUAL HIGH-SCHOOL SENIOR VISITATIONS AND COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATIONS
March 10-11, 1950

Friday

- 1:00 P.M.—Registration of contestants in room 2.
- 6:00 P.M.—Dinner in College Dining Hall.
- 7:00 P.M.—Entertainment in Annville High School Gym.

Saturday

- 7:30-8:00 A.M.—Registration in Mrs. Bender's Studio for all contestants not previously registered.
- Registration closes promptly at 8:00 A.M.
- 8:00 A.M.—Chapel Exercises—Devotions.
- 8:15 A.M.—College Aptitude Test.
- 9:45 A.M.—Tests in Optional Subjects.
- 10:45 A.M.—Personal Interviews.
- 12:00 noon—Photograph of Contestants.
- 12:15 P.M.—Dinner in College Dining Room.
- 1:30 P.M.—Personality Test.

A conducted tour of the Campus will follow the personality tests.

Psych Students Take Eastern Field Trip

Sixteen students of the Clinical Psychology class and their professor, Dr. Clara C. Cooper, returned last Thursday, March 2, from a two-day tour of the clinical laboratories of the Vineland Training School, Temple University, University of Pennsylvania, and Albright College.

The purpose of the tour was to acquaint the students with the actual working environment of the clinical psychologist and also to see the opportunities open for graduate work in that field.

Leaving campus at 7:30 A.M. on Wednesday morning, March 1st, the class arrived about noon at Vineland, New Jersey, where they were expected for lunch. At the Training School, which is an institution for the feeble-minded, the students observed the various clinical types and were given two brief lectures by the heads of the laboratory. Following a tour the class was invited to attend a program presented by the feeble-minded children. Here, the psychologists-to-be witnessed the capabilities of the mentally defective children.

The next stop for the travelers was Temple University in Philadelphia. After eating dinner in the University cafeteria, the students were conducted through the psychological labs. An explanation of the apparatus used in diagnosing and overcoming reading defects was the high spot of the evening.

After spending the night at the Central Y.M. in Philadelphia, the class started on Thursday morning with a visit to the University of Pennsylvania. The students were greeted by a head of the department and conducted through the clinical, experimental and research labs, receiving explanations of various apparatus and methods as the tour proceeded. The highlight of the morning was a demonstration of the Stanford Benet Intelligence test given to a retarded child while the L.V.C. students watched in a one-way vision room. In this manner, the students were able to see and hear the examination, but the child was unaware of their presence.

Following lunch, the students traveled again to Reading, making their last stop at Albright. Here, the class was interested in observing the clinical advantages available in a small college. A demonstration was given here of the Wechsler-Bellebue Test by a senior psych major of the host college.

The group returned to L.V. Thursday evening. Members of the Clinical class who journeyed with the group included Dr. Clara Cooper, instructor, Miriam Keller, John Bedell, Robert Eigenbrode, Donald Steinberg, Ruth Kramer, Peg Bower, Merna Shenk, Vivian Werner, Andy Renner, Ralph Roberts, Ken Kirkpatrick, Clayton Boyer, Ethel Mae Beam, Bob Englehart, Ray Zimmerman and Joe Frank.

Everything Musical
LOSER'S MUSIC STORE
605 Cumberland Street
Lebanon, Pa.

College Dames Social Debuts Original Skit

The "College Dames" held their quarterly meeting last Monday in Delphian Hall. The membership of this organization is comprised of the women members of the Lebanon Valley College faculty, and faculty wives.

Featured at this meeting, one of their four annual get-togethers, was a skit entitled "Great Dames," written by Mrs. Carmean and Mrs. Starr. The play was based on information they had gathered through research concerning the founding of Lebanon Valley College and its co-ed beginnings. Emphasis was placed particularly on some of the women students at Lebanon Valley between 1866 and 1904.

The guests feted at this meeting were the husbands of the members. The men, according to reports, basked contentedly in the sidelines as the faculty femmes strode, with great success, to entertain them.

Psych Club Has Guest Speaker

The Psychology Club met for its regular meeting on February 28th under the presidency of Robert Eigenbrode.

A brief business meeting was held, in which the possibilities of speakers for future meetings was discussed.

Mr. Raymond Frey was the club's guest speaker. Mr. Frey, who is himself blind, is the physiotherapist at the Veteran's Hospital in Lebanon. His talk to the club members and their guests included his philosophy and psychology of life.

He told of his work in Lebanon and brought some of his equipment which he demonstrated to the club.

The third part of the program was handled by Mich Baker, John Bedall and Dottie Kline, the refreshment committee.

Rabbi Kagan Will Speak at LVC Chapel

Rabbi Henry E. Kagan, of Temple Sinai, Mount Vernon, New York, will represent the Jewish Chautauqua Society as lecturer at Lebanon Valley College, on March 14th and 15th, 1950. On Tuesday, March 14th, at 11:00 A.M., he will speak at the Chapel Service on the topic, "Do We Need a New Religion for the Atomic Age?"

Rabbi Kagan will also lecture in the Ethics class at 8:00 A.M. and at 3:00 P.M. will give a Social Problems Lecture on "Can Tolerance Be Taught?" On Wednesday at 8:00 A.M. he will lecture in Educational Psychology and at 1:00 P.M. in the Education Class on the topic "Guidance for High School Children."

LA VIE Staff and the entire student body of the College extend their sympathies to Miss Nancy Ann Myers, College sophomore, on the death of her father on March 7, 1950.

VIEWS FROM THE ALLEY

By Bill Fisher

MR. B. and MR. D.

Those initials, if you will recall, set the sports world agog several years ago, from '43 to '46 to be exact. That's how they styled Army's immortal "Doc" Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Mr. B. and Mr. D.

It's those very same initials, Mr. B. and Mr. D., that prompts us to return to the pages of La Vie to do another column.

To me, and I'm sure to most of you, our own Mr. B—Becker, and Mr. D—DiJohnson, will linger long in our memories ages after the fabulous Blanchard and Davis fade from mind.

To Lebanon Valley there will never be another Becker and DiJohnson. What a twosome! Tops by anyone's standards.

... and all that sort of thing

We offer this column for those who believe in sentiment, nostalgia, reminiscence, and all that sort of thing. The still vivid picture of Beck and Hank making LV sports history by the wholesale brings back the urge to do an article on them "just one more time."

It hardly seems possible that their four year record run of college ball is about to end. But with our last basketball game and "DiDay" now passed, the sudden realization strikes that the last chapter of two of the most glamorous and colorful careers in LV sports history is about to close.

It's getting to be that every time we take the lid off our typewriter the keys automatically strike D-i-J-o-h-n-s-o-n. We've thumbed our thesauri thin in search of adjectives to describe Hank's legendary years at the Valley, and still can't do him justice.

The fact is, the accolades paid Hank by President Lynch and the ear-splitting ovation rendered him after Ray Kline so aptly introduced "Lebanon Valley and its Hank DiJohnson," to the crowd on "Di-Day" was the most stirring tribute that could be paid anyone. Coach Mease, upon retiring Hank's jersey, summed it up perfectly with that well-worn and time-honored phrase; "It couldn't happen to a better guy."

As for Becker; his record-shattering basketball performance more firmly convinces us that he is among the five best basketballers in the state, and easily the best player in Central Pennsylvania—Anlian, Harris, Foster, et al. included. The marvelous magician, who's thrilled the fans and knocked 'em dead with his spectacular play, has provided us with basketball at its best.

Beck, in our book, is All-State. Whether or not he will make it is something else again. The feeling persists here that the big city boys, Paul Arizin, Charley Cooper, Larry Foust, Jim Reily, etcetera, will get first call. But Becker, by gosh, is our choice.

Beckerized and DiJohnsoned

Let's take a look into the past. Wander, if you will, with us back to the fall of '46 when LV first became Beckerized and DiJohnsoned.

The Great ones, both Freshman Day-Students via Lebanon, came out of the service that year and right from the start began moving in solid style.

Picture DiJohnson as a freshman. This was the unknown, untried, "I never played football in high school" DiJohnson. No scholarship, no build-up, no nuthin'.

Hale and hearty, 190 pounds of untested brute force and speed. Though a green fullback on a green team, he soon turned other teams green with envy with his powerhouse fullbacking.

Now after four years of dynamic football, basketball and baseball, Hank is an object lesson in how far a fellow can go in sports by working with diligence, determination, and a fighting heart. Someone once said, "Champions are made, not born." For living proof we offer DiJohnson—a great champion.

In all sports Hank possesses that certain indescribable something that can lift up an entire team and fire it to greater efforts. His own radiating energy was the driving force behind many Valley victories.

While talking to Andy Kerr one morning last fall after DiJohnson was hurt in the Albright football game, we inquired whether or not he would play him the following Saturday against Lincoln.

"I can't really say," replied Andy, "but if we get into scoring position it's likely I'll use him, because when Henry's in the game, whether he's carrying the ball or not, he can inspire the whole team."

Remember what really did happen that Saturday?

A Worthy Opponent

We pass along the following—an excerpt from a letter that came to the publicity office this past week from Bill Engle, Publicity Director at Juniata. Bill had this to say about Hank:

"If I may add one small voice to commend Hank DiJohnson on his special day, I would say that there is no opponent of Juniata more worthy of the celebration.

"If I were to select a mythical title for DiJohnson I would say that he was Juniata's most outstanding opponent for all sports. This, of course, is my own opinion based on the players I have seen during the three and one-half years I have been at Juniata College.

"In my relationship with Juniata athletics I have never heard any man criticize DiJohnson and most of them have high praise for his outstanding ability and sportsmanship."

Need we mention more?

Dr. Lynch accepting jersey number 33.

Statistics of the Flying Dutchmen Basketeers

	Games	F.G.	F.	Pts.	Avg.
Becker .....	20	161	30	352	17.5
Kinsella .....	20	111	52	274	13.7
Frazier .....	19	74	80	228	12.0
Murawski .....	10	66	38	170	17.0
Furda .....	20	67	30	164	8.2
DiJohnson .....	20	43	35	121	6.1
Langstaff .....	18	38	39	115	6.4
Tomilen .....	16	20	10	50	3.1
Zimmerman .....	16	20	7	47	2.9
Hess .....	6	2	3	7	1.5
Team totals .....		1,204	602	1,528	76.4

A Fascinating Formula

Becker has established his claim to Valley fame with some of the most spellbinding basketball we ever hope to see. Don't do the ordinary when you can do the spectacular, seems to have been Floyd's fascinating formula for basketball success.

In becoming the first LV player to score 1,000 points—he scored 1,016—Becker was a perfect picture of the smart, the poised, the polished basketball player.

There was something awe-inspiring about Becker's play. He could always be relied upon to do things differently, and do them spectacularly. As a ball-handler and set-shot, he was so good we simply took his play for granted. If he pulled the sensational, and many, many times he did, that was the expected thing. After all, it was Becker, wasn't it? Indeed a fitting tribute to a great player.

Floyd's record will stand to establish his ranking as one our all-time basketball greats. But you can throw the record book away and just let memory recreate that familiar scene of Becker on the court over the past four years.

That baggy white T-shirt under his jersey, hair never mussed, loping up and down the floor, swift set shooting, awkward one-handers, ultra-fancy passing, tricky faking. These scenes, year after year, game after game, stirred the fans who rent his ears with cheers and jeers.

How can we ever forget him?

1946-1950?

Over the past four years Becker and DiJohnson have shared the spotlight together. They have made hero-worshippers of us all. Their names have become synonymous with Lebanon Valley athletics. As L.V.'ers, we are extremely proud of their accomplishments.

As for the future—who knows?

Hank has had offers from several Class B and C baseball clubs. He is in line for a tryout with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Professional Football League. And he also has ideas about going on to school to get a degree in Physical Education.

Beck is contemplating either playing pro, teaching or coaching. He is in line for a tryout with the Waterloo Hawks of the National Professional Basketball League.

But no matter what they choose or where they go, Becker and DiJohnson will always be remembered at Lebanon Valley. They are a terrific team—a great team!

It is going to hurt to see them go.

Becker.
1,016!

Dutchgirls Trample Susquehanna 48-27

The Susquehanna University's women's basketball team travelled to Lebanon Valley College last Saturday to suffer a 48-27 defeat on the local floor. Four wins and four losses constitute the L.V. lassies' record; there are three more games to be played on the current schedule. These are: Elizabethtown (away) on Thursday, March 9; Penn Hall (away) on Saturday March 11; and Albright, (home) on Thursday, March 16.

Susquehanna took the opening toss-in but failed to score. After a minute of play Susquehanna scored on a foul shot. From then on the Dutchgirls took over the reins and held command for the remainder of the game. Lebanon Valley led at the quarter-time 12-6. The Blue and White guards held the visiting forwards to 4 points while the Valley forwards accounted for 12 points, making the half-time score 28-10.

The visitors staged a slight comeback during the second half, but were unable to overcome the stronger Lebanon Valley sextet. The Valley ended the game on the long end of a 48-27 score.

the game on the long end of a 48-27 Dutchgirls are Hutchinson, 25; Witmer, 10; MacFarland, 8; and Edelman, 5.

Varsity players included Helen MacFarland, Betty Edelman, Jeanne Hutchinson, Dotty Witmer, Betts Sliker, Libby Roper, Joyce Hammock, Margaret Anders, and Wilma Stambach.

Frosh Rip Sophs in Ax League, 44-33

Paced by Tarantolo, Frazier, and Sawyer the Frosh handed the Sophs a convincing 44-33 trouncing in the fifth game of their best-out-of-seven series which will decide the Day Student championship. The victory enabled the Yearlings to take a 3-2 edge in the series and they are slightly favored to whip the Soph combine the next time the two meet. The Sophs are led by the "Triple S's", namely, Shaak, Schirato, and Salamandra. Shaak is currently leading the scoring derby with 69 points in five games while Schirato follows close behind with 63. Frazier is the big gun for the well-balanced Frosh team, having scored 58 points in his five games.

The winner of the playoffs will meet the Dorm Champs in the preliminary game to the Student-Faculty game on Friday night to decide the intramural championship of LVC.

Dutchmen Close Season By Dumping Upsala 86-81

By Jim Pacy

Coach Ralph Mease's Lebanon Valley College cagers brought their current campaign to a close on Wednesday evening by defeating Upsala College 86-81 before approximately 2,300 persons in Lebanon. Two of Lebanon Valley's foremost athletes, Henry DiJohnson and Floyd Becker, "sang" their collegiate "swan songs" in highly impressive fashion as DiJohnson was honored with "Di Day" and Becker became the first LVC cager to score over 1,000 points by racking up 25 to end his college court career with 1,016 markers.

Upsala raced off to a fast lead, being out front the majority of the first period. The Dutchmen however cut their margin to 15-17 mainly on the seven points of Larry Kinsella before the beginning stanza drew to a close. Ed Frazier and Kinsella set the pace in the second session as the Mease crew out-pointed the New Jerseyans 28-20 to take a 43-37 advantage during halftime.

The locals kept pouring it on in the third stanza as the flashy Becker sizzled the hoops for 13 registrations to prove his worth as one of the better college players in Pennsylvania. LVC thus entered the finale with a commanding 64-51 bulge. Monte Berman, who played a wonderful game for the Norsemen all night, took charge for Upsala in the last stanza as he sent 12 points through the basket setting up a Viking rally which saw the East Orangers' out-goal the Dutchmen 30-22 to make the closing minutes a thrilling finish. Lebanon Valley however, executed a clever freeze and time ran out as the Blue & White wound up the season with their twelfth win in twenty starts.

Becker, as was previously stated, flipped in 25 points in his final role for Lebanon Valley, while Larry Kinsella, the dependable junior, although playing with an eye affliction, still managed to drop in 17. Al Murawski, who was the freshman wonder of the squad, played another good game, parting the cords for 15, while Eddie Frazier banged up 11. Richie Furdie, the promising guard from New Jersey, swished in 10, while the honored DiJohnson and Red Langstaff accounted for four apiece.

Berman of Upsala took high scoring honors for the fray with 27 points and was followed by Sandy Wolfe, who's sharpshooting brought him 17. Team mate Ed Little hit for 13.

Coach Dick Fox's Jay Vee aggregation registered their thirteenth win by trouncing the Viking proteges 59-41. Joe Oxley was high man for the Dutchboys with 18, while Robin Moore sank 16 and Leon Miller threw in 11. Bissett was high for the Norse understudies with 18.

Raymond Kline, representing the student body of L.V.C., presenting student gift of $100, gift from the Hub Clothiers, and other awards to Hank on Di-Day.

TRACK SCHEDULE

Thursday .....	April 25	Albright College .....	Away—Reading, Pa.
Friday, Saturday .....	May 12-13	Penn Relays .....	Away—University of Pa. Philadelphia, Pa.
Tuesday .....	May 9	Juniata College .....	Away—Huntingdon, Pa.
Friday, Saturday .....	April 28-29	Middle Atlantic States Meet .....	Away—University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.
Wednesday .....	May 17	St. Joseph's College .....	Away—Philadelphia, Pa.
Coach: Roger I. Robinson

La Vie Collegienne

26th Yr.—No. 17

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, March 16, 1950

Thespians learn the finer arts

Cast Revised for Wig and Buckle Spring Production

The campus thespians of the Wig and Buckle Club are hard at work on their spring production The Hasty Heart which will hold its grand performance March 24 and 25 in Engle Hall.

The human, moving, and laugh-provoking story of The Hasty Heart revolves around seven men and a nurse in a jungle hospital in Burma. The action set off by this interesting situation provides entertainment at its top quality. The characters are heart-warming and unforgettable.

In order to obtain the best possible casting there has been a slight shifting in the arrangement of characters. The cast is as follows: Orderly, Lyle Schwalm; Yank, George DeLong; Digger, Donald Kreider; Blossum, Robert Fischer; Kiwi, John Heck; Mike, George Haines; Margaret, Joyce Carpenter; Colonel, Charles Kagay; Lachie, Milton Baker.

Reserve seat tickets will be on sale for $1.10; general admission at eighty cents. Student prices will be reduced to fifty cents.

WELCOME, MOTHERS

Philo-Clio to Show Coward Production

After a play-reading marathon the Philo-Clio Societies' thespians have settled on Noel Coward's snappy little comedy, Hay Fever, as their contribution to the 1950 theatrical parade. A fast-moving, sophisticated take of life with an aging actress, Hay Fever is a sort of Anglicized You Can't Take It with You.

Professor Gilbert McKlveen, of the education department, will direct the play, which will be presented in Engle Hall, Friday, April 21. Business arrangements are in the hands of Dave Bomgardner. Jack Saylor is production manager and Dave Wallace will assist Prof. McKlveen.

Tryouts for the play were held on Tuesday, March 7. The nine lucky persons, chosen from a large field of contestants, are as follows:

Judith Bliss, Audrey Geidt; David Bliss, Robert Haines; Sorel Bliss, Anna Faye Hall; Simon Bliss, Bernard Goldsmith; Myra Arundell, Gloria Dressler; Richard Greatham, Wilson Shearer; Jackie Coryton, Lois Adams; Sandy Tyrell, Glenn Woods; Clara, Mary Lou Kurtz.

THANK YOU

Professor D. Clark Carmean, Director of Admissions wishes the editors of La Vie to thank all those students who assisted the admissions office in the Scholarship Weekend program. He particularly wishes to thank the Y cabinets for their assistance.

Faculty Frolics in Shades Of Satire Last Saturday

The first "Faculty FOLLIES" to be presented on Lebanon Valley College campus was a howling success Saturday, March 11. The talent along faculty row is amazing and the witnesses of the weekend performance can vouch for the statement.

Professor Carl Ehrhart was a most genial master of ceremonies. His program notes were most original and entertaining. He first introduced Librarian Donald Fields who opened the program with an organ solo. He is definitely conserv material!

George Struble-directed "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," was an excellent satire on the typical female bridge game, gossip and all. Those males of the cast were Professors Shay, McKlveen, Keller and Rev. Gockley.

The rendition of "Rag-Mop" by the Wolfgang and Ehrhart couples brought forth enough applause to warrant their encore, "I Said My Pajamas." Sugar-Rog Robinson literally "beat the drum" in a display of 1776 street beats (For the benefit of the non-conservites, a street beat is the drum beat the men of a corp march to.)

Faculty Fatties' Manager Dunmoyer and Cheerleader Mrs. Dunmoyer's duo rendition of "Baby, It's Cold Outside" was of Hollywood caliber. Imagine having movie talent right on L.V.'s campus!

Professor "Sandy" Crawford took the audience with him to the mid-west for his readings of Barbara Fritchie, Excelsior, and Paul Revere in the native Swedish dialect. Yumpin' Yimminy it ban goot! Professor E. P. Rutledge and son George played a clarinet and cornet duet, taking turns on each instrument and climaxing their act with a "I'll-hold-this-one-and-blow-this-one" routine worthy of the loud acclaims the audience gave them.

Professor McKlveen, Swami Salami Gockley and Swami Salami, Junior, Smith, delved into the world of mystery and came up with answers that would have made Dunninger green with envy.

The entire cast appeared in the grand finale, "The Silly Symphony." The original lyrics which Professors Light, Richie, Kretzinger, Rev. Gockley and Mr. Dunmoyer added to the favorite Ol' Suzanna were something for the books. Miss Houtz audibly displayed her talents as she punctuated the performance periodically.

When the curtain closed for the last time, the howling audience thanked their peers with thundrous rounds of applause that meant—"Let's have more Faculty Follies."

YW Plans Final for Mothers' Weedend

Tomorrow will open another annual Mothers' week-end program sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. cabniet. For those mothers who will be on campus and all Lebanon Valley students, there will be an open house in Washintgon Hall Recreation Hall from 8-10:30 on Friday evening, March 17. This program will serve as a short introductory welcome to the mothers. There will be some entertainment followed by television shows.

Mothers' week-end has been in existence for some time and was originated in order to give mothers a chance to visit informally with their daughters on campus and to get a glimpse of college life.

Saturday, March 18, Mrs. Lynch will be hostess to the mothers and daughters at a tea in her home from 2 to 4 o'clock. At six o'clock LVC men wil serve the banquet to the girls and their guests in the college dining hall. Miss Evelyn Strickler will be the after dinner speaker. Also listed on the after-dinner program are group songs to be led by Barbara Kleinfelter and several vocal selections to be given by the Delphian Quartet consisting of Mary Edelman, Doris Eckert, Anne Shroyer, and Annette Reed.

La Vie Staff and the entire student body of Lebanon Valley College extend their sympathies to Gerald Miller, college junior, on the death of his father on March 2, 1950.

Dean's List Issued for Semester Ending January

Gladys Fencil, Registrar of Lebanon Valley College, announced that the following students have attained the average of 90 or above for the first semester 1949-1950 at the College and Conservatory, making them eligible for the Dean's List. The group is composed of 34 boys and 11 girls. The students are as follows: David Andrews, George W. Bartels, Donald C. Beitzel, Lewis W. Bowman, Jeanne H. Bozarth, Phylliss Brightbill, Norman Bucher, Leonard Casper, Janet Eppley, Alex Fehr, Paul Jay Flocken, Harry Fox, Jr., Charles Garrett, John I. Grosnick, Walter Kohler, Jr., Donald Kreider, Ray A. Layser, Diana Jane Lutz, Alonzo L. Mantz, Robert K. Miller, Elliott Nagle, David D. Neiswender, John R. Nilan, J. Donald Paine, James Parsons, Charlotte Rohrbaugh, Frederick Sample, Sterling Strause, William Vought, David Wallace, Harold Yingst, George Alwood, Elma Breidenstine, Frederic Brown, Esther D. Cohen, William H. Forbes, Mary E. Greth, Joyce Hammock, Ruby Helwig, Francis Nogle, Chester Richwine, Geraldine Rothermel, George Rutledge, Clayton R. Schneck, and Richard Stewart.

123 Students Take Scholarship Tests

On Friday, March 10, a grand total of 123 high school students and veterans visited our campus to compete in the annual scholarship competition. The educational prizes were: four full-time scholarships, four  $\frac{1}{2}$ , and eight \$100 scholarships. Competitors arrived from four states. Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, and Pennsylvania. They ranked, in relative number, 4, 15, 2, and 102. The Conserv claimed 48 of these, the math department 20, the history dept. 19, English 17, biology 4, and foreign languages the remainder.

On Saturday, the visitors wound up their stay with a tour conducted by the members of the Y cabinets and the students who assisted in the scholarship weekend program. During their stay, they witnessed the colossal struggle between the Faculty and the All-Stars on Friday night. (Too bad they couldn't have remained for the Faculty Follies of '50 on Saturday night.)

Habadaber Speaks

Dear Mr. Moppentott, I am a young lady and a student on the campus of Lebanon Valley College and I am faced with a problem. Because I am a bit absentminded I find myself with four dates for Saturday night. Bill has looks but no money, Art has money but no looks, Don has both, and Phil has neither. What shall I do?

Bewildered Babe

My dear bewildered Babe, the solution is simple. Merely arrange a game of cut-throat canasta for Friday night with the four young men in question, as the only participants. The situation will follow a pattern I assure you. They will play for money of course because those who have everything will want more and those who have nothing will naturally want something. Dan will win all the money because "them as 'has' 'gets'", Art will call Dan a cheat and will probably try to murder Dan because Art is a tightwad. Dan will slug Phil and Bill because neither will have

Muchas Gracias

On behalf of the Student-Faculty Council, I wish to thank those of the Faculty and student body who so generously gave toward the Di-Day fund. I especially wish to thank the Senior Class for its contribution that enabled the goal of one hundred dollars to be attained.

It was only the support and active participation of a sizeable portion of the students that made it possible to reward "Hammerin' Hank" for his athletic contributions to LVC. Through those efforts, it made the day for Hank one which he will always "cherish . . . and never forget."

Raymond A. Kline
President
Student-Faculty Council

money to pay their debts. It will no doubt turn into an outright brawl with everyone losing. But where does that leave you, dear girl! Oddly enough I am not doing a thing on Saturday night. Shall we say about 8:30?

Habadaber Moppentott

Campus Chatter . . .

Back again for another swing at the social life on campus—after all, who could miss that week-end of all week-ends—when a mere student can laugh at a faculty member—and get away with it? . . . the whole affair was off to a rousing start on Friday night when coach, manager, captain, towel-boy, water-boy, and star player CLAUDE R. DONMOYER called his battered legions together for their brave stand against the All STARS. . . . "Mangler" MILLER turning in his usual creditable performance. . . . DICK FOX causing quite a sensation in those loud shorts. . . . RALPH MEASE needing those 16 fouts. . . . vote for a good sport to DR. RICHIE.

As for the Saturday night entertainment—all agree that the show was worth the price of admission—one good laugh per act. . . . "RAG MOM" EHRHART getting a rousing reception in his classes on Monday. . . . PROF WOLFGANG mopping up the unfinished discussion. . . . ROGER ROBINSON receiving countless offers to double for Gene Krupa. . . . understand MISS HOUTZ is running him a close second. . . . DR. LIGHT will act as advisor for the Conservatory for the spring musicale. . . . MRS. SMITH earning a new nickname of "Swami Salami Junior. . . . PROF CRAWFORD bringing down the house. . . . so the weekend ended with all the tired faculty members limping home to rest their aching bodies and saying, "Never again—until next year" . . . which is not soon enough.

We've been left in the dust as far as Cupid's antics are concerned, so we'll try to catch up. . . . MEL and ETZIE still a steady couple. . . . ELAINE and FISH having "that look" about them. . . . JEEP and LUKE seen together so-o-o-o often. . . . GERRY DeLONG and DON HEDGECOCK doing the town together. . . . HARRY BRICKER back with alumnae MIM WHERY. . . . very belated congratulations to JERRY and BUNNY PRATT on their marriage. . . . and to BETTS SLIFER on her recent engagement. . . . J. C. SMITH dating JEANNE BOMGARDNER quite often. . . . DORI ZARKER and Dave BOMGARDNER seem to be a steady couple. . . . RUTHIE KRAMER and BOB HESS spending a lot of time together. . . . LEW HEMMINGWAY finally getting that date with MYRNA SHENK.

Understand that they're taking in sewing these days in South Hall. Right, LIBBY? . . . the chem department having its own rooting section at the game on Friday night. . . . HELEN MacFARLAND and GEORGE BARTELS also on the steady company list. . . . also congrats to CHUCK ZIMMERMAN on his recent marriage. . . . "BELVERERE" BANKLIAN cutting a mean rug with that little blonde from town. . . . a crown to the Queen of the May, our BOZ, and bouquets to the court. Looking forward to May Day.

The Delphian Quartet which will sing at the Mothers' Weekend banquet on Saturday night. They are: Annette Read, Doris Eckert, Mary Edelman, and Anne Shroyer.

Conserv Notes . . .

By Bob Rhein

Eight Conserv musicians will participate in the First Annual Pennsylvania Collegiate Symphony Orchestra Festival which will be held at State Teacher's College, Indiana, Pa., March 29-31. Guest conductor will be Louis G. Wersen, Director of Music Education in Philadelphia. Robert H. Fisher and Wilbert Hartman, first violin; Doris L. Klingensmith, second violin; Jack Snively, first clarinet; Ray W. Kauffman, first flute; Robert T. Clay, Cello; Miriam Fuller, string bass; Harry Keim, french horn will be the local representatives.

Prof. Stachow became the father of a 7 pound, 11 ounce baby girl on March 13. Congratulations, Prof. and Mrs. Stachow!

This column apologizes for the error in last week's issue when Professor D. Clark Carmean was titled Dean of Admissions. His correct administrative title is Director of Admissions.

Several people have asked how selections are made for Who's Who in the Conserv. This column goes on record as saying that selections are made on the basis of abilities and services to the conserv and college. We are honestly trying to make the selections in an unbiased manner.

Last November we published an article about a forth coming senior jazz concert which somehow failed to materialize. Many attempts were made to find a suitable date but each attempt failed because of conflicting dates. At last senior class president, Bob Uhrich, Prof. E. P. Rutledge, and Don Trostle have agreed to April 28, 1950 as the date. The Glee Club will be featured with the dance band in "Tenderly."

Today Band leader Trostle announced the personnel for the dance band as follows: Lynn Blecker and Mel Schiff, alto sax; Bob Rhein and Charles Roland, tenor sax; Clayton Schneck, baritone sax; trombones, Charles Kreis and Gene Tritch and John Heck; trumpet, Elmer Hamm, Chester Richwine, Lloyd McCurdy, and Scott Hamor; Bruce Wiser, french horn; Lenny Casper, drums; Charles Hill, bass; and Don Trostle, piano.

A campus recital will be given in Engle Hall tonight, March 16. Those participating in the recital are Elma Breidenstine, piano; Barbara Kleinfelter, organ; Anna Mae Greider, piano; Richard Kline, tenor; accompanied by Pierce Getz, piano; Richard Einsel, organ; Clayton Schneck, clarinet; accompanied by Miss Nancy Kramer of Lebanon; Ruby Helwig, piano.

Several conservites will appear in a program to be presented today for the Cosmopolitan Club in Allentown, Penna. Mary E. Funck will present several piano numbers, George Ritner, tenor; and Robert Fisher, violinist, will also be featured on the program. An interesting note concerning this performance is that Bob Fisher will be playing a Stradivarius violin which is being loaned to him by a member of the community. Pierce Getz will accompany both Mr. Fisher and Mr. Ritner.

Sidney Garverich will sing at the Salem United Brethren Church in Lebanon on March 21.

On Tuesday, March 21, a public recital will be presented in Engle Hall. Those listed on the program include Mardia Melroy, pianist; Pierce Getz, organist; Polly Stoner, pianist; James Barber, violinist, accompanied by Kathryn Noll; Dorothea Cohen, pianist; a trio consisting of Robert Fisehr on violin, Bruce Wiser on French horn, and William Fairlamb at the piano.

Walt Levinsky is at the present time in Indianapolis, Indiana, on tour with Tommy Dorsey and his band.

Paul Fisher, class of '47, is a member of the music faculty of Mississippi College, a position which he has held for the past two years. In a recent recital he played the French horn in three Sonatas. Just prior to the recital he conducted a lecture demonstration concerning the French horn, its development, and idiosyncrasies. This summer Paul hopes to get to the University of Michigan to work for another degree. He has received high recommendation from Ellis Neece Elsey, Director of Music at Mississippi College.

Under the direction of Miss Jane Holiday, the following students went to Palmyra on Wednesday of this week to judge the try-outs for the county band festival: Jack Snively, Harold Rothenberger, Dick Hawk on clarinet; Beatrice Royer, flute; Dean Dougherty, Clayton Schneck, saxophone; Bruce Wiser, horn; Bill Lemon, Chester Richwine, Don Caldren, trumpet; Don Trostle, baritone; Charles Kreis, John Heck, trombone; Miriam Fuller, tuba; George Alwood, drums.

Senior Snapshot

By Betty Bakley

There is on every college campus—there has to be—those students who form the backbone of the system, the foundation. In other words the people who come in for a great deal of the work and very little of the glory. Where would we be without them? Steady, dependable, talented, and always right on hand whenever they are needed; doing the job and doing it well without any complaints. Jan Eppley comes under such a laudable category.

Jan, to include just a few of her activities, is on the "Jiggerboard" and Student Faculty Council. She is a zealous Clonian and in her Junior year was on the Quintie staff. A French major, the French Club has, of course, been included in her list of campus activities. For many years she has been an enthusiastic member of the YWCA and Y Cabinet on Campus and this year she was elected to the responsible position of YW president. In connection with this she has, in the past, worked with the Religious Co-ordinating Council.

As president of the YWCA Jan holds down one of the biggest jobs on campus. The Y's are a hard-working organization and do much of that very necessary behind-the-scenes work that it takes to keep any performance running smoothly, even college. Few of us realize the important part that the Y's play in lives of all of us at L.V.C.

This smiling, friendly, helpful gal from Mechanicsburg is our choice for the Senior of the Week. She exemplifies the very qualities that have made us what we like to think we are—the Friendly College. Whether in the field of teaching or whatever Jan may choose to do, she is sure to be a worthy addition to any community. Good luck in future years, Jan. The Valley needs more like you.

Dr. Light Active at Education Meeting

Dr. V. Earl Light, Professor of Biological Science at Lebanon Valley College, acted as layman representative at the Southern District Conference of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, on Friday, March 10, in Hershey, Pa. As president of the Lebanon County Board of school directors, Dr. Light represented the board and served as a member on a Study Group entitled "In Service growth of Teachers." Dr. Lynch and Professor McKlveen also attended the conference.

Chem Club Hears Dr. William Mosher

On Thursday, March 2, the Chemistry Club was host to Dr. William Mosher, Head, Department of Chemistry, University of Delaware. Dr. Mosher was on campus by late afternoon and spoke with the senior chemistry students who plan to do graduate work. At the evening meeting he spoke on "The Changing Aspects of the Chemical Profession," what the industrial chemist does and how our changing political and economic scene may effect the chemist and his activities in the future. An interesting discussion period followed the lecture, after which refreshments were served in Washington Hall.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 17

March 16, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors . . . . . Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
 Assistant Editor . . . . . Marianne Shenk
 Sports Editor . . . . . Jim Pacy
 Conservatory Editor . . . . . Robert Rhein
 Photographers . . . . . Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
 Advisers . . . . . G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
 Business Manager . . . . . Victor Alsberge
 Business Adviser . . . . . A. P. Orth
 Circulation Manager . . . . . Phil Hayes
 Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Audrey Geldt, Kermit Keihner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardia Melroy, David Wallace, Neil Timberlin.

The Day Student Team-winners in the intramural game on Friday night.

Brains vs. Brawn— Prof's Amaze All-Stars

By Neil Timberlin

Perhaps Prof's don't lead as sedentary life as we shavetails are prone to suspect. Our all-stars had to live up to their name to rate the official tally of 48-33 in their favor.

The faculty showed great possibilities, both fore and aft. Though handicapped as a team by lack of teamwork, the solo maneuvers were out of this world. "DD" Donmoyer thoroughly confused the opposition with his treacherous sleight-of-hand. "Mauler" Mease combined forces with "Sugar Roge" to give 26 points to the team and a wonderful demonstration of cross-field blocking to the crowd. Though out-weighted, "Snarling Carl" held his own. "Nuclear Fission" Neidig, "Shotgun" Shay, "Marvelous Marve" Wolfgang really showed 'em how to get off and on that ol' bench. As for "GAR" Richie, what is there to say? He passed under fire.

The all-stars played a fast passing game, successfully designed to unbalance faculty defense. Nick Bova was high man with 10 points, and Norm Lukens and Dick Salamandra tied for second with eight apiece.

On the whole it made for a thoroughly enjoyable evening. I speak for most of the crowd in saying that I'm mighty glad it wasn't me tangling with that educated mass of muscle.

Everything Musical
LOSER'S MUSIC STORE
605 Cumberland Street
Lebanon, Pa.

Intramural Statistics

The Day Student League Champions copped the Intramural Championship of LVC by nipping the Dorm League Winners 47-45 in the preliminary to the Faculty-All Stars game on Friday night.

Lineups:

DAY STUDENTS (45)				DORM STUDENTS (45)
	f.g.	f.	t.p.		f.g.	f.	t.p.
Tarantolo .....	5	1	11	Quinn .....	4	1	9
Heberling .....	4	2	10	Palmer .....	4	2	10
Frazer .....	2	1	5	Makris .....	2	4	8
Wise .....	2	2	6	Shonosky .....	1	4	6
Sawyer .....	2	2	6	Cardone .....	4	0	8
Shaak .....	3	2	8	Hoak .....	1	2	4
Walters .....	0	1	1	Buffamoyer .....	0	0	0
McNamara .....	0	0	0	Graham .....	0	0	0
	18	11	47		16	13	45

Mease in the middle . . .

Baseball Returns to LVC Sportlight Once Again

The Lebanon Valley College baseball squad has two opponents staring it in the face before the first 1950 contest opens with Juniata at Huntingdon on April 15. They are weather and time. Baseball Coach Ralph Mease said on Monday that those two elements would be the deciding factors in the schedule of practices before the diamond season begins.

As yet practice has been called for the pitchers and catchers only and these have been just slight workouts held daily in the college gym since Monday afternoon. Mease stated that the entire team would begin work as soon as old man weather permits them to take to the field.

As far as the team itself is concerned, versatile Fred Fore will be back on the mound for the Flying Dutchmen again and undoubtedly will come in for his share of the Valley victories. Fred was the outstanding pitcher last year and Mease expects to call on him many times during the coming pitch-and-hit tussles. The other returning hurler is Larry Kinsella, who, if he gains better control over his wicked fast ball, will be an efficient hurler.

Behind the plate for his fourth consecutive season will be the sterling and exceptionally capable Henry "Hank" DiJohnson who not only proves his worth as an excellent catcher but also as a power-laden hitter.

The Blue and White will miss Bobby Hess, last year's sensational short-stop, who was lost to the infield by graduation. Coach Mease will also have to find a replacement for first or third depending upon which "Chuck" Zimmerman will be called on to play this year. Neal Woll, however, will be back at second base.

In the outfield, at the left field position, Shorty Fields is counted on to return, along with Floyd Becker last season's center fielder. Others who saw action in the outfield last year and who are expected to return are Fred Sample, Dale Shellenberger, and Sherdell Snyder, all of whom are expected to see a great deal of action during the forthcoming campaign.

Freshman and other classmen who did not play last year will be reporting for practice eventually and some are expected to do well due to promising reports of their showings in high school and elsewhere.

Dutchgirls Topple E-town by 37-31

With two games in the past week the Flying Dutchgirls have continued to keep their season on an even keel with five wins and five losses to their credit. Under the supervision of Mrs. Ernestine Smith, the girls have compiled the best basketball record in several years.

E-town was the scene of an L.V. triumph on Thursday, March 9, when the Dutchgirls overcame the strong Blue and Grey six by a 37-31 score. This was without doubt the finest performance of the season on the part of the Smith lassies. E-town opened the scoring; L.V. took over and remained in the lead for the entire game. "Hutch" was high scorer for the Dutchgirls with 18 points.

On Saturday, March 11, the girls traveled to Chambersburg to meet an undefeated Penn Hall squad. The Blue-and-White was leading at the end of the first period but failed to retain that hold. A rough and hard fought game resulted in the fifth L.V. loss—a 26-23 heartbreaker. Dotty Witmer lead the Valley scorers with 10 points.

Those who see considerable action in the Varsity games include Betty Edelman, Helen MacFarland, Jeanne Hutchinson, and Dotty Witmer as forwards and Betts Slifer, Libby Rogger, Joyce Hammock, and Margaret Anders as guards.

Thursday night, March 16, marks the end of the season when the Dutchgirls entertain the Albright team. The games begin at 7:00 P.M.

Visit . . .

"Hot Dog" FRANK
"Nothing But the Best"

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 18

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, March 23, 1950

RICKER NAMED COACH

Warren W. Gockley Named Assistant

Warren W. Gockley, head football, basketball, and track coach at Springfield, Montgomery County, High School for the past twelve years, has been named assistant football coach at Lebanon Valley College, it was announced Tuesday by Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, College President.

Gockley will also become head track coach and Assistant Professor of Physical Education at Lebanon Valley.

At Springfield, located outside Chestnut Hill in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Gockley-coached football teams have won 85 per cent of their games. Since 1942 he has compiled an excellent records of 58 wins, 9 defeats, and 2 ties.

A graduate of Ephrata High School, Gockley received his B.S. degree from Millersville State Teachers College. He did additional work at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass., and is working on his M.S. in Physical Education at the University of Pennsylvania.

He began his coaching career at Perkiomen Prep School and later went to Springfield where he has been since 1937.

Married to the former Elizabeth Strahley of Philadelphia, he is the father of two children, David, 10, and Joan 5.

Gockley will be assistant coach under Ricker along with Dick Fox who has been assistant to Andy Kerr for the past three seasons.

Ex-Dickinson Grid Master Now LV Boss

Ralph "Dutch" Ricker, head football coach at Dickinson College for the past four seasons, has been named head football coach at Lebanon Valley College, it was announced Saturday by Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, College President.

Ricker replaces Andy Kerr who tutored the Flying Dutchmen for the past three years. Kerr resigned last month to accept the position as business manager of the Annual East-West Shrine Game which is played each New Year's Day in San Francisco.

Head coach at Dickinson for the past four seasons, Ricker has behind him 20 years of successful coaching and teaching experience. At Dickinson he compiled a record of 18 wins, 10 losses, and 3 ties.

A native of Carlisle and a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College where he earned the A.B. and M.A. degrees in history, Ricker formerly has coached at Lock Haven High School, Abington Township High School, and West Chester State Teachers College.

Ricker, who served as Associate Professor of Political Science at Dickinson as well as head football mentor, joins the Lebanon Valley College faculty as Assistant Professor in history, in addition to his coaching duties. He has completed additional graduate work on the Ph.D. degree in history at Penn State.

The Rickers have two daughters, Virginia, 10, and Heather, 3. Mrs. Ricker is the former Virginia Dale of State College, Penna.

Remember . . .

The Wig and Buckle Play
"THE HASTY HEART"
Friday and Saturday Night in Engle Hall
Show begins at 8:15

Dinner Party For Library Assistants

Miss Helen E. Myers, head librarian at Lebanon Valley College, is giving a dinner party for her senior library assistants and guests at her home, 120 College Avenue, Annville, Saturday, March 25. Those attending are: Mr. and Mrs. Davey, Janet Fppley, Norman Bucher, Barbara Christianson, and Dave Wallace.

"The Hasty Heart" Ready For W. and B. Performance

The Wig and Buckle Club, the campus dramatic organization, will present their annual spring production this Friday and Saturday evening, March 24 and 25, in Engle Hall when the cast of nine perform John Patrick's famous Broadway hit, "The Hasty Heart."

The human, moving, and laugh-provoking story is under the direction of Dr. George G. Struble, Head of the English Department, with Theodore Keller, Instructor of English, as his assistant. The plot revolves around eight men and a nurse in a British Military Hospital in Burma, and deals with the psychological effect of impending death on a stubborn young Scotsman who has just discovered friendship and love for the first time. An interesting subplot is provided by the agile question of why the Scotsman is wearing his kilts. The action is set off by this interesting situation provides entertainment at its top quality.

The characters who represent nationalities include the following students: George DeLong, Joyce Carpenter, Milton Baker, Lyle Schwalm, Donald Kreider, John Krieg, John Heck, George Haines, Charles Kagey.

Permission has been obtained from the Dramatists Place Service, New York City, to produce the play and costumes have been secured through Brooks, N.Y. The play will begin at 8:15 P.M. and reserved seats, general admission, and student tickets will be on sale at the door.

A scene from the Wig and Buckle play, "The Hasty Heart."

ICG Conference April 13-16 27 LVC Students Attending

The annual Intercollegiate Conference on Government, which follows the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention program outline, will convene in Harrisburg on April 13 to 16 inclusive.

Heading the list of Lebanon Valley College delegates will be Alex Fehr who will serve as State Chairman for the Civil Service Committee. Mr. Fehr is a senior in the college and is representing Lebanon Valley for the fourth consecutive year. The student delegation chairman is Raymond Kline. The other delegates include Robert Moller, president of the Political Science Club, Guy Euston, J. C. Smith, Clyde Bayer, Earl Redding, Phil Hayes, Gail Plantz, Ray Zimmerman, Evelyn Toser, Dave Bomgardner, Ronald Wolf, Dave Wallace, Robert Glock, Charles Reed, Bob Eigenbrode, John Nilan, Jeanne Bozarth, Dorothy Dando, Jim Davis, Paul Kauffman, Jim Murray, Herbert Rowe, Jay Flocken, Gerald Miller and James Quick.

The LVC delegation will back the candidacy of Richard Evans of Dickinson for Speaker of the Convention. The program will be held in the State Educational Building in Harrisburg.

Senior Snapshot

By Betty Bakely

The senior personality for this week is that dignified and distinguished-looking man-about-campus, Alex Fehr.

Looking as if he has just stepped out of a White House conference, briefcase and all, this poised, friendly, well-groomed, and obviously well-informed personage is a worthy addition to the roster of Lebanon Valley personalities.

A political science major, Al has been active for many years in the Political Science Club. Last year he was LV's nominee for the Speaker of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government held in Harrisburg. The high importance of this honor speaks for itself.

In connection with his Political Science Club activities Al wrote a weekly column in La Vie on timely local and national problems. The subjects which he discussed in his column, entitled Fehr Enough, covered a broad variety of topics. They showed an interesting and informative flair in both content and treatment.

Perhaps the fact that Al is a family man has had a stabilizing effect on his career. At any rate his achievements have been praiseworthy and notable.

As for his plans concerning the future, Al has his sights set on a position as history professor. Perhaps he will devote, also more study on the problems of management and labor which interest him. Whatever the field of endeavor the Valley wishes him clear sailing and "Fehr" weather.

Great Books

The Annville Library will sponsor another Great Books Discussion on Wednesday, March 29, at 4 P.M. in the town library. Reviews will be given by Lebanon Valley's Professor Ehrhart on Aeschylus' Prometheus Bound and the Book of Job from the Old Testament. The subject to be discussed is the problem of evil. The people of Annville and all students of the College are cordially invited to attend and to remain for refreshments which will be served following the meeting.

Six LVC Faculty Members Attend E.C.

The University of Scranton was host to delegates attending an Educational Conference last Saturday afternoon, March 18, 1950. The theme of the conference was "General Education" and the principal speaker, Dr. Earl J. McGrath, United States Commissioner of Education, spoke to the delegates on "Science in General Education." Dean A. H. M. Stonecipher, Professors George G. Struble, Howard A. Neidig, Ralph S. Shay, and Gilbert McKlveen are those who attended from Lebanon Valley.

Campus Chatter . . .

Spring is here! You can tell by those "Keep Off the Grass" signs which seem to have sprung up overnight. And to give us all "something" to do, our profs keep throwing those so called "quizes" at us from all directions. So put away those hiking shoes and those "ideas" and "hit the books!" (Just whom are we trying to kid?)

Seems the weather is not warm enough for a certain group in the Men's Dorm who had their own little fire in their room—those poor Day Students suffering from that new rule—roller-skating becoming one of the newest fads among the Valley-ites (Hank DiJohnson can even jitterbug on skates)—Joannie Orlando and Jim Geiselheart a new steady—also see a lot of Betty Miller and George Rutledge—"Fuzzy" dating Peg Rook again—Ruth Ann Brown's man visiting about campus—Barret Oxley and Nick Bova sporting new "crew-cuts" (afraid of getting bald, Nick?)—television in the Rec Hall going over in a big way—the "Canasta Crew" from South Hall even going to Jonestown for a game—those sharp-looking pins belong to proud Delphian members—Congrats to Al Murawski: for making Moravian's All-Opponent team—Al by the way, scored 49 points in a Gold Medal Tourney basketball contest last week—that's right, 49 points!—Question of the week: In which position will we find the faculty table in the dining room next week?

Nominations Made For Men's Senate

Nominations for next year's Men's Senate were held Tuesday, March 14th in the Y-room. Nineteen men were nominated by their fellow students in the meeting conducted by Senate President John Charles Smith.

Four members of this year's Senate, Bob Geyer, Norm Lukens, Bill Miller, and Fred Sample, were nominated for future balloting. The remainder of the group will run for election to the Senate according to their class standing.

Five juniors, three sophomores, and one freshman are to be selected. The following were nominated:

Juniors: Bob Geyer, Norm Lukens, Dick Koller, Jack Hoak, Bill Miller, Earl Redding, Bob Feaster, Guy Euston, Martin Trostle.

Sophomores: Dale Shellenberger, Fred Sample, Ed Tesnar, Sherdell Snyder, Dick Stewart, Harry Cooper.

Freshmen: Bill Jones, Dan McGary, Don Kreider, and Chuck Maston.

Society Briefs

The society pins ordered by Delphian Society arrived this week. They are attractive gold triangles with the society's Greek letters on a small black onyx in the center. They were purchased with or without pearls or guard.

The activities of the Society are at a standstill now after their successful Kalo-Delphian weekend, but plans are still going forward for more activities in the future.

The two societies request that all outstanding bills from the week-end be paid into the Kalo treasury so that the business concerned with the week-end can be cleared up and a correct estimate of the returns be made

Charles Kiscadden has asked the editors of LA VIE to express his sincere appreciation for the help rendered him by the student body.

Nominations Made For Jiggerboard

On Thursday night, March 16, 1950, nominations for next year's Jiggerboard representatives were voted for at hall meetings in the individual dorms. Those nominated with reference to their class standing include the following:

Seniors: Margaret Bower; Joyce Carpenter; Florence Dunkelberger; Sara Anne Etzweiler, Helen MacFarland, Joan Mattern, Barbara Metzger, Lois Shetler, Jean Lesser, Ruth Withers.

Juniors: Lois Adams, Nancy Myers, Joan Orlando, Dotty Witmer.

Sophomores: Phylliss Barnhart, Thelma McKinstry.

Those girls from the above list who are now serving on Jiggerboard are Helen MacFarland, Barbara Metzger, Nancy Myers, and Phylliss Barnhart.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 18

March 23, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors ..... Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
Assistant Editor ..... Marianne Shenk
Sports Editor ..... Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor ..... Robert Rhein
Photographers ..... Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers ..... G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager ..... Victor Alsberge
Business Adviser ..... A. P. Orth
Circulation Manager ..... Phil Hayes
Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Audrey Geidt, Kermit Keihner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Martin Melroy, David Wallace, Neil Timberlin.

Who's Who ... in the Conserv

Vibrant red hair, an engaging personality, plus scads of vitality and an unquenchable interest in anything Valley—that's "Tommie."

Dotty Thomas, who names Camp Hill as her home stamping grounds, is a Conservite and one of the best, both in her musical ability and her all-around friendly personality and popularity.

In the Camp Hill High School Tommie was the soloist with the school dance band. Here in the Lebanon Valley Conservatory she is in the band and the Glee Club, and has been Professor Stachow's assistant for two years.

This peppy little red-head has been one of the most spirited cheerleaders for four years and this year was voted co-captain. She is a faithful member of Delphian and worked on the Y-Cabinet. Tom has been hall president of South Hall for two years and in this capacity a member of Jiggerboard. To this imposing list of activities has been added this year the job of co-editorship of La Vie on which she has served for several years, first as Conserv editor and then as associate.

Tom deserves much praise not only for her many and varied interests in which she has always done the best job possible, but for her loyalty and efforts for her college. But what counts even more is the unfailing good humor and friendliness that is her trademark.

Concerning her future—well, it seems to be all tied up at the moment. Here's luck to a cute co-ed whatever the future may hold.

Conserv Notes . . .

By Bob Rhein

The Iris Club of Wyomissing, Pa., will feature Lebanon Valley conservites at its annual music program this Saturday, March 25. The program will be opened and closed by William Fairlamb, piano professor on the Lebanon Valley faculty. Annette Reed, soprano, will sing two groups of songs; Mr. Fairlamb will be her accompanist. Several violin selections will be presented by Robert Fisher, violin, Bruce Wiser, French horn, and William Fairlamb, will perform the Brahms Trio, Opus 40.

On March 28, there will be a campus recital, the participants to be announced at a later date.

The following article appeared in the Morning Call, of Allentown, on Friday, March 17, 1950, concerning the program presented in Allentown by several Conserv artists:

"The Cosmopolitan Club heralded the approach of a new season . . . by presenting four musicians from the Conservatory of Music of Lebanon Valley College . . . A very large audience of members and guests warmly received the young artists, all from Pennsylvania towns . . .

"For an hour these extremely talented young people held the rapt attention of their audience which thrilled to their musicianship, fine stage presence, and superb performance. Mr. (George) Ritner displayed his beautiful tenor voice with its sweet singing tone to excellent advantage in a group of art songs . . . and an aria from 'Andrea Chenier' . . . His diction was flawless . . .

"Miss (Mary Elizabeth) Funck, piano student of Margaret Baxtresser, local concert pianist and faculty member at Lebanon Valley College who was here for the recital, demonstrated her splendid pianistic ability in Bach, D'Albert, Chopin, Brahms, Liszt, and Katchaturian compositions.

"Playing a Stradivarius violin through the courtesy of Dr. Donald Hall of Northampton, Mr. (Robert) Fisher beautifully interpreted works of Wienawski, Hubay, Kramer, White and Valdez.

"The accompanist for the singer and violinist, Mr. (Pierce) Getz shared in the plaudits of the audience. He was the perfect accompanist, sublimating his own artistry to that of the artists."

Conservatory Pianist In Solo Appearance

Margaret Barthel (Baxtresser), Lebanon Valley College's brilliant young Professor of Piano, will present her second piano recital this year in the Engle Hall Conservatory of Music, Monday, March 27, at 8:15 P.M. The public is cordially invited to attend and there is no charge for admission.

Miss Barthel started playing the piano at the age of three. At five, she began serious study and has continued her studies without cessation since then. Most of her childhood was spent in Detroit, where she made her first appearance.

Although she had appeared in concerts from the time she was eight years old, her first major performance was with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra when she was thirteen. She played the Schumann Concerto with, to quote the critics, "complete aplomb and authority . . . and displayed the prowess and poise of a full-grown artist." Another event was her appearance a year later, as the assisting artist in a concert with the world-famous Tito Schipa.

Miss Barthel attended Wayne University, Detroit, where she was elected the most outstanding Music Major in her senior year. She studied with the late Olga Samaroff Stokowski and won the Olga Samaroff Scholarship for two full years. She studied also at the Juilliard School of Music in New York and at the Philadelphia Conservatory, and she is now studying with Charles de Bodo, eminent musician of the United States and Hungary. After her appearance in Carnegie Hall, September, 1946, in which she won a most enthusiastic response, she came to Lebanon Valley College as Professor of Piano. Since that time she has appeared in many recitals and orchestral appearances on the east and in the mid-west. The critics are agreed that here indeed is an American-born, American-trained artist who ranks as one of the outstanding women pianists of today, and her admirers at Lebanon Valley College,

Pi Gamma Mu Group Hears Prof. Ehrhart

An address by Prof. Carl Y. Ehrhart, Head of the Philosophy Department of Lebanon Valley College, on the timely subject "Religion in the World Today—Is Its Influence Waning?" was the feature of the March meeting of the college chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society, held at the home of President Dave Wallace, March 16.

During the brief business meeting plans were announced for the annual banquet to be held May 1st at the Green Terrace.

In his searching analysis of modern religion, Prof. Ehrhart discussed the factors which tended to diminish the vitality of religion and concluded his address with several favorable aspects of the problem. Prof. Ehrhart saw the waning influence of religion expressed in the increase of secularism and materialism in our modern attitudes. He further criticized organized religion for its failure to keep pace with the times intellectually, socially, ethically, and spiritually. On the bright side Prof. Ehrhart regarded as healthy symptoms the steady increases in church membership, in Sunday School and missionary activities, in the activities of laymen, in the social and economic activities of various church groups, and in the unity expressed by the World Council of Churches.

At the conclusion of his address, Prof. Ehrhart discussed numerous questions directed at him by an attentive audience. Refreshments were served by Mrs. P. W. Wallace, Prof. Florence Houtz, and Vivian Werner.

and all local music lovers, support this view wholeheartedly.

The young Lebanon Valley College pianist was the soloist of the Lehigh Valley Symphony Orchestra last fall in the presentation of the Grieg Concerto and appeared in concerts in Allentown, Bethlehem and Easton.

F & M, Mules, and PMC Scheduled; Drop Gettysburg, Lincoln, and Upsala

Ralph R. Mease, Director of Athletics, announced an eight game football schedule for the 1950 gridiron season which will open with the Flying Dutchmen facing Franklin & Marshall College in the Annual Chocolate Bowl game at Hershey on Saturday evening, September 23. Newcomers to the schedule besides Franklin & Marshall are Muhlenberg College who will be met at Allentown on Saturday afternoon, October 7, and Pennsylvania Military College who will travel here on Saturday, November 4. Homecoming day will be held Saturday October 28 with LVC's arch rival, Albright College, furnishing the opposition. Being dropped from the schedule are Gettysburg College, who defeated the Blue and White in the Chocolate Bowl opener last season; Lincoln University, who the Dutchmen swamped 49-0; and Upsala College who was handed a 22-7 lacing in last year's finale. There is an open date listed for October 14 and Mr. Mease stated that there is a possibility that this might be filled. Here is the schedule:

Saturday, Sept. 23—Franklin & Marshall College	.....	*Away, Hershey, Pa.
Saturday, Sept. 30—Mt. St. Mary's College	.....	Home
Saturday, Oct. 7—Muhlenberg College	.....	Away, Allentown, Pa.
Saturday, Oct. 14—Open Date	.....
Saturday, Oct. 21—Moravian College	.....	Away, Bethlehem, Pa.
Saturday, Oct. 28—Albright College	.....	Home
Saturday, Nov. 4—Pennsylvania Military College	.....	Home
Saturday, Nov. 11—Western Maryland College	.....	Away, Westminster, Md.
Saturday, Nov. 18—Scranton University	.....	Home

*Night Game.

VIEWS FROM THE ALLEY

By Bill Fisher

THE BEST PLAYER EVER LEFT OFF AN ALL-STATE TEAM

That's the unwanted title of Floyd Becker—easily the best basketball player in Central Pennsylvania and among the top ten in the entire state. Who says so? We do—and will prove it!

The Associated Press picked an all-State team last week. They selected 10 on the first team, 10 on the second team, and 32 for honorable mention, 52 players in all, and Becker wasn't even listed.

That's why we're doing this column. This isn't Lebanon Valley bologna, but a legitimate gripe against the recent AP poll.

These polls are getting to be downright dumbfounding. We are hardly qualified to select all the best basketball players in Pennsylvania, but we can compare the performances of the All-State players we have witnessed in action. And it is on that basis we shall show that Becker belongs on the All-State team.

* * * * *

First off though, we would like to know just how that team was picked. The AP says it is selected "in a statewide poll of coaches, sports writers and radio reporters."

LV's coach never received a ballot. In the past the publicity department received a ballot, but not this time.

The ballots we used to get were for the first team selections only. We assume that is how they voted this year. If so, who picks the remaining players? Surely 52 guys weren't selected on various first team ballots and then placed according to the number of first team votes they received. Where would Holmes Ulsh of Juniata and Jack Leighton of Scranton get first team votes?

As an added twist, figure this one if you can. Becker made an honorable mention for the past two years. He had his greatest season this year, and they missed him. How come?

Probably the best way to second-guess this AP team is to compare the performances of our choice, Becker, against opposing players who made the team.

Six players who played against us this season made the squad: Bucky Harris, Gettysburg, first team; Ed Anlian, Albright, second team. Honorable mention went to Jack Leighton, Scranton; Holmes Ulsh, Juniata; Bill Werpehoski, Moravian; and Chips Margavage of P.M.C. Of Margavage we know little and saw less; therefore do not feel qualified to judge his ability.

* * * * *

We had a short session with Coach Mease soon after the AP announced their team, and, like the rest of us, Ralph was displeased that Becker didn't make All-State. He felt that Floyd had the all-around ability to qualify.

"What do you look for in a basketball player?" we asked Ralph.

He responded with the following four points, not necessarily in this order of importance.

(1) Can he shoot? (2) Can he rebound? (3) Can he guard? (4) Can he handle a ball?

So, I decided to compare Becker on these four points against five of our opponents who made the All-State listings.

(1) Shooting. All six can shoot. Anlian averaged 19.4, Werpehoski about 19.3, Becker 17.6, Ulsh 17.5, Leighton about 16, and Harris 13.4.

But how many of them were consistent? Anlian wasn't through the first half of the season when he was hitting about 11 a game. Werpehoski wasn't. In fact, he didn't start against us at Moravian "because he hasn't been doing so good lately."

Ulsh wasn't. Up to the final game of the season he didn't average 13 a game. Leighton wasn't. He sat out most of the LV game in Lebanon and ended the evening with 7 points. Harris wasn't. He was under 10 points a game several times and ended up with a mediocre 13.4 average—not All-State caliber, especially not the first team.

Ah, but Becker. Floyd averaged 16.5 or over from the very first game. Only once did he score under 10 points and that was against G-burg when he fouled out after a minute of the final period. He ended the season with a 17.6 average.

Here's how Becker did in scoring against each player. Harris outscored him 18-8. He outscored Anlian 34-29 in 2 games. Ulsh topped him 45-27 in 2 games. He tied Werpehoski 39-39 in 2 games. He outscored Leighton 40-27 in 2 games.

(2) Rebound. Harris did okay in this department. The remaining five, Becker included, were of little good under the board.

(3) Defense. Harris, not bad. Anlian poor. Ditto Leighton, Werpehoski, and Ulsh.

But Becker? He is also a good defensive player. He usually drew the number two man and more often than not did a good job on him. Beck held Harris, who had 2 inches on him, to 8 points until he switched men late in the third period of the G-burg game.

(4) Ball-handler. Harris, nothing exceptional. Anlian poor. Again ditto Leighton, Werpehoski, and Ulsh.

But Becker? Without a peer—anywhere in the state! He can pass and fake and dribble and operate a freeze. He can do everything with a ball but make it sing a song. When it comes to ball-hadling the other five players aren't even in Becker's class. Strictly no contest.

Dutchgirls Close Season; Hutchinson Tallies 212

Another season of girls' basketball is now past history for the Flying Dutchgirls. Having the decided disadvantage of having only four home games, the Dutchgirls, nevertheless accounted for an average season with five wins and six losses to their credit. Under the supervision of coach "Jackie" Smith, the Blue and White lassies turned in the best record that has been compiled for several years.

The first contest took place at Moravian College for Women on January 14. The season ended on Thursday, March 16, when the Albright team handed the local gals their sixth defeat. A summary of the season includes the following scores:

	L.V.	Opp.
Moravian .....	65	33
Elizabethtown .....	42	60
Millersville .....	46	16
Gettysburg .....	38	54
Shippensburg .....	28	40
Millersville .....	65	23
Shippensburg .....	20	45
Susquehanna .....	48	27
Elizabethtown .....	37	31
Penn Hall .....	23	26
Albright .....	59	63

Coach Smith began the season with only four girls who had seen action in the varsity games last year. With the addition of a few sophomores and one lone freshman she built up a strong squad which has good possibilities for next year.

Captain Betts Slifer is the only senior on the squad. Betts is a veteran of four years of varsity basketball and hockey at the Valley. She hails from Spring City, Pa. In addition to playing basketball this year, Betts has acted as referee for the intramural league.

Heleen MacFarland, whom everyone knows as "Mac," is one of the three forwards remaining from last year. Our versatile blonde of Glenside, Pa., is well known for her performance on the hockey field and as a member of the waiter staff. Now she adds to her activities by completing another season as a high-flyin' Dutchgirl.

Betty Edelman—she of the red coat—is another veteran forward who has seen considerable action on the basketball floor since her arrival from Robeson where she is remembered for her long shots. Speaking of long shots, Betty can be seen almost any afternoon in the gym where she proves to any doubters that she has earned her nickname of "Hot Shot."

Jeanne "Hutch" Hutchinson of Jacobstown, New Jersey, saw limited action last year but emerged as high scorer in the final count of the 1950 season. In fact, she was high scorer in every game except one. Only a sophomore, "Hutch" has two more years to assist the Dutchgirls toward a victorious season.

"Libby" Roper hails from Delaware and is another of those active sophomores. In addition to her capable execution of the position of right guard, "Libby" is noted for her imitation of an ape. She also lends her talents to the hockey team where she fills the right halfback slot.

Dotty Witmer, our blonde from Progress, climbed from her position on the J.V.'s of last year to find her place among the high scorers on this year's squad. Her unique shooting talent has pulled the Dutchgirls through many a tight spot.

Dolores Zarker, with Dotty thrilled the crowds in the Susquehanna Township High School games a couple of years ago, rounds out the list of the varsity forwards. Her performances at the Millersville game is especially remembered.

A sister duo comes to the fore in the guard section in the persons of Margie Anders and Elaine Fake. Marge is the only married member of the squad; she plays her hardest at all times, but especially when her husband is in the audience. Elaine's hearty laugh helped to add to the good feeling among the teammates. Both girls originally hail from Ephrata.

"Willie" Stambach of York completes the list of Sophomore guards who saw varsity action. Her number 3 will still be seen on the court for two more years.

Last, but not least, our Rebel from 'way down in Front Royal, Virginia—Joyce Hammock. Joyce is the only Freshman on the varsity; she played starting line-up left guard. With Betts and Libby, she played a mixed defense of zone, man-to-man, man-to-man zone, and what have you. Our versatile Joyce is also a pianist of note.

Individual scoring records were: Hutchinson, 212; MacFarland, 99; Edelman, 74; Witmer, 71; Zarker, 10; and Begg, 5.

Enough for the varsity. Too long have the deeds of the J.V.'s gone unsung. These girls came to just as many practices and worked just as hard as the girls who have been getting the headlines. The little Dutchgirls have accumulated a very impressive record losing only one game all season. Their scores are:

	L.V.	Opp.
Elizabethtown .....	48	43
Millersville .....	33	22
Gettysburg .....	45	38
Shippensburg .....	44	43
Millersville .....	46	27
Shippensburg .....	20	23
Susquehanna .....	24	8
Elizabethtown .....	23	15
Albright .....	52	48

So you see AP! It just doesn't make sense. Lebanon Valley's Floyd Becker, among the ten best basketball players in Pennsylvania, doesn't even rate in your 52 All-State selections.

Becker can shoot, he can guard, he can handle a ball. He possesses more all-around basketball ability than any of our opponents who made All-State. Becker belonged on that first team. How did you ever overlook him?

On the basis of your most recent injustice we would suggest you either revise your poll-taking or else junk the whole silly system.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 18

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, April 20, 1950

A scene from the Philo-Clio production, "Hay Fever."

Philo-Clio Presents Coward Production "Hay Fever"

Spring is here! And so is "Hay Fever." Not the disease, of course, but Noel Coward's infectious comedy of manners, or rather bad manners. This delightful play, the season's last dramatic attraction in Engle Hall, will go on the boards at 8:15 P.M., Friday, April 21, under the joint sponsorship of Clonian Literary Society and Phi Lambda Sigma.

"Hay Fever" is the sprightly story of a maddening family of posers, who present a united front against the world of conventions and fight among themselves like the cats of Kilkenny. The head of the Bliss clan is Judith (Audrey Geidt), a combination of Tallulah Bankhead and Mae West, lately returned from the stage to recuperate in the country awaiting a popular demand for her return to the theatre. Struggling for a place in the sun with her is her author-husband David (Bob Haines), her artist-son (Bernie Goldsmith), and her beautiful daughter, Sorel (Fay Hall), and her former dresser, Clara (Mary Lou Keutz).

While the public thoughtlessly fails to demand Judith's return in "Love's Whirlwind," she learns the names of the flowers and invites athletic young men down to stave off old age. This particular weekend, however, proves different, for each of the family, unbeknown to the others, invites a guest down.

The guests—Myra Arundel (Gloria Dressler) a socialite; Jackie Compton (Lois Adams), a dumb Blonde; Richard Greatham, (William Sheaver), a diplomatist; and Sandy Tywell, a

(Continued on Page 3)

Margaret Baxtresser Given Naumberg Award for Piano; New York Town Hall Debut

Margaret Barthel Baxtresser, talented young professor of piano at Lebanon Valley, has been awarded the Walter W. Naumberg Foundation Award for piano.

She was one of the 140 applicants entered in the competition, including piano, voice, violin, and other musical instruments. Two violinists and one vocalist also received awards.

The brilliant musicianship, facile fingers, and technical training of the gifted pianist have entitled her, in addition to the award, to a debut recital in New York's Town Hall, with all expenses paid by the Naumberg Foundation.

The judges were headed by Isadore Phillips, internationally famous pianist and pedagogue, and Zino Francescotti, eminent violinist. Mr. Naumberg heard the finals, and when the judges announced the awards, he stated that this year the contestants were of the highest level of any year, and that in other years the losers this year would have been winners.

Mrs. Baxtresser attended Wayne University, Detroit, where she was elected the most outstanding music major in her senior class. She studied with the late Olga Samaroff Stokowski and won the Olga Samaroff Scholarship for two full years. She studied also at Julliard School of Music in New York and at the Philadelphia Conservatory, and she is now studying with Charles de Bodo, eminent musician of the United States and Hungary.

Mrs. Baxtresser revealed that her Town Hall debut recital will be held in New York in the late fall or early winter.

Psych Club Will Hear Dr. Arnold

Dr. Magda B. Arnold of Bryn Mawr College will present a lecture entitled "The Arnold Theory of Emotions and Its Practical Application to Everyday Life" on May 3, 1950 at 8 P.M. Dr. Arnold is being brought to the L.V. Campus by the Psychology Club on behalf of the Student body.

The members of the host club feel that they are very fortunate in gaining Dr. Arnold as a guest speaker and are welcoming members of the student body to take advantage of the opportunity to hear her.

The meeting will be held in Delphian Hall and following the speaker light refreshments will be served by the social committee. There will be no charge for admission.

ICG Held at Harrisburg Kline, Fehr, Moller Head Important Committees

On Thursday, April 13, 1950, the Political Science Club convoyed twenty-seven of the school's finest (in the political field) to the Intercollegiate Conference on Government which was meeting in Harrisburg.

As part of a convention numbering 583 students from over sixty of the colleges of Pennsylvania, LVC's delegation set out filled with that same determination and vitality for which it has become so widely known throughout these parts in the past four years. With Ray Kline at the helm as delegation chairman, the group invaded the state capitol at 2:12 P.M. Thursday afternoon and kept their hands deep in convention activities until the last elements finally withdrew late Sunday afternoon.

To say that the Lebanon Valley College delegation did its share is an understatement. The group excelled collectively and individually. As a unit, its members entered work for the drafting of a new State Constitution, which was the purpose of the 1950 ICG. Most of these articles found their way to the plenary sessions in majority reports, and the remainder were contained in various minority reports. Spearheading the drive for LVC's legislation were John Nilan, Evelyn Toser, Ray Zimmerman, Paul Kaufman and Jim Murray, all of whom played heads up on the political ballfield to score their points.

But the group made its influence felt elsewhere, too. In the rugged campaign for Speaker of the Convention, the delegates moved in bloc form to support Dick Evans, regional favorite son from Dickinson College. It almost worked, too, as Evans led in the preferential balloting for three rounds before succumbing to Freund, his leading opponent on the final ballot. Members of the local delegation were instrumental in the convention "politicking" that saw Evans lose by a scant five votes on the fourth ballot.

But to stress the collective aptitude of the delegates is not enough. In the field of individual accomplishment, LVC's representatives also proved themselves. Al Fehr chaired the State Civil Service Committee to conclude four years of distinguished work. Robert Moller was selected Registrar for the entire convention, and with the untiring and efficient assistance of his aides, Dave Wallace and Jay Flocken, brought to Lebanon Valley College

(Continued on Page 3)

DOROTHY THOMAS, CO-EDITOR OF THE LA VIE, IS IN THE HARRISBURG GENERAL HOSPITAL RECOVERING FROM A SERIOUS OPERATION. THE LA VIE STAFF JOINS THE WHOLE COLLEGE IN WISHING TOMMY A SPEEDY RECOVERY. ANYONE DESIRING TO SEND A CARD COULD REACH HER AT THE ABOVE ADDRESS.

Is It Smart to Be Smart?

By George Struble, Professor of English

A stock character frequently satirized in early drama was the pedant, a man who was ridiculous because, though ever so learned, he had no grasp of practical matters, no acquaintance, at least to judge by his conversation, with the business of every-day living. His conversation was ornate Latin phrases, allusions to long-dead authors, and scraps of useless information drawn from the accumulated rubbish of the ages:

Taffeta phrases, silken terms precise,

Three-plied hyperboles, spruce affectation . . .

Holofernes, in Shakespeare's Love's Labour's Lost, (from which these lines are quoted), was only one of a long line of such pedants.

The pedant, however, has disappeared from contemporary literature, probably because he is less frequent in real life. The old-fashioned scholar, idealistic, absent-minded, has been replaced by a modern, streamlined man of affairs, who affects alertness, efficiency, and organizing ability. It is the fashion of the hour, and most of us welcome the change.

There is danger, however, that we may have gone to the other extreme. Modern college students seem to make an effort to avoid conversational topics that even remotely hint of the classroom or the textbook. Their bull-sessions repeat the well-practiced routine of women (or men), sports, new cars, and the latest movies. I do not criticize students for being concerned about these things. They have their importance. My complaint is that when one has named these topics, one has exhausted the list. There is so little variety. In vain will you listen, where students are gathered, for intelligent comment on existentialism, Shostakovich, the excavations under Saint Peter's, T. S. Eliot of the Kunkle-Duff feud. There are exceptions, of course, but to the average student, if one judges by conversation, music means, "Baby, It's Cold Outside," art means Dick Tracy or Ella Cinders, and contemporary affairs means the Gibbs case. Add a few items about business, local or Wall Street, and the same description would apply to the conversation of their elders.

The conversation of the pedant was ridiculous because the pedant, steeped in the lore of books, was almost totally oblivious of his own immediate environment; the conversation of the modern is flat because it draws almost not at all on the riches which only books can provide.

Spring; Irish; Coal and Midwives; 5c Stamp; Rats

By Jay Flocken

Spring is just around the corner again. This is seasonal proof of the cyclic nature of all things in this world. Even in the world of politics and international relations there is a pattern that a careful observer can follow. Not that there is a definite Winter in partisan politics—even though bipartisanship is icy—followed by a Spring when all party issues subside and Democrat and Republican support each other's pork barrels; but there are days throughout the world when the humorous side of life's stresses seems to outshine the threatening, cataclysmic shadow lurking ever near. It may be that those who read here are not fundamentally concerned with world affairs and current crises, do not read a daily newspaper, or are not Pol. Sci. majors. It is for you people that these heartening tidbits have been collected, because you are missing the lighter side of American politics, England's parliamentary dilemma, the floundering U.N., and possible Point IV areas.

On March 31, 1950, the House of Representatives passed the second E.R.P. appropriation. The point to be discussed is not how much that amount was, nor how wise it was. Make believe that you are an Englishman, and consequently the debates over appropriation will take on new significance. Pretend that in the dispatches from the other side of the Atlantic you read Ireland is being mentioned in the debate. Being a descendant from men whose blood ran in the streets over the Irish issue, your blood now runs alternately hot and cold. Imagine, if you can, the chagrin you feel as you realize that not only has a representative proposed an amendment that would hold up the British share of E.R.P. funds ($687,100,000) as long as London permitted the partition of Ireland, but that the amendment was adopted amid an ovation from the galleries! "Those bloomin' colonies . . . heathen ingrates." Anglo-American stocks fell 200 points Wednesday the 29th, and the elimination of the amendment on Friday the 31st by a vote of 226-60, assuring E.R.P. dollars to Britain and to H— with the Irish, has not reassured the Britons that U. S. politics have reburied an old, old bone—the Irish vote.

But just so you do not believe that we are Anglophiles, we have an English political counterpart that is even more ridiculous. These events also transpired on this Wednesday. Winston Churchill, greatest living autobiographer and leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition, took the opportunity Wednesday night to propose adjournment during a debate on the subject,

Campus Chatter . . .

Spring is here—finally—and with it the usual signs of budding romance. Evelyn Habecker flashing a sparkler on third finger, left hand. — Congrats to Dotty Thomas and Bob Haines on their engagement. — Jeep Jepson and Norm Lukens wearing that newly engaged look. — Jeep wearing a h-u-g-e diamond.

Leslie Mansley and Bob Hess being seen together often. — John Kreig and Gloria Gulliver seem to be a steady twosome. —

The ICG Convention moved a block of L.V. politicians to Harrisburg. — A good mixture of business and social activity. —

The W.A.A. dance Friday night offering something new in the way of entertainment with the "Stop-the-Music" program. — Photo-bug Ed Tesnar on hand as usual. — Good to see Ann and Joe dancing together again. — Jim Geiselhart becoming a rumba expert. — The decorations different but cute. —

The woman had two pussy willow trees in her back yard and used so many of their switches that she killed them—how? Ask Fred Brown. (It's a pun, kids!)

Indiana State Teachers College, Indiana, Pa., has found another admirer in LVC . . . namely, Jim Murray. —

Also, Miss Houtz, an unofficial delegate to the ICG at Harrisburg, is reported to have met an old college chum. —

"Tower" Scene of Philo-Clio Dance

The Tower, on top of the mountain in Reading, will be the scene of the Annual Anniversary Dinner and Dance of the Clonian Literary Society and Phi Lambda Sigma. Music will be provided by Don Trostle's orchestra. Anniversary President Barbara Christianson of Clio and Bob Harris of Philo will preside over the festivities, which will climax the joint weekend, highlighted Friday night by the presentation in Engle Hall of Noel Coward's famous comedy "Hay Fever."

Officers Elected By Psych Club

The election of officers for the 1950-51 term constituted the major business of the psychology club at its meeting on March 28. President Bob Eigenbrode was in charge of the election.

Officers elected were as follows: President, Miriam Keller; Vice President, Ray Zimmerman; Secretary-Treasurer, Peg Bower.

Other business concerned the visit of Dr. Magda Arnold to our campus on May 3, and plans for that meeting were made.

Plan On Attending JUNIOR PROM Zembo Mosque — May 6

"Does a ton of mined coal have more impurities since nationalization or not?" because the crafty old parliamentarian noticed that the Labor Party benches were rather empty. Liberal Party members supported the Tories and Winnie chiefted the first "defeat" of the government since its very shaky beginning in February with a mere 6 vote majority—the Commons adjourned. Nor was Labor's day of defeat ended. Within 24 hours the House of Lords, over Government objections, voted to support a proposal that midwives could wear a national uniform. Thus Mr. Churchill, to quote Labor circles, "had . . . beaten (the Labor Government) on two trivial issues . . . midwives' apparel and dirty coal." Chalk up another V for Victory for the Fat Man.

The U.N. is next in line for our Spring- tonic-piece. It seems the situation in that body created by the refusal of Soviet Russia to attend any meetings at which the Chinese Nationalist Government representatives are allowed to sit has driven U.N. peace-makers to desperate ends. The latest proposal for a common face-saving solution is that business be transacted entirely by mail. There is one ray of hope for the plan. The United States might actively support it if the U.N. agrees to use a special 5c stamp on all material usually cried in the mails for the 3c variety, with a corresponding increase on all heavier matter. Thus it is possible that with all the weighty material sure to pass through the mails concerned with U.N. problems and discussions, the United States Post Office may realize a profit for the first time in some years. C'mon, you economy-minded Senators, here is a constructive way to get some benefit from all this foreign entanglement.

So you see, unenlightened one, while the situation in world affairs remains strained, there are many items which, when viewed behind the scary headlines, help to balance our perspective and keep us at least moderately optimistic, reminding us that our world has changed somewhat in the last ten years, but that many things remain as they were.

For those of you who are so scientific as to question the relation between all this and "cyclic nature," here is our ace in the hole:

Hamelin, Germany, of Pied Piper fame, on this same Wednesday, March 29, announced that it is suffering from an extreme infiltration of—no, not Commies, but plain, ordinary rats. Point IV appropriations will consequently have to include the items: one piper, one pipe; destination—Hamelin, Germany.

Ah, me! Here we go again . . .

Mirtil in Arcadia Feature Of Joint Choral Program

The Lebanon Valley College Chorus combined with the Harrisburg Choral Society and a 90 voice Junior High Chorus from Edison Junior High School of Harrisburg will appear in a joint presentation of Henry Hadley's oratorio, "Mirtil in Arcadia," Tuesday evening April 25, at 8:30 P.M. in the Forum in Harrisburg. The College Symphony Orchestra will furnish the accompaniment for the chorus and four soloists imported from New York City. Rabbi Bookstaber will act as narrator for the musical work.

The entire production is under the direction of Prof. E. P. Rutledge. The soloists for the affair are Miss Nancy Trickey and Miss Alice Hendricks, sopranos, Charles Curtis, tenor, and Norman Farrow, bass.

Tickets are on sale in the Conservatory Office and may also be purchased from Conserv personnel. Prices are: Reserved $2.15, general $1.25, student $.65. All prices include tax.

Conserv Notes . . .

By Dorothy Cohen

April 11th marked the second appearance of the group of conservites consisting of Mary Elizabeth Funck, pianist; Robert Fisher, violinist; George Riter, tenor; and Pierce Getz, pianist and accompanist. Their performance for the musicals at Manheim, Pa., was acclaimed as another success for the Valleyite aggregation . . . The glee club is continuing its public appearances—the first concert following the spring vacation was given at the Rotary Conference at Hershey on April 16th; the second at Myerstown on April 19th with the concert band . . . Dick Kline presented an organ recital on Sunday, April 16 . . .

On April 13th, several conservites provided the entertainment for the Junior and Senior Women's Club in Palmyra. Those who performed were: Louise Light, pianist; Robert Fisher, violinist; Dick Miller, baritone; Pierce Getz, pianist and accompanist . . . Also appearing on the program was "Banana" Trostle and his bunch—Bud Hill, bass; Mel Schiff, clarinet and sax; "Gramps" Kreis, trombone; Lenny Casper, drums; . . . Sid Garverich, soprano, accompanied by Babs Kleinfelter sang for the Hershey Junior College Convocation on April 13th. Dr. Lynch was the guest speaker . . . Dick Miller, baritone, sang at the Veterans' Hospital near Lebanon on Sunday morning, April 16th for services. His accompanist was Mardia Melroy . . . Dotty Cohen, pianist, was one of the soloists in the recital presented by the Student Wednesday Club in the Harrisburg Civic Club on April 13th . . .

A student recital was presented in Engle Hall Tuesday evening, April 18, at 8:00 P.M. Those students participating were Helen Nicol Stein, soprano, accompanied by Louise Light; Gloria Dressler, piano; Doris Eckert, soprano, accompanied by Adel Kadel; Alden Biely, piano; and Arlene Shuey, Violin, accompanied by Jeanne Stein.

Miss Noll Presented In Piano Recital

Miss Kathryn Noll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noll, 314 Sandhill, Lebanon, Pa., was piano soloist at a recital given in Engle Hall Thursday, April 13.

Miss Noll, a Conservatory Senior, has studied piano for the past three years with Margaret Barthel Baxtresser, and formerly with Joseph Battista. A graduate of Lebanon High School, Class of 1945, Miss Noll is actively participating in the College Orchestra, College Band, College Dance Band, Girls' Band, and is a member of the Clonian Literary Society. She will be graduated from Lebanon Valley Conservatory in June and plans to teach Public School Music.

Her program included: "Fantasia in C Minor" by Bach; "Sonata Op. 14, No. 1" by Beethoven; "Scherzo in Bb Minor, Op. 31" by Chopin. The last portion of the program included: "Golliwogg's Cake Walk" by Debussy; "From 'Pour Le Piano'" by Debussy; "Etude Tableau in G Minor" by Rachmaninoff; "Etude Tableau in Eb Major" by Rachmaninoff; "Two Poems, 'Make me drunken with deep red torrents of joy' and 'Unroll the flicjer's rousing drum'" by Persichetti; "Polka in F Major" by Smetana; "Three Fantastic Dances" by Shostakovich; "Mexican Dance" by Copland; and "Toccata" by Poulenc.

Alert College Student

FOR SUMMER WORK

Intelligent, mature, and of good personality to earn $75 to $125 and more on an advanced percentage basis. You will be trained for dignified sales activity, representing the largest, oldest, and best known firm in the educational field.

I would like to talk to you if you are seeking a summer position and are willing to work.

Ask for R. L. Benson
Room 5
Administration Bldg.
Thursday, May 4 - 1 o'clock noon
No other time.

Election Results of Jiggerboard Known

Election for the members of Jiggerboard was held Monday, April 17th. The following people are the representatives for the Women's Dorm Students: Senior Representatives, Margaret Bower, Florence Dunkelberger, Helen McFarland, Barbara Metzger, Ruth Withers; Junior Representatives, Lois Adams, Nancy Myers; Sophomore representative, Phyllis Barnhart. The new board will elect its own officers in the next week or two.

Nancy Trickey

Nancy Trickey graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music where she received a bachelor degree.

In opera—she has sung leading roles with the New England Opera Theatre, Boris Goldovsky director, and with the Pittsburg Opera Company.

In radio—in two years she had her own radio program in Boston. She sang with James Melton of the International Harvester Program and also with Arthur Fiedler conducting the Boston Pop's Orchestra.

Miss Trickey has also sung with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

At present—Miss Trickey is busy singing concerts and also appearing on many television programs. In May, she will be one of the soloists at the famed Music Festival in Columbia, South Carolina.

Charles Curtis

Mr. Curtis received his Bachelor's degree from Kansas State Teachers College at Pittsburg, Kansas. While at college there he played violin, viola, and tympani in the college symphony, and was student conductor of all the musical organizations. He did his graduate work at Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

Critics agree that Charles Curtis has become an artist of the 1st rank, endowed by nature with a beautiful tenor voice that is brilliant and thrilling. Blessed with a winning personality, his dignified and dynamic interpretations place him in a category of his own.

Norman Farrow

The muse of History, rather than that of Music, first beckoned to Norman Farrow, and led him to an M.A. in that subject at the U. of Western Ontario. After graduation, history gave up its losing battle with music; he came to New York and won a three year fellowship at the Julliard Graduate School. Mr. Farrow quickly gained a reputation in oratoric singing performances.

Then the war intervened. Following demobilization in April, 1946, Mr. Farrow made his re-entry into the New York musical scene as soloist at historic Grace Church and as the solo bass singer of the Bach Aria Group.

In this capacity Norman Farrow has sung concerts in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and Baltimore.

Alice Hendricks

Miss Alice Hendricks comes here with an interesting background of performances. She has appeared as soloist with Toscaninni and Stokowski and also appeared in films with these two conductors. She was soloist at the Roxy Theatre, New York City for one year, and then appeared in the New York Company of "High Button Shoes." She has also sung many leading roles with the Village Opera Company and has appeared as soloist in many oratorios. At present, she is soloist at the West End Presbyterian Church in New York. She has also given numerous performances on radio and television.

ICG

(Continued from Page 1)

plaudits of all. Ray Kline, while attending the Executive Committee meeting with Prof. Maud P. Laughlin, advisor, was unanimously elected ICG Sergeant-at-Arms. Ray was also awarded the privilege of delivering the nominating speech for Dick Evans, and concluded his four years of activity by conducting a discussion among ICG "also-rans" over WHP in Harrisburg.

But the contributions of the delegation as individuals are really incalculable. Despite the fact that many were first-year delegates, they proved themselves under fire. Ronnie Wolf and John Charles Smith "stuck to their guns" in a marathon committee session that had all the appearance of lasting till dawn. Gerry Miller and Clyde Bayer, both first year men, endured gruelling committee work and managed to emerge with their perpetual smiles intact. Herb Rowe, with his long cigar, handled his committee work in his silent, efficient manner. Gale Plantz was a "lone wolf" too, but both he and Rowe did their share toward the delegation's "esprit de corps." Evelyn Toser and alternate Jim Quick had the dubious privilege of attending a mishandled committee; and the young lady, accustomed to efficiency from the chair, almost took over herself. Earl Redding and Charlie Reed displayed parliamentary knowledge in committee action and Charlie contributed an applause-provoking comment before the general session. Euston and Bomgardner, paired together in committee, performed valuable services in various caucuses. Bob Glock's versatility on the keyboard earned him an invitation to play in the floor show at the convention dance. Dottie Dando provided the delegation with another alternate, as did Jean Bozarth. Both young ladies did a commendable job in their respective committees. Bobby Eigenbrode performed a valuable service for the delegation on the Rules Committee and certainly did a fine job. Jim Davis looked good on the Political field, and Phil Hayes spent his time chasing Nilan in an effort to get through a good minority report.

LVC's delegation did a bang-up job. Whether they were in caucus in "Tiny's" tiny 916 or scattered abroad among their various committees, the services they performed may be viewed proudly by the department and the school they represent.

Philo-Clio

(Continued from Page 1)

boxer, find themselves caught up in such a whirlwind of theatrics and confused love affairs that they all clear out on Sunday morning, leaving the fantastic Blisses to fight it out among themselves whether the heroine of the Bliss's novel, The Sinful Woman drove into the Champs Elysees from the Rue St. Honore or from the Rue Boissy d'Anglais.

The director of the play is Prof. Gilbert McKlveen; production manager is Jack Saylor, and business manager Dave Bomgardner.

Nominations Made For Kalo Officers

The highlights of the March 23rd meeting of Kalo was the nomination of candidates for next year's officers. The election of the same will take place at the May meeting. An amendment was proposed to the Constitution whereby all officers would be elected for a school year instead of one semester.

Nominated for President were: Ed Tesnar, Pat Esposito, and Guy Euston. Vice President: Joe Shemeta, Nick Bova, and Kermit Kiehner. Treasurer: Sterling Strause and Earl Redding. Recording Secretary: Gerry Miller. Corresponding Secretary, John Walter, Dave Dundore, and Mel Nipe. Chaplin: Bill Miller, and John Walter. Sergeant at Arms: Norm Lukens and Bill Shappell.

Candidates for the executive board are: Armen Banklian, George Knobl, Bob Geyer, Harry Graham, Lee Ranck, Jim Zangrilli, and Clyde Bayer. All unsuccessful candidates for offices automatically become candidates for the executive board.

A donation was voted to be given to the Wig and Buckle Club in appreciation for all the favors rendered in

Mrs. Laughlin Attends Pol. Sci. Conference

Mrs. Maude P. Laughlin, professor and head of the Department of Sociology and Political Science and Mr. Wolfgang, instructor of Sociology at L.V.C. attended the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science on April 14 and 15.

The conference, held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, was on the general topic "Point Four: Too Much or Too Little?"

Among the imposing list of speakers who talked on the various sub-topics under the general theme was Owen Lattimore.

Attending the conference were delegations appointed by the governors of ten states and the territories of Alaska and Puerto Rico, by the mayors of four cities; Atlantic City, New Jersey; Baltimore, Maryland; Chester, Pennsylvania; and Montreal, Quebec, Canada. Ninety-six universities and colleges of the United States and foreign countries, and approximately 211 international, civic, scientific, and commercial organizations sent delegations.

President of the Academy is Ernest Minor Patterson, of the University of Pennsylvania. Outstanding among the fine group of officers and directors heading the Academy is the name of Herbert Hoover, vice-president.

forms of lending properties for the play.

Initial preparations for both the stag banquet and the picnic in the near future were made.

Exchange Notes

At sweet sixteen I first began
To ask the Lord for a man
At seventeen I recall
I wanted someone strong and tall
The Christmas that I reached eighteen
I fancied someone blond and lean
And then at nineteen I was sure
I'd fall for someone more mature
At twenty I thought that I would find Romance with someone with a mind
I retrogressed at twenty-one
And found college boys most fun
My viewpoint changed at twenty-two
When one man only was my cue
I broke my heart at twenty-three
And asked for someone kind to me
Then begged at blase twenty-four
For anyone who wouldn't bore
Now Lord that I am twenty-five
Just send me someone who's alive.

—Randolph Macon Old Maid via College Fun

* * *

You can lead a boy to college, but you can't make him think.

—College Fun

* * *

Joe: "What kind of guy is your roommate?"

Moe: "Well, last night he stubbed his toe on a chair and said, 'Oh, the perversity of inanimate objects.'"

—Florida Orange Peel

* * *

"No, madame, a neckerchief is not the president of a sorority."

—Florida Orange Peel

* * *

I don't talk with the prof after class
I don't recite in class until called on
I don't ask questions in class
I don't speak to the profs in the halls
I don't write a book when I can answer a quiz in four sentences
I don't complain that a mistake was made on grading my paper
I don't make excuses when I'm absent
I don't laugh at the prof's jokes unless they're funny

I'm on probation!
—The Wagnerian
Wagner College, Staten Island, N.Y.

* * *

Then there was the guy
Who was in love with Kay
Until he met Edith
Then found he couldn't have His Kay and Edith too.

—Catholic U. Tower via Baltimore U. Baloo

* * *

From Gettysburg College come these definitions:

College-bred: a four-year old loaf made with father's dough.

College cheer: check from home.
Honor system: the professors have the honor and the students have the system.

—Lehigh Brown and White

* * *

Studying economics might not keep you out of the bread line, but at least it will tell you why you're there.

—Long Island University

* * *

A professor of education gave up trying to understand the younger generation and formulated the following code:

1. Teachers must know their stuff.
2. They must know the people they intend to stuff.
3. Above all, they must stuff them artistically.

—Texas Christian University

Lynches Entertain Two LV Students

Dr. and Mrs. Lynch entertained Donald Hedgecock and Geraldine DeLong on April 12 with a dinner at the Oyster Bar and the Sigmund Romberg concert in Hershey.

Don Hedgecock won the dinner with the Lynches for himself and a guest at the World Student Service Fund County Fair. He made the highest bid for the dinner at the grand finale to the Fair, the auction.

La Vie quotes Don Hedgecock in saying that it was an enjoyable evening and a wonderful concert.

CONSERVATORY

Coming Events

April

25—Music Festival, Forum, Harrisburg, Pa.

May

1—Merl Freeland, Professor of Piano, presents Louise Light.
2—Alexander Crawford, Professor of Voice, presents Sidney Garverich.

—R. Porter Campbell, Professor of Organ, presents Barbara Kleinfelter.

4—Reynaldo Rovers, Professor of Voice, presents Annette Reed.
—Merl Freeland, Professor of Piano, presents Pierce Getz.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 19 April 20, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors ..... Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley

Assistant Editor ..... Marianne Shenk

Sports Editor ..... Jim Pacy

Conservatory Editor ..... Robert Rhein

Photographers ..... Martin Trostle

Ed Tesnar

Advisers ..... G. G. Struble

E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller

Business Manager ..... Victor Alsberge

Business Adviser ..... A. P. Orth

Circulation Manager ..... Phil Hayes

Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Lois Perry, Joan

Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill

Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham,

Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy

Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor,

Audrey Geidt, Kermit Kiehner, Glenn

Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty,

Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardie

Melroy, David Wallace, Neil Timberlin.

Band and Glee Club In Capitol Sunday

The L.V.C. Band and Glee Club will combine their talents in the Harrisburg Forum, Sunday, April 23rd at 3:00 to present a free program of various types and styles of vocal and instrumental music.

Both organizations under the direction of Prof. E. P. Rutledge, are well-known to most inhabitants of Lebanon Valley and surrounding areas. The band has been dormant publicly since football season in preparation for their concert, but the Glee Club has completed a successful tour of Pennsylvania and adjacent states. The program will be as follows:

I—A Hymn to Music, Chopin-Ringwald; Old Moses Put Pharaoh in His Place, Ford, Selsman, and Bird; Italian Street Song, Victor Herbert; Faust, Charles Gounod.

II—Battle Hymn of the Republic, William Steffe; When Morning Gilds the Skies, Arr. by Powell Weaver; Charlottown, arr. by Charles Bryan; Deep River, arr. by Roy Ringwald; Hallelujah Chorus, from the Messiah, George F. Handel.

Band Program, I—Band of America March, Paul Lavalle; Semiramide, Overture, G. Rossini; Comedian's Galop, Dimitri Kabalevsky; Sextette, from Lucia di Lammermoor, G. Donizetti; Commandante, Gus Guentzel; Zanol, Paul Creton; South Pacific, Selection, Richard Rogers; The Four Horns, David Bennett; Spirit of LV, a march by Don Trostle; His Honor, March, Henry Fillmore.

Band personnel includes the following people: Flutes and Piccolo, Ray Kauffman, Beatrice Royer, James Fisher; Oboes, George Eschbach, Mary K. Frey; Bassoons, Fred Brown, Louise Light; Clarinets, Jack Snavely, William Cagnoli, Clayton Schnack, George Rutledge, Harold Rothenberger, Lynn Blecker, Richard Stewart, Richard Lukasiewicz, Stanley Vansant, Robert Rhein, Markus Schneiderhan, Ralph Porter; Alto Clarinet, Richard Hawk; Bass Clarinet, Melvin Schiff; Alto Saxophone, William Shoppell, Dean Dougherty; Tenor Saxophone, Anne Shroyer; Baritone Saxophone, Kermit Kiehner; Cornets, Chester Richwine, William Lemon, Donald Coldren, Robert Shreffler, John Springer, Henry Hoffman, David Dundore, Ralph Bausher, Neil Timberlin; French Horns, Bruce Wiser, Harry Keim, Lloyd McCurdy, Scott Hamer, James Kendig, Augustus Broadmeyer, Irwin Hamme, Doris Klingensmith; Baritone, John McKenzie, Pierce Getz; Trombones, Charles Kreis, Donald Trostle, Eugene Tritch, George Wolfe, John Heck, Jay Heisey; Basses, Miriam Fuller, Allen Koppenhaver, Richard Hornberger, John Giachero; Tympani, George Atwood; Percussion, Jed Dietrich, James Senti, Alden Biely, Kenneth Keiser.

CARL'S SHOP

Expert Hair Cutting

Lafayette College Chorus

LVC Delegates Go To Public Affairs Conference In Ohio

On March 30, 31, and April 1, 1950, Mrs. Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang, Robert Moller, and Raymond Kline attended the Fourth Annual Conference on Public Affairs held by the Ohio State University Department of Speech at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, Columbus, Ohio. The subject of the Conference was "Major" Problems of the United States Foreign Policy in the 1950's."

Lebanon Valley College was among the forty-one colleges to send delegates to the conference.

Raymond Kline and Robert Moller served on the Political Committees on which were consultants from Washington, D.C. Consultants from the Capitol were present on all the main panels. Raymond Kline also served as unofficial Parliamentarian and presented two resolutions in the plenary session as the Political Committees Majority Floor Leader.

Britannica Offers Jobs to Students

Students of Lebanon Valley College have been offered an unusual opportunity to earn up to $75-$125 a week in summer vacation work through a special arrangement with Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., it was announced by Frank Black, Manager of the Britannica Office in Philadelphia, Pa.

The 182-year old Britannica organization, producers of the reference work that is universally recognized as "the standard of the world," is in the process of expanding its distributing facilities to meet the demands for home reference works occasioned by the growing crisis in the public schools.

Both men and women undergraduate students of selected colleges and universities are being offered the opportunity to show the Britannica programs to interested parents during the summer months.

"Earnings, for these undergraduates who can qualify, will generally reflect

Professor Raymond

Professor Raymond, a highly energetic young man, is, like our own Professor Rutledge, an intense devotee of the Waring School of Choral Art. He is on the staff of the Fred Waring organization during Music Workshop Summer Sessions at Shawnee of the Delaware. A graduate of Ford City high school, he earned his B.S. at West Chester State Teachers and his Masters at Columbia U. He took his graduate work at Julliard.

Prof. Raymond taught music at schools in Ardmore and Coatesville, Pa. He is director of the Musical Arts Chorus in Easton, Pa. This year he will appear as guest conductor of many music festivals and will also conduct vocal clinics throughout Pa.

A great technician, Mr. Raymond stresses diction, consonants and vowels, and masters a technique which is often overlooked in many choral groups.

the chosen representative's own energy, and the number of prospects to whom the program is shown," Mr. Black said.

"However, undergraduates who participated in the summer-work program in past years, when the need for Britannica products was not even so urgent as it is today, have consistently earned $75 a week, and payments for $125 a week to temporary representatives are not uncommon."

Lafayette Chorus Appears in Engle

Engle Hall will be the scene of another outstanding musical performance Wednesday night, April 26 at 8:30 P.M., at which time Prof. John D. Raymond will conduct the famous Lafayette College Chorus.

The chorus which consisted of only twelve men in 1946, is now composed of 70 male voices. Prof. Raymond joined the staff of the college in 1946 and under his brilliant supervision the chorus rose to its present strength.

The chorus is very active in collegiate and extra-curricular activities. They sing for Lafayette College Services each Sunday, present an Annual Christmas Vespers, participate in the College's Annual Spring Music Festival, and travel extensively through the Middle Atlantic States. Some of their programs have also been broadcast over a nation-wide NBC hook-up. They have also appeared at the Annual Meeting given by the Penna. Dental Assn. in Atlantic City, and gave three separate programs for the 37th Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. in Washington, D.C.

There will be no general admission charge for this concert; however, a silver offering will be taken.

Dr. Cooper Attends Psychology Meeting

Dr. Clara Chassel Cooper is attending the 20th Annual Meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association which is being held at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., on April 20, 21, and 22.

Featured among the many speakers scheduled for this three day conference is Anne Freud, the daughter of Sigmund Freud who is known throughout the world as founder of the theory of psychoanalysis.

Visit . . .

"Hot Dog" FRANK

"Nothing But the Best"

Juniata and Scranton Bow To Dutchmen 10-3; 9-8

By Jim Pacy

Lebanon Valley's baseball aggregation opened its 1950 season in fine style on Saturday afternoon when they travelled to Huntingdon and scalped the Juniata College Indians by a 10-3 score before approximately 300 chilled spectators who braved the near-freezing weather to witness the contest. On Monday the Flying Dutchmen trekked to Scranton where they came from behind in the ninth inning and nipped the Royal diamonds by a 9-8 count.

Fred Fore, Coach Ralph Mease's veteran moundsman, started on the hill against Juniata and went seven innings to record his first win of the season. Al Murawski came on in the eighth and finished up allowing Juniata nothing more than a walk.

The home club scored in the first inning when catcher George Kensinger crossed the plate after he was walked, went to second on a passed ball, to third on an error by Tom Sawyer, and came home on Harry Frye's single. Frye however, was thrown out by catcher "Hank" DiJohnson when he attempted to steal second and thus the inning ended.

Lebanon Valley retaliated in the second frame and pushed four runs across. However, "Chuck" Zimmerman grounded out and Fred Sample fanned before the rally started. Bill Schadler then nicked Juniata hurler Ken Wenger for a single and the Dutchmen were off. Wenger walked Floyd Becker, Fore, and "Shorty" Fields to force Schadler in. With the bases loaded Neal Woll made first safely when Juniata's first baseman Ray Tesi committed an error; meanwhile allowing Becker to score. Sawyer was up next and he repeated his first inning feat by hitting safely and thus knocking Fore and Fields in. DiJohnson's fly was hauled in by left fielder Frye to end the inning with the score 4-1, Lebanon Valley.

Juniata Registers Twice

Juniata scored again in the fifth after Fore had the Blue and Gold stymied for three innings. Tesi greeted Fore with a single and Fred Smith was safe at first on a fielder's choice that put Tesi out at second. Wenger flied out and then Julius Long touched for for another hit to send Smith home. Kensinger ended the session by popping to Zimmerman. The Indians pulled within one run of the Valley in the seventh when they ran up their last run of the tussel. Don Howett led off with a hit and following him, Tesi was safe at first while Howett was safe at second when Sawyer failed to touch the bag. Smith struck out and Howett scored after Wenger was called out at first and Tesi was being run down by Zimmerman and Sawyer in a "pickle."

Blue and White Scores Six Runs in Last Two Frames

The Dutchmen increased their win margin in the eighth inning by adding two more runs. Dale Shellenberger fouled out to Kensinger but Mark Heberling reached first safely after he struck out while catcher Kensinger dropped the ball on the third strike. Heberling stole second and then raced home on Becker's bingle. Becker went down to second on John Stamato's pinch-hit for Fore, scoring on second sacker Howett's error. A double-play ended the inning when Long tagged out Stamato and threw out Woll at first, with the Measers now leading by 6-3.

Sawyer connected for his third hit of the day to start the final inning. DiJohnson followed suit and sent Sawyer to third. DiJohnson stole second and both he and Sawyer scooted home on Zimmerman's base hit. Shellenberger was safe on a fielder's choice, and Zimmerman went to third on Howett's second miscue; Shellenberger racing to second. The first out was recorded when Heberling didn't reach first after the catcher dropped his third strike again. Becker tagged first safely on shortstop Smith's error and meanwhile Zimmerman and Shellenberger ran home. Murawski whiffed and Richie Furda was hit by a Wenger pitch to get on. Woll was walked and Marty Gluntz came in to bat for Sawyer who was injured when the ball bounced off the bat and lacerated his lip. At this point Wenger left the mound with bases loaded and Dave LeFevre came in, striking out Gluntz to end the inning.

LEBANON VALLEY (10)

	AB	R	H
Fields, lf	1	1	0
Furda, lf	2	0	0
Woll, 2b	4	0	1
Sawyer, ss	5	1	3
Gluntz, 3b	1	0	0
DiJohnson, c	4	1	1
Zimmerman, 3b, ss	5	1	2
Sample, rf	3	0	0
Shellenberger, rf	2	1	0
Schadler, 1b	3	1	1
Heberling, 1b	2	1	0
Becker, cf	4	2	1
Fore, p	2	1	0
*Stamato	1	0	1
Murawski, p	1	0	0
	40	10	10

JUNIATA (3)

	AB	R	H
Long, 3b	4	0	1
Kensinger, c	3	1	1
Young, rf	3	0	0
Dzvonar, cf	4	0	0
Frye, rf	3	1	0
aFortune	1	0	0
Howett, 2b	3	1	1
bHulgas	1	0	0
Tesi, 1b	3	0	1
cDickey	1	0	0
Smith, F., ss	3	0	1
Wenger, p	3	0	0
LeFevre, p	0	0	0
	32	3	5

Leb. Valley .... 0 4 0 0 0 0 2 4-10
Juniata ..... 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0-3

*—Singled for Fore.
a—Fortune fouled out for Frye.
b—Hulgas batted for Howett.
c—Dickey fanned for Tesi.

Left on base, LVC, 10; Juniata, 4. First on balls, off Fore, 1; Murawski, 1; Wenger, 7. Passed balls, DiJohnson. Double plays, Long to Tesi (2). Struck out, by Fore, 5; Murawski, 2; Wenger, 10; LeFevre, 1. Earned runs, LVC, 6; Juniata, 2. Umpires, Fagan and Mullin.

Late Rally Downs Coal Miners

Going into the ninth inning on the short end of an 8-5 score the Flying Dutchmen tossers drummed up a five hit attack that netted four runs and thus squeezed past Scranton University 9-8 with their devastating rally. Scranton had a 3-run lead and saw this begin to diminish when Bill Schadler opened the ninth with a rousing double, his second of the afternoon. Floyd Becker added to the rally and tagged a single which drove in Schadler. After Murawski grounded out and Richie Furda bit the dust, Neal Woll was walked and Tom Sawyer continued his heavy slugging by rapping out a singleton to chase home Becker. DiJohnson kept up the onslaught and hit safely sending Woll across. "Chuck" Zimmerman totally wiped out the Upstaters' lead as he drove in the winning run by singling in Sawyer.

Bill Frazier received the starting mound assignment and he toiled six innings until he gave way to Al Murawski with the Valley on the losing end 6-3. Murawski had the first two hitters ground out but he allowed two runs when he walked Datti, gave up a triple to Sheridan and a hit to Lukowak. Finally, Lavelle ended the inning by flying out to Becker. In the eighth inning Murawski set them down in order and after the Blue and White rally in the ninth, Al saved the day by striking out two of the three batters facing him while the other flied out to Furda.

Sample scored the first LVC run in the second frame when he raced home on Schadler's base hit. The Valley added two more in the third stanza when Frazier smashed out a triple and scored along with Neal Woll on Tom Sawyer's hit. "Shorty" Fields replaced Sample in the seventh and he scored on Schadler's double. Sawyer added another run in the eighth on an infield error.

LEBANON VALLEY (9)

	AB	R	H
Furda, lf	4	0	0
Woll, 2b	3	2	0
Sawyer, ss	5	2	2
DiJohnson, c	5	0	1
Zimmerman, 3b	5	0	1
Sample, rf	2	1	0
Fields, rf	3	1	0
Schadler, 1b	4	1	3
Becker, cf	4	1	1
Frazier, p	3	1	2
Murawski, p	1	0	0
	39	9	10

SCRANTON (8)

	AB	R	H
Slachtish, ss	4	0	1
Griffith, 3b	5	0	0
Tulley, c	5	1	2
Romanko, cf	4	1	0
Datti, 2b	2	3	1
Sheridan, 1b	3	2	2
Lukowak, lf	3	0	1
Lavelle, rf	4	1	1
Malina, p	3	0	1
	33	8	9

Leb. Valley .... 0 1 2 0 0 1 1 4-9
Scranton ..... 0 1 0 3 1 1 2 0-8

Doubles, Schadler (2); Slachtish. Triples, Frazier; Sheridan. First on balls, off Frazier, 5; Murawski, 1; Malina, 2. Passed balls, Tulley (2). Double plays, Sawyer to Woll to Schadler; Datti to Slachtish to Sheridan. Struck out by Frazier, 6; Murawski, 3; Malina, 5. Hit by pitcher, Woll and Fields by Malina.

Brooklyn-LVC Tied For Fifth In US

Although baseball is the sport of interest now, we thought that this last release from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau would be of interest to our students. Lebanon Valley College's basketball squad ranked among the top small college teams in the nation in scoring this past season.

Coach Ralph Mease's Flying Dutchmen ended the season with an average of 76.5 points per game to tie for fifth highest in the country with Brooklyn College. Morris Harvey of West Virginia was first with a 79.9 average, followed by Westminster of Pennsylvania with 78.6, Montana 77.4 Davis and Elkins of West Virginia 76.9, then Lebanon Valley and Brooklyn. Moravian was tenth with a 72.0 average and Albright was thirty-ninth with 66.3 points per game.

Eddie Frazier was seventh highest in single game foul shooting with 15 foul conversions out of 17 tries against Scranton University. Out of 110 players who had an average of 14.5 points per game or over, Floyd Becker was 53rd with an average of 17.6. Freshman Al Murawski, who only played during the second semester, was 61st with 17.0.

Lafayette and Lions Next for LVC Nine

Trackmen Open Today Face Albright Away

With their first two games tucked under their belts as wins, Lebanon Valley's diamonders travel to Easton on Saturday where they will meet the Lafayette College nine. Lafayette, coached by Lebanon Valley's one-time All-American Charlie Gelbert, has one of the most potent collegiate baseball teams in the east and is expected to give the Flying Dutchmen quite a busy afternoon. Al Murawski, who recorded his first college win over Scranton on Monday, will probably receive the starting twirling chore.

On Monday the Blue and White hit the road again when they go to Reading to meet the Valley's arch rival, the Albright College Red Lions. Last season the Measemen split a pair of games with Red and White.

Today will see the Lebanon Valley track team open their 1950 campaign at Reading where they will meet Albright. Coach Rog Robinson's cinder paths have been working hard every day in anticipation for this opening meet. Ralph Mease, Director of Athletics, announced that there has been an addition to the track schedule in that Franklin and Marshall will be met at Lancaster on May 3.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 20

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, April 27, 1950

MAY COURT OF 1950

Dr. Lynch Attends Inauguration at Bucknell University

Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, president of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, will represent the college at the inauguration of Dr. Horace A. Hildreth as president of Bucknell University on April 29.

Delegates from more than 200 of the country's leading colleges and universities will attend the ceremony at which the former governor of Maine will be formally installed as the ninth president of Bucknell's 104-year history.

In addition to the college representatives, delegates from many of the nation's leading professional and learned organizations will march in the colorful academic procession that will precede the inaugural exercises in Davis Gymnasium.

(Continued on Page 2)

Esposito Elected As Kalo President

Kalo held its last business meeting for the current school year Wednesday, April 19. Officers and the Executive Board elections were conducted by President Bob Moller. Pat Esposito was elected the new president. The other officers are as follows: Joe Shemata, Vice President; Sterling Strause, Treasurer; Gerald Miller, Recording Secretary; Dave Dundore, Corresponding Secretary; Bill Miller, Chaplain; and Norm Lukens, Sergeant-at-Arms. The new Executive Board will consist of Ed Tesnar, Guy Euston, Nick Bova, Earl Redding, and Bob Guyer.

Final action was taken on a proposed amendment which will eliminate the election at the close of the first semester.

(Continued on Page 2)

WAA Initiates New Members

The W.A.A. held its annual initiation hike last Thursday, April 20. The newcomers were put through the rigors of initiation in and around the campus. The group then proceeded to Fink's for a picnic supper and campfire get-together where President Betts Slifer officially welcomed the new members who are as follows: Ruth Schumate, Helen Erickson, Gloria Gulliver, Joyce Hammock, Liz Kemberling, Jane McMurtrie, and Lee Whiteman.

The recent election in the organization has brought the following results: president, Helen MacFarland; vice president, Diane Randolph; secretary, Dotty Witmer; treasurer, Peg Bower.

At the present time, W.A.A. is holding weekly swimming parties for its members at the Hershey Women's Club.

Court and Visiting Queens Highlight May Day Festival

The Lebanon Valley College campus will be the scene of the traditional May Day festivities on Saturday afternoon, May 6, 1950. The highlight of the performance will be the May Queen and her court which were elected from among the girls of the senior class by the present student body. Jeanne Bozarth has been selected May Queen and Phyllis Dale is her Maid of Honor. The court includes Evelyn Habecker, Pauline Stoner, Mary Edelman, Jeanne Hull, Nancy Bowman, and Ellen Jepsen.

May Queens crowned at the annual May Day festival for the past ten years will also participate. These are the following: from 1940, Mrs. Louise Saylor Bacastow; 1941, Mrs. Joan Cox Ragsdale; 1942, Mrs. Betty Foster Tyson; 1943, Mrs. Jean Daugherty Carr; 1944, Mrs. Hazel Fornoff Detambel; 1945, Mrs. Maeredit Houser Doyle; 1946, Mrs. Virginia Dromgold Libhart; 1947, Miss Pearl Miller; 1948, Mrs. Mary Jane Eckert Streepy; and 1949, Miss Janet Weaver. Mrs. Ragsdale, Mrs. Carr, and Mrs. Detambel regret, however, that they will not be able to be on the campus at this time.

May Day Theme Is Old Time Melodrama

"Come to the Fair," the general theme of the May Day pageant on the Lebanon Valley College campus, Saturday afternoon, May 6th (rain date, May 13), 2:00 P.M., will feature monkeys, clowns, fortune tellers, horses, side shows, tumbling acts, and many other spectacular circus attractions, according to an announcement by Mrs. Ernestine J. Smith, Director of Physical Education for Women, who is in charge of the production. Special music is furnished by the College Band under the direction of Professor Edward P. Rutledge, Director of Musical Organizations at the Conservatory of Music.

The following is a synopsis of the May Day theme as written by Dr. George G. Struble, Professor of English.

COME TO THE FAIR OR THE BEAUTIFUL EQUESTRIENNE

Ever since childhood Little Nell had heard stories about the circus. Although she was a farmer's daughter, her father, Roscoe Bean, had followed the circus in his youth and had many stories to tell about the exciting things that happen in the saw-dust ring. Was it any wonder then that Little Nell, when she saw the gaudy posters announcing the appearance of the circus at the state fair, should want to leave home to join the troupe? In spite of the remonstrances of her father, of her brother Hi (for Hiram),

(Continued on Page 2)

Campus Chatter . . .

Another big weekend! Philo-Clio and Kalo-Delphian members all enjoying the weekend festivities . . . "Hay Fever" drawing quite a crowd . . . "Audie" Geidt giving both a natural and convincing performance . . . Wilson Shearer's innocent remarks . . . Lois Adams doing a good job as usual . . . Prof McKlveen pleased with his gift from the cast . . . Gala Dinner-Dance high over Reading . . . (at the "Tower," no less) . . . "steak deluxe" . . . Tripping the light fantastic were Phyl Dale and Lee Salamandra, Beatie Meiser and "Lefty" Euston, Betty Edelman and Lee "Brooklyn" Alsberge, Barb (Jiggerboard Prexy) Metzger and Dick Kline, Fay Hall and "Hank" DiJohnson, Joanne Ricedorf and Jim Quick, Jane Lutz and "Gene" Geisey, plus scads of others . . . Bob Hoffsommer even closed his chem books long enough to struggle into his tux and escort Marge Halbert to the dance.

Kal-Del-phites took to the woods . . . Mt. Gretna, that is!!! softball and volleyball turning everyone into athletes . . . photobug Ed Tesnar on the job . . . "Boz" and Bob sporting those hats straight from "Vogue" . . . Harry Graham and his javelin . . . plenty of food and drink for all . . . seems that "typical" college spirit has hit L.V. . . . that hike to the top of "Gov. Dick" showed that years do creep up on one, but there is nothing like the out-of-doors . . . more picnics anytime!!

Campus newly decorated . . . another boardwalk, only this one leading to Miss Gillespie's car (seems the tires were flat, too), which was parked on campus. Please Miss Gillespie, that is not a parking lot! . . .

Lee Whiteman and Don (Spirit of L.V.) Trostle dating quite often . . . also Ruth Withers and Harry Cooper . . . Jerry (How short can they get) Delong and Don (Man Mountain) Hedgecock seen occasionally on campus together . . . Dolores Zarker seen with Earl (I.C.G.) Reading . . . congrats to Martin Trostle as president of the new Student Christian association . . . New W.A.A. members still recuperating from the initiation hike . . . Question of the week: Is Joyce Hammock giving us a preview of what the "1951" waiter force will be wearing? . . . Hope to see you all on the Hayride Friday night!

Exchange Notes . . .

Political theory, painlessly:
At the University of Virginia, an easy way of recognizing different political systems is in use by political science profs. It goes thus:

Idealism: If you have two cows, milk them both. Use all the milk you need and have enough left for everybody.

Socialism: If you have two cows, give them both to the government, then the government will give you back some milk.

Imperialism: If you have two cows; steal somebody's bull.

Communism: If you have two cows, you're a capitalist.

Capitalism: If you have two cows, sell one and buy a bull.

New Dealism: If you have two cows, the government shoots one; you milk the other and throw part of the milk down the sink.

Nazism: If you have two cows the government shoots you and takes them.
Lehigh Brown & White
* * *

"Just because my eyes are red is no sign I'm drunk. For all you know I may be a white rabbit."
Yale Record

Sophomore Officers Elected for '50-'51

The Sophomore Class met for the election of their officers for 1950 and '51 on Tuesday, April 25, after chapel in the college church.

Ed Tesnar was elected as president for his second term, and the vice president will be Fred Sample. Treasurer for the next college year is Sterling Strause; secretary is Betty Bakley.

LV Represented at Pa. Academy of Science

On April 6, 7, and 8, Dr. Earl Light, Dr. Neidig, Robert K. Miller, and Dale Snyder represented Lebanon

Pi Gamma Mu Plan 2nd Annual Banquet

Plans for the Second Annual Banquet of Lebanon Valley College's Pennsylvania Nu Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society, were announced last Thursday evening at the regular April meeting of the chapter in Philo Hall.

Prof. Hilbert Lochner, Secretary-Treasurer of the group, announced that the banquet would be held at the Green Terrace on Monday, May 1, 1950 at 7:30 P.M. The featured speaker of the evening will be Mr. Norman B. Wilkinson, Assistant State Historian of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who will talk on the subject "The Hero in America."

Invitations have been extended to Pi Gamma Mu chapters in neighboring colleges to attend the gala affair. Faculty members and students of LVC are cordially invited to be present. Tickets may be purchased from members of the chapter.

Esposito

(Continued from Page 1)

The membership chose the Indian Echo Hotel as the site for Kalo's annual stag banquet. It will be held on Thursday, May 4. Members must either contact Pat Esposito or sign one of the sheets in the various buildings on the campus by Friday, April 28, if they expect to go.

Members who do not have transportation to the Indian Echo Hotel in Hummelstown are directed to contact Dick Schiemer.

Valley College at a conference of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science in Philadelphia. On Thursday afternoon, April 6th, Dr. Light attended the Executive Committee and was made chairman of the nominating committee which nominated the officers for next year. Papers were presented by Dr. Neidig, Dale Snyder, and Robert Miller on Friday afternoon in a chemistry conference.

May Day

(Continued from Page 1)

and of Harold McGuire, her country lover, she goes to Centreopolis and soon has a job as a bare-back rider. She has told Harold that she must choose between marriage and a career; and in her imagination she sees herself performing to the plaudits of adoring multitudes.

Old Roscoe, who knows only too well the temptations that beset a girl under the big top, also goes to Centreopolis, and without his daughter's knowledge gets a job with the circus as a clown. He believes that hidden under his clown's disguise he can keep an eye on Little Nell and shield her from harm. He soon learns that his apprehensions were not without reason, for Mortimer Witherspoon, handsome ringmaster of the circus, under the pretense of giving lessons in equitation, has been lavishing his attentions on the unsuspecting girl.

In the meantime Hi, not knowing of his father's activities has also gone, umbrella and all, to Centreopolis to offer his protection to Little Nell. However Hi knows little of the ways of the big city, and soon finds himself victim of smooth confidence-men and butt of circus wags.

But when Little Nell finds herself in a most compromising situation, as a result of the machinations of Mortimer Witherspoon, it is neither the courageous but pathetic Roscoe Bean, nor the ludicrous Hi who saves her, just in the nick of time, but Harold McGuire, her faithful lover.

Librarians Attend Conference at Pa. State Library

The College and Reference Section of the Central Area of the Pennsylvania Library Association met at the Pennsylvania State Library on Saturday, April 29. Helen E. Myers, Librarian, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fields of the library staff attended the meeting. The general theme of the meeting was college library resources as to special collections and special libraries in the state outside of the metropolitan areas. A number of problems which were of special interest to the libraries represented were discussed. Delegates from about ten college libraries in the surrounding district attended. Mr. McComb, Librarian of State College, presided over the meeting.

"I've got a friend I'd like you to meet."

Athletic girl: "What can he do?"
Chorus girl: "How much has he?"
Literary girl: "What does he read?"
Society girl: "Who are his family?"
Religious girl: "What church does he belong to?"
College girl: "Where is he?"

Florida Orange Peel

Dr. Lynch

(Continued from Page 1)

Roy E. Larson, president of Time, Inc., and chairman of the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, will speak prior to the induction of the new Bucknell president by the chairman of the University's Board of Trustees. Another highlight of the occasion will be the inaugural address by President Hildreth.

Bucknell will entertain the visiting delegates and townspeople at an informal reception Friday evening, April 28, in honor of her new leader and his wife. A luncheon for the delegates Saturday noon will complete the inaugural festivities.

Pi Gamma Mu Holds Election of Officers

The Lebanon Valley College Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, held a meeting Thursday night, April 20, 1950 in Philo Hall. The program was in charge of Professor Maud P. Laughlin, head of the Political Science and Sociology Department. The subject was "Should a Federal Health Plan Be Made Compulsory for these United States?" For the affirmative the speakers were John Nilan and Alex Fehr; and for the negative the speakers were Raymond Kline and Robert Moller. Moderator was Albert Moriconi.

The officers elected for the coming year were as follows: president, Bernard Keckler; vice president, Roland Garvin; secretary-treasurer, Professor Hilbert V. Lochner; reporter, Harold Heisey; historian, Dr. Hiram Shenk; sergeant-at-arms, Professor Andrew Orth; torch bearer, Professor Ralph Shay; sentinel, Russell Kettering; chaplain, Professor Carl Y. Ehrhart.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 20 April 27, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors . . . . . Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
Assistant Editor . . . . . Marianne Shenk
Sports Editor . . . . . Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor . . . . . Robert Rhein
Exchange Editor . . . . . Pat Wood
Photographers . . . . . Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers . . . . . G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager . . . . . Victor Alsberge
Business Adviser . . . . . A. P. Orth
Circulation Manager . . . . . Phil Hayes
Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Joan Orando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Glennrey Geidt, Kermit Keihner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardian Melroy, David Wallace, Neil Timberlin.

Plan On Attending
JUNIOR PROM
Zembo Mosque — May 6

Conserv Notes . . .

By Dotty Cohen

Echoes of "Mirtil" . . . "HEY!" . . . "You think you have home-work" . . . "You're supposed to sound sad, but not that sad" . . . "We're supposed to sit on these in tux?" . . . "What color is your gown?" . . . cymbals clash—"Scared you, didn't I?" . . . The French horns . . . Miss Holliday's fine cello work . . . a citation of merit to the flutists . . . Dr. Bookstaber's booming narration . . . the excellent soloists . . . George Alwood on tympani . . . Joyce Hammock and Mary Elizabeth Funck at the piano . . . Prof. Rutledge, HALLELUJAH!!!

"Dimitri" Trostle conducted the band at their Harrisburg concert, when they played his march, "Spirit of L.V."

The next campus recital will be presented this evening, April 27, in Engle Hall. Those who will appear on the program include Evelyn Habecker, organist; Clara Hoffman, pianist; Joe Campanella, tenor, accompanied by Joyce Hammock, pianist; Nancy Lutz, soprano, accompanied by Jean Stine, pianist; Robert Clay, celloist, accompanied by Joyce Hammock, pianist; and the string quartet, featuring Robert Fisher—1st violin, Wilbur Hartman—2nd violin, Joan Bair—viola, and Robert Clay—cello.

April 30 marks the next public appearance of the Lebanon Valley Glee Club, at Palmyra.

Louise Light, pianist, will be presented in recital on May 1st. Her instructor is Prof. Merle Freeland, pianist.

This is, I hope, the final change of date for the Senior Jazz Concert. The new date will be Friday night, May 5th. Latest reports from "Dad" Trostle concerning the program will be the addition of an eleven piece "Kenton-like" string section. More anon.

Chem Club Visits DuPont Plant

On Tuesday, March 25th, sixty-three members of the Chemistry Club were guests of the I. E. DuPont de Ne Mours Co. in a conducted tour of their Chambers Plant at Deepwater, New Jersey. The full day's schedule provided a well-planned and informative tour of the various laboratories and sections of the plant where the industrial processes for the manufacture of dyes and other chemical compounds were explained and observed. The annual plant trip to one of the large chemical companies in the East is always a highlight in the club activities.

At its monthly meeting this Tuesday, April 25th, the club had as its speaker Mr. Rohrer, Assistant Director of Research for the Armstrong Cork Co. of Lancaster, Pa. Mr. Rohrer's timely talk presented the relationship of industry to the undergraduate chemistry student and what opportunities of employment the graduating chem majors may hope to find in this and future years.

Immediately following the meeting refreshments were served.

Flocken Elected President of MDSC

Jay Flocken, junior and Editor of the 1951 Quittapahilla, was elected president of the 1951 Men Day Student's Congress at the organizational meeting held on April 25th. Robert Miller, also a junior, was elected to the vice presidency; John Walters was elected secretary; and next year's treasurer will be Roy Smaltz.

At the same session, Ray Kline, the retiring president, presented briefly the duties of the Congress and expressed the hope that 1951 edition of student government will take another stride upward in the campus.

Little Willie is so distressed, he got a pair of pink silk pajamas and a military brush set for Christmas. Now he doesn't know whether to go to North Carolina or West Point.

College Fun

Lafayette Claws Dutchmen by 9-2

By Jim Pacy

Lebanon Valley's baseball team put its unblemished record on the line at Easton last Saturday afternoon and when the smoke had cleared Lafayette College's diamond squad ended any hopes for an undefeated season by trimming the Flying Dutchmen 9-2 before approximately 1,000 spectators.

Lafayette, coached by one-time Lebanon Valley great, Charlie Gelbert, jumped on LV hurler Al Murawski, who beat Scranton for his first win last week, for two hits and four runs in the first inning and that was the ball game right there. Lafayette added another run in the fourth frame when second-baseman Angle connected with one of Murawski's tosses and sent it sailing for a home run. Bill Frazier came on in the sixth to relieve Al and he issued a walk and a single to yield two runs, one of which was charged to Murawski, and then gave up two more in the eighth inning when the Maroon bunched three hits with the help of an error and registered a pair of scores.

George Davidson was the moundsmen for the home aggregation and he went the route for the Marquis, keeping LVC's hits pretty well scattered. Lebanon Valley, however, solved him in the seventh when "Hank" DiJohnson led off with a single. After Zimmerman flied to center, Schadler singled, chasing in DiJohnson with the Valley's first score. However, Schadler's hit flew past the infield and by the time it was relayed in, the Valley's first sacker tagged home behind DiJohnson. With only one out, Davidson returned to his controlled hurling and offered but one hit the rest of the game when Frazier nicked him for a bingle in the eighth.

All told the Maroon had eleven hits with Angle's homer, Killinger's triple and Bird's three for five setting the pace. DiJohnson led the Measemen with two for four.

Two-base hits: Murawski, Dojan; Three-base hits: Killinger; Home run: Angle. Double plays: Lafayette 2; Bases on balls: Davidson 2, Murawski 4, Frazier 2. Strike-outs: Davidson 7, Murawski 3. Winning pitcher: Davidson; Losing pitcher: Murawski. Umpire: Imboden.

A scene from Philo-Clio play, "Hay Fever."

Campus Ys Visited By Helene Mosier

Miss Helene Mosier, a regular employee of the YWCA, was here on our campus Monday and Tuesday, April 24 and 25, to work with and assist our Y organizations in setting up their retreat planned for this coming week-end and also to advise on the new plans they have in progress.

From an assembly of the Middle Atlantic region that includes five states and 95 colleges, a Regional Council is selected. Miss Mosier is a representative sent by this Regional Council to college campuses to help and aid the YWs in planning their programs. She assists in planning conferences, training programs, leadership training institutes, and numerous other activities that are held on campus through the sponsorship of the Ys.

Miss Mosier pointed out that the Ys on college campuses everywhere have been pioneer groups in helping set up such things as orientation week, girls' dormitories, and various other projects that we all now proclaim an integral and necessary part of our own college.

It is through the Ys here at L.V. that the college receives Life magazine and the Upper Room in the dormitories. And a week before the students ever arrive on campus the Y members are here busily showing the freshmen around.

Philo-Clio Play Huge Success

In the last issue of La Vie there was to appear a picture of the play Hay Fever as presented jointly by Philo and Clio on April 21, 1950. For those not in the "know," the camera took the wrong picture. By way of an apology the above is a picture of a scene from the play.

From all reports in and around campus the performance was a huge success and was met with approval by all who attended it. After the play a party was held in Philo Hall in honor of the cast. The cast also presented to director, Professor McKlveen, a gift as an expression of their appreciation for his work on the production.

The cast and Philo-Clio wish to express their thanks to Lyle (Red) Schwalm for his able handling of the lighting problem.

Students to Present Papers at E.C.S.C.

On Friday, April 28th, twelve chemistry students accompanied by Dr. Neidig will travel to New York City to attend the Annual Eastern College Science Conference which is being held this year at Barnard College. Mr. Robert Miller, a junior student from Harrisburg, and Mr. Dale Snyder, a senior student from Lebanon, will present papers on the various phases of the research project which is being conducted by Dr. Neidig. A very interesting program has been outlined for the conference which includes field trips to points of interest on the Columbia campus and New York City. Such well known speakers as Dr. Coudan, U. S. Bureau of Standards, Dr. Weiner, of M.I.T., and Dr. Louis Feiser of Harvard are part of the week-end activities.

All the large universities and colleges of the East are represented at this conference and it is a hope that the merits of our research projects will be equal to theirs and hence, justify an additional report on this conference.

LVC				Lafayette
Furda, lf	ab	r	h	Angle, 2b	ab	r	h
Fields, rf	3	0	0	Snyder, 3b	3	4	1
Sawyer, ss	4	0	1	Ash, rf	5	0	2
DiJ'hson, c	4	1	2	Bird, cf	5	1	3
Zim'r'n, 3b	4	0	1	Killinger, ss	5	1	6
Sch'd'l'r, 1b	4	1	1	Dojan, lf	4	0	2
Becker, cf	3	0	0	Stedje, lf	4	0	0
Woll, 2b	2	0	2	Hill, c	4	0	1
Jones, 2b	0	0	0	D'vids'n, p	4	0	1
M'r'w'ski, p	2	0	1
Frazier, p	1	0	1
Stm'to, x	1	0	0
Totals				Totals
31				37
LVC				000
Lafayette				400
				102
				02x-9
				xFlled out for Woll in 7th.
				Errors: LVC 3, Lafayette 1.

Fore Flips Two-Hitter As Temple Is Whitewashed 6-0

By Jim Pacy

Just when Temple University is about done living down the humiliation of a 7-7 football "defeat" inflicted by a supposedly inferior Lebanon Valley College grid squad, some guy named Fred Fore comes along and adds to the Philadelphia school's misery by pitching a neat two-hitter while the Flying Dutchmen batters cut loose on two Temple hurlers and thus the Owls were goose-egged 6-0 last Wednesday afternoon before a highly pleased home crowd that gazed on in appropriate baseball weather.

Fore looked very good in going the distance for his second straight win of the season against no losses. Fred allowed no walks and struck out nine in setting down the visiting batters without a hit until the eighth inning. Fred's attempt at a no-hitter, which almost became a reality, was wiped out when Maguire, the Temple reserve catcher, touched him for a single and then Vellner, the 2nd Owl hurler, knocked out a double for the visitors' only hits of the day. Fred, however, had his shutout saved thanks to some fast fielding and sensational relaying by Richie Furda and Tom Sawyer to "Hank" DiJohnson at home plate.

Lebanon Valley scored its first run in the initial inning when Sawyer got on via a fielder's choice and after DiJohnson singled, he came home on Zimmerman's line drive. The Dutchmen added another run when Fore rapped out a base hit and then scooted home as Furda whacked out a triple. Coach Ralph Mease's charges pushed up the score another notch in the fifth inning during which time Sawyer continued his wonderful slugging and accounted for another hit. He ran home when Mark Heberling added of the rout of Temple tosser Burg with a double. The Valley marked up its last two tallies in the eighth, much to the dismay of the Cherry and White's relief pitcher, Vellner. Sawyer clouted the Owl twirler for a double and scored along with "Shorty" Fields, who had been walked, when DiJohnson duplicated Sawyer's feat by belting one of Vellner's offerings for a two-bagger to end the scoring.

The Blue and White looked very impressive and presented the home crowd with an important win over a favored opponent due to some fine all around play at the plate, on the base paths, and in the outfield. Furda, Becker and Fields made some snappy defensive plays in the outfield and this coupled with Fore's competent chucking and the Dutchmen collection of 11 hits added up to a deserving win for Lebanon Valley.

Temple's catcher, Jimmy Crossmore, was banished from the game in the last half of the third inning when he protested that his second erratic heave into center field was caused due to the fact that LV's batter, Heberling, interfered in his attempt to cut down a LVC base-stealer. After several warnings by umpire Lut Emerich his protest became so outrageous that he was ordered from the contest.

Temple coach, Pete Wilson, attempted to avert a shutout and kept injecting pinch-hitters, but they were to no avail as Fore had the Wilsonites eating out of his hands. The tussel proved to be a double revenge on the 3-0 loss suffered by the Measers at the hands of these same Templeites in Philadelphia last year.

Temple		Lebanon Valley
	ab r h a		ab r h a
Kaiser, ss	2 0 0 2	Furda, lf	4 0 1 0
N'p't'no, ss	2 0 0 4	Fields, rf	2 1 0 0
Barlow, 3b	4 0 0 2	Sawyer, ss	4 3 2 4
Ber'ardo, lf	4 0 0 0	DiJ'son, c	5 0 2 1
Hansen, cf	4 0 0 0	Z'man, 3b	5 1 3 1
Kalk'b'r, 1b	3 0 0 0	Heberle, 1b	3 0 1 0
Bate'n, rf	1 0 0 0	Becker, cf	4 0 0 0
B'lente, rf	2 0 0 0	Woll, 2b	4 0 0 0
Nugent, 2b	1 0 0 2	Fore, p	3 1 2 3
Bit'n, 2b	2 0 0 1
C'more, c	1 0 0 1
Maguire, c	2 0 1 0
Burg, p	1 0 0 0
Hav'sk, x	1 0 0 0
Vellner, p	1 0 1 0

	Totals	31	0	2	11
	Totals	34	6	11	9
Temple	.....	000	000	000	—0
LVC	.....	111	010	02x	—6

Runs batted in: Furda, DiJohnson 2, Heberle. Errors: LVC 3; Temple 3. Two base hits: Vellner, Heberle, Sawyer, DiJohnson. Three base hit: Furda. Stolen bases: Fields, Zimmerman 2, Heberle, Sawyer 2. Double play, Napolitano to Bitman to Kalkbrenner. Left on bases: Temple 4; LVC 10. Bases on balls: Burg 2, Vellner 4. Strikeouts: Fore 9; Burg 6; Vellner 1. 7 hits off Burg for 4 runs in 5 innings. Hit by pitcher, by Burg (Fields). Losing pitcher, Burg. Umpires: D. Emerich and Shenk.

Trackmen Bow to Albright Lions

B. Oxley and Cassel Register Dual Wins

Doing surprisingly well in the running events, Lebanon Valley's inexperienced track team opened its 1950 campaign by bowing to a superior Albright College group of thinclads at Reading last Thursday afternoon. Coach Roger Robinson's tracksters were led by Barret Oxley and Truman Cassel who were double winners for the Dutchmen. Cassel copped the 100 and 220-yard dashes while Oxley won the 880-yard run and the 2-mile event. Other winners for the Blue and White were Charles Maston and Gale Plantz in the 440-yard dash and the mile run.

The summaries:
100-yard dash—Won by Cassel, LV; second, Kohl, A; third, Tenley, A. Time: 10.6 sec. 220-yard dash—Won by Cassel, LV; Tenley, A; Saylor, LV. Time: 24 sec. 440-yard dash—Won by Maston, LV; Anlian, A; James, A. Time: 55 sec. 880-yard dash—Won by Oxley, LV; Anlian, A; Oxley, LV. Time: 2:07½.

Mile run—Won by Plantz, LV; Zellner, A; Fulmer, A. Time: 5:18. Two-mile run—Won by Oxley, LV; Zellner, A; Plantz, LV. Time: 11:29. Half-mile relay—Won by Albright (Kohl, Oberly, Snook, Tenley); LV (Saylor, Thomas, Kreider, Maston). Time: 1:39.3. 120-yard high hurdles—Won by Snook, A; Cappel, A; Billheimer, LV. Time: 16.9. 220-yard low hurdles—Won by Cappel, A; Rolan, A; Graham, LV. Time: 28.4. High Jump—Won by Hipe, A; tie between James, Alberts and Harnley, A, and Kirkpatrick, LV. Height: 5 ft. 6 in. Broad jump—Won by Brenner, A; Thomas, LV; Cassel, LV. Distance: 20 ft. 8¾ in.

Another Owl who didn't make first base thanks to Mark Heberling.

Pole vault—Tie between Alberts, Harnly, Cappel, A; Height: 10 ft. (Lebanon Valley had no entry in this event.). Shot put—Won by Potts, A; DeMarco, A; Cappel, A. Distance: 42 ft. 9¼ in. Discus—Won by Potts, A; DeMarco, A; Cappel, A. Distance: 125 ft. 3¼ in. Javelin—Won by Harnly, A; Tenley, A; Cappel, A. Distance: 195 ft. 7¾ in. Final score: Albright 89; Lebanon Valley 44.

"Madame," said the pet shop owner to the woman, this is our very best buy—a thoroughbred bloodhound." "How do I know it's a bloodhound?" she asked. "Ambrose," the proprietor said, "come over here and bleed for the lady." Yale Record

He: "Will you marry me?" She: "Oh, yes!" Long silence. She: "Darling, why don't you say something?" He: "I've said too much already." Iowa State Daily

LaSalle and Hounds Next for LVC Nine

The charges of baseball mentor Ralph Mease, were scheduled to play Albright at Reading on Monday, but due to the fact that it rained, the game was postponed and was re-scheduled for yesterday afternoon if the weather permitted. On Saturday the Flying Dutchmen continue on the road when they invade Philadelphia to meet the LaSalle College nine. Last season the Explorers came to Annville and went home with a decisive 11-0 defeat pinned on them by the Blue and White, Tuesday, May 2, the Mease-men journey to Bethlehem where they will battle the Moravian College diamonds. Last year the Greyhounds split a pair of games with the Dutchmen.

Lebanon Valley will be represented at the Penn Relays on Friday and Saturday and will run its second dual meet of the season at Lancaster on May 3, when Roger Robinson's boys will take the field and cinder's against Franklin and Marshall.

The start of the 440 at Albright track meet—won by "Chuck" Maston.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 21

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, May 4, 1950

New Gymnasium in its present stage of construction.

Cornerstone Laid For New Gymnasium; Dr. Miller Presides Over the Ceremonies

The laying of the cornerstone for the new Physical Education Building at Lebanon Valley College will take place this Saturday afternoon, May 6 (rain date, May 13), at 1:00 P.M., immediately preceding the traditional May Day Program. Presiding at the ceremonies will be Dr. Frederic K. Miller, Assistant to the President and chairman of the Athletic Council. According to the College administration, the following schedule will be followed at the ceremonies: Statement by President Clyde A. Lynch; Prayer by Dr. William A. Wilt, College Pastor; Remarks by Clair Buchart, Architect; the Holy Bible, Denominational and Conference periodicals, Charter, campus publications, local newspapers and radio articles to be inserted in the box of the cornerstone, to be received and deposited by Claude R. Donmoyer, Custodian of the Grounds and Buildings Committee; laying of the cornerstone by Dr. Lynch; and the singing of the Alma Mater by the spectators, accompanied by a brass quartet directed by Professor E. P. Rutledge, Director of Musical Organizations at the College Conservatory of Music. The Benediction will be pronounced by Dr. A. H. M. Stonecipher, Dean of the College.

Seniors Plan Class Day Program for June 3

The Class of 1950 is making an attempt to re-establish another custom on campus; a class day program. Toward this end, thirty members met last week to make some early preparations; and by the looks of things

Reed Elected President Of Pol. Science Club

At its last meeting of the year the Political Science Club elected Charles Reed as its president for the coming year.

Reed, running on the Constitutional Party ticket unopposed, is a charter member of the Club and has served during the past year as chairman of the important fund-raising basketball program committee. A delegate to the Intercollegiate Conference on Government for two years, he was a member this year of the Local Government Committee at Harrisburg. Reed will bring to the Chair a working knowledge of Robert's Rules of Order.

His successful vice-presidential running mate, Robert Moller, has been president of the club during the current year.

Other members of the Constitutional Party ticket elected to office were: Secretary, Dotty Dando; Treasurer, Guy Euston; and Parliamentarian, Phil Hayes.

Reed's first action after his victory was to appoint Evelyn Toser as Student-Faculty representative for the Club.

The new officers will be inaugurated at the Political Science Club social meeting to be held Friday, May 19, at the New England pantry.

Their efforts are going to be realized. Naturally, the nature of the program must remain a secret, but such class notables as DiJohnson, Wallace, Smith, Bozarth, Ulrich, Bucher, Fisher and Eckert will all be taking part.

The program will be held on June 3rd at two o'clock, and the management is looking for a large turnout of alumnae, faculty, and students. Ray Kline is program chairman. Seniors interested may apply.

May Day Theme Is Old Time Melodrama

"Come to the Fair," the general theme of the May Day pageant on the Lebanon Valley College campus, Saturday afternoon, May 6th (rain date, May 13), 2:00 P.M., will feature monkeys, clowns, fortune tellers, horses, side shows, tumbling acts, and many other spectacular circus attractions, according to an announcement by Mrs. Ernestine J. Smith, Director of Physical Education for Women, who is in charge of the production. Special music is furnished by the College Band under the direction of Professor Edward P. Rutledge, Director of Musical Organizations at the Conservatory of Music.

The following is a synopsis of the May Day theme as written by Dr. George G. Struble, Professor of English.

COME TO THE FAIR or THE BEAUTIFUL EQUESTRIENNE

Ever since childhood Little Nell had heard stories about the circus. Although she was a farmer's daughter, her father, Roscoe Bean, had followed the circus in his youth and had many stories to tell about the exciting things that happen in the saw-dust ring. Was it any wonder then that Little Nell, when she saw the gaudy posters announcing the appearance of the circus at the state fair, should want to leave home to join the troupe? In spite of the remonstrances of her father, of her brother Hi (for Hiram), and of Harold McGuire, her country lover, she goes to Centreopolis and soon has a job as a bare-back rider. She has told Harold that she must choose between marriage and a career; and in her imagination she sees herself performing to the plaudits of adoring multitudes.

Brightbill, Kline, Wallace Have Leads In May Day Pageant

The students appearing in the picture below are the leading characters in the May Day pageant to be held May 6. They are Phyllis Brightbill, Dave Wallace, and Ray Kline. Phyllis Brightbill has the feminine lead and plays the part of Little Nell, a farmer's daughter who wants to be a bare-back rider in the circus. Miss Brightbill is a Junior at Lebanon Valley College and an English major. Currently she is teaching physical education at Lebanon Catholic High, Lebanon, Pennsylvania, her home town.

Raymond Kline, a senior also from Lebanon, plays the awkward gambo-ling country hick, Hiram, Nell's brother, who follows Little Nell in order to protect her from the dangers of the circus life.

Dave Wallace steps a bit out of character to act opposite Miss Brightbill as the villain of the show. "Mortimer Witherspoon, ringmaster of the circus and a mustache twirling badman in the old melodramatic tradition.

Old Roscoe, who knows only too well the temptations that beset a girl under the big top, also goes to Centreopolis, and without his daughter's knowledge gets a job with the circus as a clown. He believes that hidden under his clown's disguise he can keep an eye on Little Nell and shield her from harm. He soon learns that his apprehensions were not without reason, for Mortimer Witherspoon, handsome ringmaster of the circus, under the pretense of giving lessons in equitation, has been lavishing his attentions on the unsuspecting girl.

In the meantime Hi, not knowing of his father's activities has also gone, umbrella and all, to Centreopolis to

(Continued on Page 2)

Raymond Kline, Phyllis Brightbill, and Dave Wallace pictured in scene from pageant.

Campus Chatter . . .

The hayride was a big success . . . even if there were two flat tires and a violation of that twelve o'clock rule! . . . Paul Edwards, Jerry Makris, and Dick Moore with gals from Lebanon . . . Belle Halseler and George Kreig . . . "Eppie" Gehman and Joe Ferrer, Joyce Hammock and Bill Miller making a new twosome . . . Jerry DeLong and Don ("Gorgeous George") Hedgecock on the hayride . . . the "Y" Retreat "retreating" back to campus . . . a bang-up stag party featuring Fuzzy (Professional dancer) Fazekas and Frank (Future conservite) DeAngelis . . . missing knives and forks from the dining hall found in Dr. Grimm's car . . . LV Soc-ites making headlines with their census survey of Annville . . . (Remember, keep that foot in the door!) . . . a note to "Dorie" Eckert that the new addition to North Hall is a sewing machine, not a "hamster" . . . Marge Halburt and Jim Kendig dating . . . suntans are beginning to show . . . (In the darndest places!) . . . campus scattered with would-be May Day performers . . . and model airplane enthusiasts . . . namely Carl Stien and his "one-prop-a-flight-plus-loose-bolts model" . . . anyway, it flies . . . why don't "Jeep" and Jeanne Hull have little ones walking with them in the May Day procession? All Jeep had to say was "Nothing happened!" . . . Al Zangreli and Bob Geyer should join a chorus line (one, two, three—kick!) . . . for better results don't forget May Day, the Junior Prom, and the Senior Jazz Concert . . .

Senior Snapshot

By Betty Bakley

The subject to be snapped this week, is a guy who finds Greek and Math just as easy as that good old subject of friendliness. Norman Bucher, president of the YM and math major extraordinary, is the senior in the spotlight.

Being a Valleyite seems to run in the Bucher family, for not only did Norm's brother graduate from LV last year, but his mother and father were members of a Lebanon Valley class which boasts such a notable as our own President Lynch.

Norm was among the nine voted to the Who's Who in the Senior Class of 1950 and for quite a number of good reasons. He is a member of Phi Alpha Epsilon honor society, and was on the Quittie staff last year on the business end of that project. German Club, Chorus, to say nothing of the L-Club are numbered with Norm's activities. Baseball, in which he participated for several years as first baseman, was his main interest in the line of sports. He has also been working as assistant to Professor Erickson.

Norm who has taken the pre-ministerial course has the Lancaster Seminary lined up for the next stop in his career. All of us who have known him well or perhaps only slightly can be assured that he will be a worthy addition to the field he has chosen for his life work. Good luck from the Valley, Norm.

Election Returns:

Wig and Buckle: President, George DeLong; Vice President, Liz Beittel; Secretary, Barbara Metzger; Treasurer, Charles Kagey.

Women's Athletic Association: President, Helen MacFarland; Vice President, Diane Randolph; Secretary, Dottie Witmer; Treasurer, Peg Bowler.

Philo: President, Dave Bomgardner; Vice President, Charles Williams; Secretary, Jack Saylor; Treasurer, Paul Stambaugh; Chaplain, Bob Feaster.

Delphin: President, Anne Shroyer; Vice President, Rufina Balmer; Corresponding Secretary, Dottie Witmer; Recording Secretary, Liz Beittel; Treasurer, Mardia Melroy.

W. C. C. Elects New Officers

On Wednesday, April 26th, the Women's Commuter's Council (W. C. C.) officers were elected for the following year. The results are as follows: President, Ruth Ann Brown; Vice President, Louise Light; Secretary, Nancy Moyer.

We wish to congratulate those elected and extend to them the best of wishes in the work which is before them.

Heart: This is the part of the body which is kept in a valise and is played by beats. A woman may love you from the bottom of her heart, but there's always room for some other fellow at the top.

Crowded shot of Senior-sponsored hayride.

May Day

(Continued from Page 1)

offer his protection to Little Nell. However Hi knows little of the ways of the big city, and soon finds himself victim of smooth confidence-men and butt of circus wags.

But when Little Nell finds herself in a most compromising situation, as a result of the machinations of Mortimer Witherspoon, it is neither the courageous but pathetic Rosco Bean, nor the ludicrous Hi who saves her, just in the nick of time, but Harold McGuire, her faithful lover.

Class of '51 Elect Officers

Elections for the Class of '51 were held last Thursday, April 27 in the front hall of the Administration Building. Those officers elected are as follows: President, Bruce Wiser; Vice President, Jay Flocken; Secretary, Joyce Carpenter; and Treasurer, Richard Kline.

Thanks to the many Juniors who took a few minutes to cast a ballot. We had a good cross-section of the class represented.

Student-Faculty Council to Meet

There will be a meeting of all new members of the Student-Faculty Council on May 9th, 1950, at 4:00 P.M. in Room 5.

All presidents-elect should have their representatives appointed by that time, so that their organizations will be represented when the election of next year's officers takes place. Officers will be elected from those representatives appointed; hence, appointees should be qualified for the various responsibilities accompanying the respective offices.

Joan Klingler and C. Daugherty Score High in "Times" Test

The Department of Political Science has just received a copy of the Summary of Scores on the annual Nation-wide "Times" Current Affairs Test.

A total of 5,530 students from 69 junior and senior colleges took the test. A Lebanon Valley College student, Miss Joan Klingler, received the highest individual score given a contestant, 97 points. The highest nation-wide score for Freshmen, 85 points, was earned by another Lebanon Valley student, Mr. Carl Daugherty.

Lebanon Valley quartile and median scores ranged from 17 to 23 points above the national averages.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 21 May 4, 1950

LA VIE COLLEGIENNE is published weekly throughout the college year, except holiday and examination periods, by the students of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania.

LA VIE is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

Co-editors . . . . . Dorothy Thomas and Betty Bakley
Assistant Editor . . . . . Marianne Shenk
Sports Editor . . . . . Jim Pacy
Conservatory Editor . . . . . Robert Rhein
Exchange Editor . . . . . Pat Wood
Photographers . . . . . Martin Trostle, Ed Tesnar
Advisers . . . . . G. G. Struble, E. P. Rutledge, T. Keller
Business Manager . . . . . Victor Alsborge
Business Adviser . . . . . A. P. Orth
Circulation Manager . . . . . Phil Hayes
Reporters: Jeanne Hull, Joan Orlando, Bill Miller, Dave Snyder, Bill Fisher, Alex Fehr, Harry Graham, Jeanne Bozarth, John Nilan, Dorothy Dando, Dorothea Cohen, Dick Kaylor, Andrew Geidt, Kermit Keilner, Glenn Woods, Vivian Werner, Carl Dougherty, Nancy Myers, Donald Paine, Mardia Melroy, David Wallace, Neil Timberlin.

Plan On Attending
JUNIOR PROM
Zembo Mosque — May 6

Conserv Notes . . .

By Dottie Cohen

Echoes of the Lafayette Chorus Concert . . . "Ah, all men!" . . . "Through all my days I'll sing the praise of brown October ale" . . . "That was a good lamp-shade" . . . Senior Class concert is coming up on Friday, tomorrow—that is . . . Don Trostle and the Valley Dance Orchestra will be the music makers . . . don't miss the Glee Club and orchestra doing "Tenderly" . . . Annette Read and Pierce Getz on recital tonight, May 4 . . . "Tony" will be accompanied by Polly Stoner, pianist . . . May Day is the 6th of May if it doesn't rain . . . Prof. Landor warming up for his recital on May 8 . . . Betty Miller and Gerry Rothermel doubling for a recital of their own on May 9 . . . Don't forget the band banquet . . . May 10th is the date.

Professor Landor Presents Recital

Neville Landor, professor of voice at Lebanon Valley College, will present a recital on Monday, May 8. Among the numbers he will sing during the course of the evening are two arias from operas by Handel, as well as Four Serious Songs, written by Brahms. Some of the other songs to be heard are by Moussorgsky, Fer-syth, White, and Rachmaninoff.

Here, from the college catalogue, is a brief summary of the exceptional musical background of Professor Landor:

Articled to Sir William Morrison, 1922; Admitted to the bar and practiced as a lawyer three years; Italian Bel Canto School under William Spooner of London, England; Modern Scientific School of Voice under Douglas Stanley and Eugene Feuchtinger, 1931-1933; Curtis Institute, Opera Major, Philadelphia, Pa., 1938-1939; Guest Soloist, WMCA radio station, New York, 1932; Featured Soloist, General Electric Broadcast, Schenectady, New York, 1934; American Civic Opera Co., debut in vaudeville presentation in "Carmen" and "Pagliacci," 1934; Solo Baritone, Belmont's Radio Quartet, 1934; Salmagigi Chicago Opera Co., "Aida," Hippodrome, New York City, 1939; Soloist, three years, Temple Immanuel under Lazare Saminsky, New York; Soloist, three years, Saint Vincent Ferrer's Church under Constantino Yon, New York City; Four appearances as soloist with New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Arthur Rodzinski and one appearance as soloist with National Orchestral Association, Carnegie Hall, Season 1945-1946; Extended concert tours and oratorio engagements in and around New York City, Vermont, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania; Instructor of Voice, Delaware School of Music; Director of Voice, Eugene Feuchtinger Studios, 1939; Studio, Riverside Drive, New York City, 1940—; Accepted by Teachers College, Columbia University, and his name placed on their Register, as a vocal teacher with whom students of Columbia University may study for college credits, 1947; Professor of Voice, Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music, 1948—.

Doctor's Definitions:
Alimentary canal: Located between Hoboken and Passaic.
Brain: A wonderful organ. It starts working the minute you meet your girl friend and does not stop until you go to class.
Dandruff: Little whitish dots trying to get ahead.

Read and Getz Present Recital

Miss Annette Read, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Read, 724 N. Hanover Street, Carlisle, Pa., Conservatory Senior, and Mr. Pierce A. Getz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Getz, Denver, Pa., Conservatory Junior, will be soloists at a recital to be given in the Engle Hall of the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music, Thursday evening, May 4. The public is invited to attend and there is no charge for admission.

Miss Read, Soprano soloist, has studied for the past two and a half years with Reynaldo Rovers, Professor of Voice at the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music, who will present her in the recital Thursday evening. She studied with Charles Massinger, former Professor of Voice here, her first year and a half. A graduate of the Carlisle High School, Class of 1946, she is majoring in Music Education, and at the present time is Soprano soloist with the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Palmyra, Pa. Miss Read has sung in several recitals; is a Glee Club soloist; a member of the College Chorus; Symphony Orchestra; College Orchestra; Girls' Band; and participated in the 1950 All-State Intercollegiate Chorus. She is active in the Wig & Buckle Dramatic Society; the Delphian Literary Society, one of the Delphian Quartet members; and is on the yearbook staff.

Mr. Getz will be presented by Merl Freeland, Professor of Piano at the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music, with whom he has studied for the past three years. He was graduated from the East Cocalico High School, Reamstown, Pa., Class of 1947, and in the summer of 1946, attended the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, Md., where he was taught by Pasquale Tallarico in piano and Edward Nies-Berger in organ. Previously Mr. Getz studied piano with Ray Aires of Ephrata and organ with Theodore Sprecher, also of Ephrata. He is actively participating in the College Glee Club, Concert Band, College Chorus and is organist for the College Chapel programs. At the present time, Mr. Getz is engaged in private teaching of piano and organ, and, with an interest in the field of sacred music, serves as organist and choir director of the First Evangelical Congregational Church, 6th and Chestnut Streets, Lebanon, Pa.

Miss Read, accompanied by Miss Pauline Stoner, (Lancaster), will include in her portion of the program: "Alleluiah from the Motet 'Exsultate,

Who's Who in the Conserv

By Bob Rhein

Don Trostle

The face on the music belongs to Donald "Alias" Trostle, the man with a thousand names. Don, an energetic young man, is a very talented lad.

While in High School in Hanover, Pa., (his home town) he organized and led a dance band. He then enrolled in Western Maryland College where he spent several years before coming to LVC. Here at LVC he has been active in the College Band.

Last year during the football season he introduced the "Theme for Six Trombones" and the "Swing Cheer." More recently he composed and conducted the march "Spirit of LV," which was part of the program of the Annual Forum Concert. Don is one of Prof. Rutledge's assistants. The Senior Jazz Concert will owe much of its success to his untiring efforts.

Seniors Present "Jazz in Engle"

The long-awaited Senior Jazz Concert will be presented tomorrow night in Engle Hall at 7:30 P.M. Maestro Don Trostle has arranged a highly interesting group of jazz selections. Highlighting the program will be a special arrangement by Trostle of the lovely waltz ballad "Tenderly." This selection presents the LVC Glee Club combined with a 32-piece orchestra. The program will be divided into two parts. Part one will be pure jazz and will consist mostly of some of Stan Kenton's better known early compositions plus some completely basic jazz. The second half will feature the Glee Club directed by Prof. E. P. Rutledge, singing several popular numbers including the "Nutcracker Suite."

Bob Uhrich, Senior class president, is in charge of the committee behind the production. Lyle (Red) Schwalm is in charge of special lighting effects and Neil Timberlin is head of the wrecking crew.

Come early to get a seat because there is no admission charge.

The program follows: Theme "Procrastination," Trostle; "Eager Beaver," Kenton; "Ah, But It Happens," Dunham-Kent; "Opus in Pastels," (featuring the sax section), Kenton; "Anthropology," Pepper-Whiting; "Artistry in Boogie," Kenton; "Boogie Blues" (featuring tenor sax), Krupa; "Over the Rainbow," arr. by Trostle; Glee Club—"You'll Never Walk Alone," "Younger Generation," "Nutcracker Suite"; "Tenderly" (Glee Club and Orchestra).

Personnel of the Orchestra includes: Trumpets, Hamme, Rochwine, McCurdy, Lemon; Trombones, Kreis, Tritch, Heck, Heisey; Saxes, Stewart, Schiff, Rhein, Hawk, Roland; Rhythm—piano, Trostle; bass, Hill; drums, Casper; strings, Fisher, Hartman, Moore, Shuey, Klingensmith, Bair, Werner, Reed, Breidenstine, Lukas, Moekel, Wertz, Clay.

jubilante" by Mozart; "Chere Nuit (Dearest Night)" by Bochelet; "Standchen (Seernade)" by Strauss; "Un bel di (One Fine Day)" from the Opera "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini; "The Nightingale and the Rose" by Rimsky-Korsakoff; "Lo! Here the Gentle Lark" by Bishop, assisted by Ray Kauffman, (Oley) on the flute; "A Cycle of Life, Prelude, Down in the Forest—Spring, Love I have won you—Summer, The winds are calling —Autumn, Drift down, drift down—Winter" by Ronald; and "Sing, Oh, Robin Sing" by Wolf.

Mr. Getz's portion of the program will include: "Sonata in E Flat" (Movements—Allegro, Adagio, Presto) by Haydn; "Prelude in B Flat, Op. 28" by Chopin; "Prelude in G Minor, Op. 28" by Chopin; "Nocturne in F#, Op. 15" by Chopin and "Polonaise in F# Minor, Op. 44" by Chopin.

Murawski Fans 15 As LVC Nine Trounces LaSalle 8-2

Sawyer, Zimmerman Garner Three Hits

By Jim Pacy

Lebanon Valley's baseballers journeyed to Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon and really made their trip worthwhile as they pounded three LaSalle College hurlers for eleven hits and coupled this with Al Murawski's neat manipulation of the missile to drench the Quaker City boys by an 8-2 count for their fourth victory of the season on an unusually cold afternoon for late April.

Tom Sawyer continued his devastation of enemy pitchers as he slammed out three hits and drove in the same amount of runs while "Chuck" Zimmerman also fattened his already respectable batting average by teeing off on the opposition's hurling for three hits, batting in one run. Murawski contributed to his own victory by collecting two singles for three times at bat thus keeping the unusually high slugging percentage of the Blue and White twirling staff intact. Big Al, looked impressive on the mound and had the LaSalle batters doing everything but singing our Alma Mater as he sent fifteen of the Philadelphians down swinging and walked but two. Murawski had the game under control at all times except in the sixth frame when the Explorers bunched a walk and three singles for their only runs of the game.

Freshman Merl Wise took over the catching chores for the day due to the fact that our usual back stop, "Hank" DiJohnson, was nursing an injured hand as a result of the Al-bright fray. Wise handled himself very well in his first college game and proved a reliable replacement to look forward to in the future. "Hank" showed his all around athletic versatility once again as he played second in place of Neal Woll, until Woll came on in the seventh.

The Flying Dutchmen scored their first run in the third inning when Zimmerman nicked starting flipper Jim Covello for a single, stole second, went to third on catcher Zwann's erratic toss over the keystone sack, and crossed the plate when left fielder Hogan threw wild again in an attempt to cut Zimmerman down. Covello, the ace of the LaSalle mound staff who whipped Pennsylvania earlier in the month, went to the showers in the fifth frame after he opened the inning by hitting Richie Furda on the arm and walking "Shorty" Fields. Leon Stallings was injected to relieve Covello and this was just what the doctor ordered—that is, for Lebanon Valley. Sawyer greeted him with a single thus chasing Furda home and scooted to second while Fields was erased at third. Sawyer steamrolled home when third baseman Curcio bobbled Zimmerman's grounder and while an argument over Sawyer's recent run was going on Zimmerman romped around to third since LaSalle failed to call time. Bill Schadler helped Zimmerman home when shortstop Neil Phillips mismanaged his drive.

As if to say, "cheer up brother, the worst is yet to come," Wise started the sixth frame by lashing out a single but was called out at third when he attempted that bag after Murawski hit to right field. Al, meanwhile ran to second, and scooted to third after Dale Shellenberger grounded out. Fields was hit by Stallings and then the slamming Sawyer knocked home Murawski as he cut loose with a hit. Fields scored and Sawyer jotted to third on Zimmerman's scratch of the already highly abused offerings of Stallings. Here the homesters saw their third tosser take the hill as Harry McDermott mounted the mound to end the inning without another hit or run.

McDermott got past the seventh inning in fine style, but apparently the Dutchmen batters didn't want to make Harry feel out of place in regards to the other two LSC moundsmen so they went to work on him. Murawski started things off with a single but was forced at second while "Shelly" was safe at first on a fielder's choice. Freddie Sample took a free pass and Sawyer added to McDermott's uneasiness by tagging a toss for a base hit that drove in Shellenberger and sent Sample to third. Sample then ended the scoring by touching home on Zimmerman's ground out.

Lebanon Valley			La Salle
	r	h	ab	r	h	ab
Furda,lf	1	0	1	M'rdoack,rf	0	1
Sheller,lf	1	0	2	Hogan,lf	0	0
Fields,rf	1	0	1	Rudden,1b	1	0
Sample,rf	1	0	0	Molnar,cf	0	0
Sawyer,ss	1	3	5	Phillips,2b	1	2
Zim'an,3b	2	3	5	T'rence,ss	0	1
Sch'ler,1b	0	1	3	Curcio,3b	0	1
Heber'g,1b	0	0	2	Zwaan,c	0	1
DiJo'n,2b	0	0	3	Schne'er,c	0	0
Woll,2b	0	0	2	Covello,p	0	0
Becker,cf	0	1	4	Stallings,p	0	0
Tar'olo,cf	0	0	1	M'De'ott,p	0	1
Wise,c	0	1	5	Lesky,z	0	0
Mur'ski,p	1	2	3

Totals			Totals
8	11		2	7
zWalked for McDermott in 9th.
LVC	001	032	020	—8
LaSalle	000	002	000	—2
Runs batted in: Sawyer, 3; Zimmerman, 1; Phillips, 1; Curcio, 1. Errors: LaSalle, 5. Three-base hits: Murdock. Stolen bases: Zimmerman, Becker, D. Johnson, 2; Fields, Shellenberger, Sawyer. Bases on balls: Murawski, 2; Covello, 3; McDermott, 1. Strike-outs: Murawski, 15; McDermott, 2; Covello, 3. Hits off: Covello, 3 for 2 runs in 4 1-3 innings; hits off: Stallings, 6 for 4 runs in 3 innings. Hit by pitcher, by Covello (Furda), Stallings, (Fields). Losing pitcher: Covello. Umpires: Jacobs, Mackerey.

St. Joseph, E-town Next for Measemen

Coach Ralph Mease's charges invade Philadelphia for the second time in two weeks this afternoon as they go to the "City of Brotherly Love" to pitch battle against St. Joseph for their second game of three this week. On Tuesday the Flying Dutchmen were scheduled at Bethlehem to take on Moravian College's Bulldogs, while on May Day, Saturday, the Blue and White baseballers play their second home game of the season by meeting Elizabethtown on the new college field at 3:30.

St. Joe's should present the most formidable array of the three for the Dutchmen to handle. The Philadelphians defeated always good Seton Hall last week and in a comparison with LaSalle, the Measers dunked the Explorers 8-2 while St. Joe split with them 3-2 and 4-20. Last year

E.C.S.C. at Barnard; Miller and Snyder Present Papers

On Friday, April 28th, twelve chemistry students accompanied by R. Arndt Weickel traveled to New York City and Barnard College to attend the fourth annual Eastern College Science Conference. Barnard in a very efficient and characteristic fashion played host to 500 delegates from about one hundred colleges.

After taking the wrong subway, the LVC delegation finally invaded Barnard Hall to take part in one of the many field trips that were planned for the afternoon. Later Friday afternoon there was a reception and tea for the visiting faculty and that night a telescope demonstration in Columbia Observatory in addition to two lectures. Professor Louis Fieser, Sheldon Emery, Professor of Chemistry at Harvard and a consultant with the Merck and DuPont Companies spoke on "Samuel C. Hooker: A Unique Career and an Unexpected Contribution to Therapy." Following Dr. Fieser, Professor Gochman, Assistant Professor of Zoology at Barnard, at present engaged in research in the comparative anatomy and physiology of the thyroid gland, spoke of the effects of high doses of radioactive iodine on the gland.

On Saturday morning fifty student papers were presented and it is here that Bob Miller and Dale Snyder turned in a very creditable job with the moral support of ten fellow students. Although there was no competition and awarding of prizes, Lebanon Valley's Chemistry Department despite its size, ranked high among the colleges represented.

That afternoon there were demonstrations and exhibits by Barnard and visiting colleges and Paul H. Smith and Norbert Wiener, both mathematics professors, presented a contrast between pure and applied science. Professor Smith chairman of Columbia's Math Department spoke on "Fixed Points"—purely abstract mathematics, and Professor Wiener of M.I.T. spoke on "Cybernetics"—a practical application of mathematics.

The conference closed on Saturday night with a banquet in Barnard Hall and a speech by Dr. Edward Coudon, Director of the National Bureau of Standards, who spoke on "A Physicist's Impressions of Science in India."

E.C.S.C. is an organization of undergraduate science students whose purpose is to stimulate original research and the interchange of scientific ideas among students. Charlotte Grantz, Barnard '50, chairman of the conference, stated that, "The development of the conference as a permanent annual event in intercollegiate life is an expression of a trend on science education, a growing awareness that individual application of the scientific method to a specific problem is an invaluable experience for the student, an important supplement to the Saints tripped the Valley nine by a 5-3 margin. Moravian and Elizabethtown however, present well balanced squads and cannot be taken lightly by the locals.

The Valley track team was slated for a dual meet with Franklin & Marshall at Lancaster on Wednesday.

prescribed courses and laboratory work."

Ernst Nagel, Professor of Philosophy at Columbia University, in his article to the "Program Journal" on "The History of Philosophy as a Phase of the History of Science" stated that "a central problem of modern education is the invention of suitable means for teaching science not simply as a collection of technical achievements and useful devices, but as a discipline employing a definite logic and possessing a crucial import for men's views of themselves in relation to the rest of nature."

LVC's delegation benefited greatly by participation in this conference and performed commendably for the department and the school they represented. The group attending the conference included: Dr. J. Arndt Weickel, Robert A. Uhrich, Robert K. Miller, Victor L. Alsberge, Luke S. Albert, George Bartels, Lewis W. Bowman, Robert D. Hoffsommer, Thomas F. Kirchoff, Alonzo L. Mantz, Dale R. Snyder, and Harry W. Wolfe.

Graduate Record Examination Held June 2nd and 3rd

Under the Institutional Testing Program the Graduate Record Examination will be given at Lebanon Valley College Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, June 2 and 3. Seniors majoring in the cooperating departments who will receive their diplomas in June and also seniors who must attend summer school to complete their requirements for graduation, will be expected to take the Graduate Record Examination at the June 2 and 3 testing period. Since the administration of this examination requires eight hours, a student must be present on both testing days of the given examination period.

The College departments cooperating in the Institutional Testing Program for the current year are as follows: Business Administration and Economics, Chemistry, English, History, Philosophy, Psychology, and Sociology and Political Science.

The Graduate Record Examination will be given to Lebanon Valley College seniors in these departments this year under a new plan, known as the Institutional Testing Program. Under this plan all seniors majoring in the cooperating departments will be required to take the examinations either in January or in June, but the expenses connected with the examination, including the report of test results to the students taking the examination, will be met by the College.

The over-all testing program for the Graduate Record Examination in Lebanon Valley College is in charge of Dean Clara Chassell Cooper, who has been appointed Chief Examiner by the president.

Students desiring to take the Graduate Record Examination under the Independent Student Testing Program should get in touch with Dean Cooper at once in order to secure the necessary information and registration blanks. Students in the cooperating departments covered by the Institutional Testing Program will receive the necessary registration blanks from their faculty advisers.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 22

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, May 11, 1950

Dr. Clyde Lynch setting the cornerstone in its place at the ceremonies last Saturday preceding the May Day festivities.

Dr. Kostruba Attends Language Conf.

Dr. Helene N. Kostruba, Instructor in Russian at Lebanon Valley College, returned from a meeting of The American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages, of the Pennsylvania Chapter, held at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Kostruba presented a report about Russian courses at Lebanon Valley College which were introduced in 1947. The Russian instructor was elected to the office of Secretary of the Pennsylvania Chapter.

Dr. Kostruba also received word today that two of her poems, "Murder to the Sun" and "Fairytale" were published in the 1950 edition "Day of Russian Child," a yearly publication now in its 17th edition.

Corby, Euston Score High In TIME Test

Students registered in the Political Science courses participated last week in an intramural Time Current Affairs Test covering the months of February, March, and April.

Prizes consisting of the winners' choice of any $5.00 book, were offered by Time for the high scorer among freshmen and among upper classmen in the college.

The winner of the Freshman prize was Mr. Vernon Corby who scored 93%. The successful upper classman contestant was Mr. Guy Euston, a junior, whose score was 92%.

Chem Students Win Honors At Delaware

While most of the college was enjoying the annual May Day festivities, some representatives of the Chemistry Department were winning laurels for the Valley on the University of Delaware campus. Last Saturday, May 6, four chemistry students accompanied by Drs. Weiksel and Neidig, traveled to the University to participate in the Intercollegiate Student Chemists Convention. The I.C.S. is similar in nature, but smaller in size, to the E.C.S.C. in which the Valley was also represented last week. The active chapters of the I.S.C. are Bryn Mawr, Drexel, F. and M., Gettysburg, Haverford, Lafayette, Muhlenburg, Swarthmore, Temple, U. of Delaware, Ursinus, Villanova, and Wilson.

The morning session of the conference included the presentation of student papers on original research conducted during the past year. Bob Miller, a junior in the college from Harrisburg, who had given his paper at Barnard where no competition was conducted, proved the value of his research by winning first prize, given on the merits of the quality of the research and the presentation of his paper. The title of his paper was "The Reduction of Lowe Aromatic Ketones." The project, under the direction of Dr. Neidig, was made possible by a Frederick G. Cottrell grant from the Research Corporation of New York given to the chemistry department at the end of last year.

The chemistry department has another prize-winning student, Al Mantz, a senior from Lehigh. Al was recently awarded a graduate scholarship to the University of Delaware. Al's experiment on the subject "The Polographic Studies of Lowe Aromatic Ketones" was started this year under the direction of Dr. Weiksel and is the first physical chemistry research to be conducted at the Valley. The second and third place prizes in the competition went to F. and M. and Swarthmore, with honorable mention for Delaware and Temple.

Attending the conference were: Drs. Weiksel and Neidig, Bob Miller, Al Mantz, Louis Bowman and Elliott Nogle.

Officers Elected For Men's Senate

Bob Guyer was unanimously elected president of the 1950-51 Mens' Senate last week by the nine newly elected underclassmen who will also serve as members of the Senate next year.

Martin Trostle was chosen as Vice-president and Fred Sample as Secretary-Treasurer.

In the election for the new Senate conducted by President John Charles Smith, the following were elected as members of next years Senate by their respective classmates.

Juniors: Bob Guyer, Dick Kohler, Earl Redding, Martin Trostle, and Jack Hoak.

Baxtresser and Fairlamb Present Two-Piano Recital

Mrs. Margaret Barthel Baxtresser and Mr. William Fairlamb will present their annual two-piano recital in Engle Hall, Thursday evening, May 18, 1950.

Mrs. Baxtresser recently won national recognition when she received the Naumberg Award. Mr. Fairlamb has also gained considerable attention for his excellent technique and interpretation. Their combined efforts promise a program of varied and highly musical content.

Their program includes the Handel Concerto Grosso No. 4; Brahms Variations on a Theme by Haydn; Fetes by Debussy; and Ritmo by Infante.

There is no admission charge.

Dr. Arnold Speaker At Psych Meeting

Dr. Magda B. Arnold, Professor of Psychology at Bryn Mawr College, gave an address May 3, at 8:00 P.M. in Delphian Hall at Lebanon Valley College. The title of her subject was "A New Theory of the Emotions, with Practical Applications to Everyday Life." These lectures are arranged under the auspices of the Psychology Club with Dr. Clara C. Cooper, Professor of Psychology, Supervisor of the organization.

A discussion period followed the lecture and students, as well as their guests, were cordially invited to attend. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Glee Club-Band Concert May 12

The Lebanon Valley College Conservatory will present its 18th annual Music Festival, a combined Glee Club-Band Concert, in Engle Hall, Friday evening, May 12th, at 8:00 P.M. The public is cordially invited to attend and the tickets, priced at $.75 can be purchased at the door.

The Glee Club, accompanied in many numbers by an eleven-piece orchestra, will present a program of folk songs, sacred numbers, classical music, and operatic excerpts. The second portion of the program will be given to the College Concert Band. The band will play several marches, a concert overture, and several band concert selections.

Both musical organizations are under the direction of Professor Edward P. Rutledge.

Men's Banquet Held Tonight at Legion

A banquet for twenty-three members of the Men's Governing Bodies, the Men's Senate and the Men's Day Student Congress, will be held this Thursday at the Annnville Legion.

Professors Miller, Shay and Fagan will be guests at the banquet which will feature a short program consisting of brief remarks by retiring presidents John C. Smith of the Senate and Raymond Kline of the Day Student Congress and presidents-elect Bob Guyer and Jay Flocken.

Also included on the program will be a quartet of Bob Kline, Norm Bucher, Bob Guyer and John Charles Smith.

Pat Esposito, newly-elected president of Kalo Society, receiving his oath of office from the retiring president, Bob Moller, at the annual Kalo banquet last week.

Campus Chatter . . .

FOR WHOM THE BELLS TOLLED

or

WHOM TOLLED THE BELLS?

May Day festivities off with a big "BONG" Friday morning at 1:30 A.M. . . . Men's dorm "whooping" it up with fire crackers, blasts, etc., etc., . . . Dean Fagan complaining of "ringing" ears . . . at May Day itself the sun a most welcome visitor . . . several co-eds having an excuse to make "monkeys" of themselves . . . Phyl Brightbill giving a convincing performance of the old time melodrama . . . "Jaw-Breaker Joyce" and "Terrible Trigger" stealing the show . . . Frank Supeno's dance "pretty terrific" . . . "Tiny" Kline getting cheers and laughs as usual—just a "hick" from Lebanon . . . Faculty and alumni children adding that "cute" touch . . . comments heard from visitors as to whether the seesaws and sliding boards were permanent fixtures on campus . . . bouquets of orchids to Mrs. Smith, Prof. Rutledge, the Y cabinet, and all others who made May Day the best ever . . .

Perfect Ending for a Perfect Day

Junior Prom with almost everyone there . . . "Tiny" (the farm was never like this) Kline and his gal from Maryland . . . Dave (pattended voice) Wallace and Dottie Kline . . . newly engaged Bob Uhrich and our lovely queen "Boz" . . . Maid of Honor Phyl Dale escorted by ex-Valleyite Steve Crowell . . . Polly Stoner and "Hoppy" Krieder . . . Nance Bowman's Ken and "Mike" Shenk's Dick here for the whole weekend . . . J. C. Smith and Madeline Quickle . . . "Zosia" with "Stosu" . . . Nancy Myers and "Big Bill" Frazier . . . two pair of alumni "Rene" Malask and Abba Cohen and "Nan" Ulrich and Glenn Cousler . . . George Haines and former South Hall gal "Butch" Bell . . . "Nurse" Esther Engle with the guy who lives next door, Bill Craighead . . . "Ginger" Wagner and "Red" Schwam . . . "Mickey" Begg and Bobby Gluck having an "especially" happy time . . . glad to see co-editor "Tommy" Thomas and Bob Haines there . . . Have you seen Dick Herman from Bucknell and Joan—Bair? . . . Pat Alsberge and Pat Snyder . . . Jo Fox and Tom Sawyer seen together often . . . Betty Edleman and Turk Kramer . . . Lois Shettler and Jack Springer . . . "Lefty" Euston making many trips to his car . . . Ann Shroyer with Bob Tarantolo . . . Bobby Ayres and Ruthie Cramer . . . "Liz" Beittel with "Tex" Plantz.

Scads of faculty showing off new gowns and those special jitter-bug steps . . . Don Trostle and company doing a terrific job as usual . . . a good time had by all . . . Next on the agenda—Senior Ball . . . See you there . . .

Government Bodies Train for Office

On May 16 and 17, the first Student Government Training Program will be held at Lebanon Valley College. Organized and supervised by Ray Kline, president of the Student-Faculty Council, the program is a two-day, four-hour affair designed to instruct the members of the four governing bodies as to their duties and responsibilities in campus government.

The Dutchgirl and Dutchboy above, future Valleyites of the class of '70, are Linda Kiss and Johnny Adams, cousins of La Vie Sports Editor, Jim Pacy.

Highlighting the activities will be addresses by Dr. Frederick K. Miller, Assistant to the President, and Professor Maud P. Laughlin, head of the Political Science Department. Dr. Miller will speak on Tuesday, May 16, at 11:00 A.M. on "The Theory of Student Government." Professor Laughlin will speak at the same hour on Wednesday, May 17, and her subject will be "A Practical Approach to Campus Politics and Student Government Activities."

The remaining two hours, at 4:00 P.M. on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16 and 17, will be devoted to the students themselves. On Tuesday, the retiring presidents will deliver individual talks on the education they have gleaned after a year's service at the forefront of the Valley's campus government. The presidents-elect of the four governing bodies and the Student-Faculty Council will speak briefly at this same session. The final meeting on Wednesday will be a roundtable affair at which time members will discuss and opine on the previous lectures.

Attendance to this program is compulsory for all members-elect of the Resident Women's Student Government Association, the Women's Commuter's Council, the Men's Senate, and the Men Day Student's Congress. It should be understood that this program is closed to these persons and the retiring student government officers. It is the duty of the presidents-elect of the four governing bodies to see that all members are present.

Senior Snapshot

By Betty Bakley

The tall, slim, friendly gal pictured above is a Valley co-ed of many achievements and wide interests. Ex-pres. of Jiggerboard, Charlotte Rohrbach, is the versatile lady in the limelight. As this year's Jiggerboard president, Charlotte has done a bang-up job and earned the respect and liking of all who associated with her, both those on the board and those unlucky enough to stand before it.

In addition to this office Charlotte was secretary-treasurer of the Chem Club, treasurer of the Y-Cabinet, vice-president of Clio, and former treasurer of Jiggerboard.

Charlotte is one of the hard-working gang who spend much of their time slaving over hot test tubes and is usually found in the vicinity of the lab.

A local gal from Harrisburg, Charlotte was elected to Who's Who of 1950 and well earned that honor. She will graduate this year with a BS in chemistry and medical school seems to be on the horizon for her future. Charlotte with her likeable personality, conscientiousness, and flair for hard work, is sure to be a credit and asset to the profession she so wants to enter. From all of us here at the Valley come wishes for the best of success and happiness, Charlotte. Good luck.

Student-Faculty Council Elects 1950-51 Officers

The members-elect of the Student-Faculty Council met on Monday, May 8, to elect officers for next year. William Wert, as a result of his conscientious and efficient work during the past year, was elected president. Martin Trostle, president-elect of the SCA, was elected vice-president; Evelyn Toser was elected secretary; and Paul Stambach was chosen as treasurer.

Ray Kline, retiring president, ex-

Freshman Officers Elected for 1950-51

The Freshman Class met for the election of their officers for 1950 and '51 on Tuesday, May 9, after chapel in the college church.

Charles Kagey was re-elected as president for his second term, and Bill Shoppell was elected vice president. Secretary for the next college year will be Joyce Hammock, and the treasurer will be Don Krieder. explained the structure and function of the Council in student activities and outlined the activities that were performed by the retiring group.

"WELL, WELL— THE SHINING KNIGHT IN WHITE ARMOR, THE GAY
LOTHARIO FROM THE WEST, THE BEAU BRUMMEL OF PARK AVENUE
—COME IN, JERKI"

Who's Who in the Conserv

Fred Brown, the Conserv "senior with the bassoon," hails from Wyoming, Delaware. He graduated from the Caesar Rodney High School in his home town. While in high school, he had a tres busy life. Musically speaking, he played clarinet and oboe in the school band and served as student librarian, manager, and director of the organization. He played sax and clarinet in the "jazz" band.

Extra curricularly speaking, Fred was editor of the high school paper, vice-president of the student council and senior class and valedictorian of his class.

Fred served in the U. S. Navy during the war and came to L.V. in '46.

For three years the young-man-with-the-horn has played in the college instrumental organizations and the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra. He is a dean's list student, a four-year-Kalo man, chairman of the music committee for the Y.M. and was co-chairman of the pre-Christmas conserv dance committee.

Fred, a "terrific guy" from "down South" receives this week's La Vie's best wishes for a bright future.

Don Trostle and his orchestra as they appeared in the first Valley Jazz Concert last Friday night. The first half of the program was devoted to band numbers. For the second part, Don added a string section and the College Glee Club to do his arrangement of Tenderly. The Glee Club also presented several numbers under the direction of Prof. Rutledge during this second half of the program.

Conserv Notes . . .

By Dottie Cohen

Hallway reverberations . . . "If we attend all these recitals, as we're supposed to, when are we supposed to get our work done? . . . "Hm, good question . . ."

Jazz concert last Friday . . . "Tenderly" . . . Don "Fingers" Trostle . . . "It was a good try" . . . "Good! It was great" . . . Bob Rhein, ye olde tenor man . . .

May 12 is the date for the Glee Club-Band Music Festival . . . That's tomorrow evening . . . Tickets are $.75 per . . .

Belle Haeseler is on recital Sunday, May 14, in Engle Hall, at 3:30 . . . She's the organist who does all her recital work by memory . . . Don't miss that Sonata by Jongen . . . most unique.

Harold Malsh, son of Mr. Harold Malsh, professor of violin here at the conserv, appeared as guest soloist on the Time for Defense broadcast over WABC last Tuesday evening, May 9.

Something different in the way of public recitals coming up May 15. Appearing on the program will be the Woodwind Quintet featuring Ray Kauffman on the flute, George Eschbach on oboe, Jack Snavely on clarinet, Scott Hamor on horn, and Fred Brown on bassoon. Donald Caldren, cornetist, accompanied by Richard Kline; Joyce Carpenter, soprano; a quintet consisting of Wilbur Hartman playing 1st violin, Bob Fisher playing 2nd violin, Joan Bair viola, and Bob Clay, cello, with Jack Snavely on clarinet; Dorothea Cohen, pianist, will also be on the program.

Joyce Hammock, pianist, will present a recital in Engle Hall, on May 16.

Recitals on the Agenda

On Tuesday, May 16, Mrs. Margaret Barthel Baxtresser, piano professor in the Conservatory, will present Joyce Hammock, pianist, in recital in Engle Hall. Miss Hammock will play several selections by Bach, Mozart, Chopin, Brahms, Debussy, Scriavine, and Prokofieff.

Mr. Merl Freeland, piano professor in the Conservatory, will present Dorothea Cohen as part of the public recital to be presented in Engle Hall on Monday, May 15. Among the numbers she will play are several works by Brahms, Debussy, and Kabalevsky.

Professor R. Porter Campbell will present Miss Isabelle Haeseler, organist, in a full recital on Sunday, May 14, in Engle Hall, at 3:30 P.M. Miss Haeseler studied with Miss Roberta Bitgood, dean of the Bloomfield chapter of the American Guild of Organists, from 1941-43. In 1943 she competed in a contest sponsored by the Griffith Music Foundation and was awarded a plaque. While studying at Oberlin under Miss Claire Coci, she appeared in two concert recitals.

In her program she will play a Mozart Toccata, Adagio, and Fugue in C; a Toccata, Tues Petra, by Mulet; a selection by Vierne, and Sonata Eroica, Op. 94, by Jongen.

Jazz Concert Rocks Engle

Composer, arranger, and bandleader Don Trostle gave a full concert of good American jazz to a very receptive audience at Engle Hall last Friday night. The program included progressive jazz, bop, original compositions by Don, and one of his special arrangements for band and mixed voices. The work done in preparation for the concert was apparent by the speed and smoothness with which it progressed.

The first half of the program was instrumental, with the exception of a very fine rendition of "Sorry" by Ann Shroyer. Most of the arrangements centered around the woodwind section, with the brass blowing high and mighty in the back-ground. Mel Schiff gave an exceptionally good demonstration of tone, control, technical ability, and wonderful imagination. The "Schiffless One" is a worthwhile addition to any jazz combo.

Charlie Kreis blew a veritable storm in "Artistry in Boogie." "Carlos" plays what is known to jazz men as an impressionistic riff. Perhaps everyone didn't like it, but they surely heard it.

They also heard Bob Rhein. Bob plays a style vaguely reminiscent of Chicago in 1935. His dark glasses and pugnacious pose completely rounded off his satirical presentation of a form of jazz still admired in small musical circles. The audience immediately fell for him and had a good time clapping and whistling. By the way, Bob, were you using a stiff reed? A few of those notes were a few vibrations off.

Don was featured at piano in Theme to the West. Mr. Trostle's ability at the piano speaks for itself. Too bad a man with all that talent only has ten fingers.

Prof. E. P. Rutledge presented the Glee Club and changed the musical pace nicely. The Negro spirituals and American folk tunes are the basis of present-day jazz. Hearing them with the rest of the program was like seeing a skeletal outline of all modern attempts at interpretation.

Don's arrangement of "Tenderly," scored for band, voice, and strings, really brought down the house. Such a brilliant piece of work, arranged and presented in such a professional manner, can not be praised too highly. The success or failure of the whole concert centered largely around this number. Needless to say, it was worthy of the attention it received. It couldn't miss, Don.

It's all over, but it probably won't be forgotten for quite a while. All congratulations go to Don, the musicians, and the faculty V.I.P.'s who made the whole program possible. Will we have another next year?

St. Joe, E-town, and F & M Fall Before Dutchman Nine

Valley Clubs St. Joe Nine by 13-6 Score

Apparently the Lebanon Valley College baseball squad holds some sort of supremacy over Philadelphia's collegiate diamonders. This became evident on Thursday afternoon when the Flying Dutchmen made their third bid for victory against a Quaker City team another success as they vanquished St. Joseph's College to the tune of 13-6 in a game that was marked by free hittin, loose fielding, and erratic pitching. In their previous encounters with Philadelphia combines, Coach Ralph Mease's crew shut out Temple 6-0, and bombed LaSalle 8-2.

A total of thirteen hits which included six doubles for the combined offerings of four St. Joe pitchers paced the Blue and White to victory. Glenn Thomas won his first game of the season going seven and two-thirds innings before giving way to Neil Kraul. Thomas limited the Hawks to three hits and one run before he ran into trouble in the eighth. Kraul came on and walked a man but the inning was ended shortly as the next batter flied to left field. After the Valley ran wild for five runs in the top of the ninth to take a 13-3 lead, St. Joe added three more runs in the bottom of the same frame to end the dragged-out game. Kraul encountered trouble in the ninth when he gave up two walks and two singles thus needing the assistance of Al Murawski to finish the contest. Murawski came on and pitched to four batters before the fray finally ended.

Richie Furda scored the first LVC run after he had opened the game by greeting starting twirler McNally with a single, racing home when the Saint's shortstop, Young, erred on "Chuck" Zimmerman's smash. The Valley notched two more markers in the fifth. Floyd Becker was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on Young's second error while Thomas, who made first on the same error, tagged home plate as "Shorty" Fields clouted a double. The Valley men ran up another score in the sixth when Zimmerman singled, went to third on Schadler's double and registered as "Hank" DiJohnson flied to center. Schadler batted in two more runs in the seventh frame when he doubled in Tom Sawyer and Zimmerman who had made first safely on another Young error and a fielder's choice respectively. Still another pair of plate-crossings were accomplished in the eighth when Thomas began the inning with a single and romped home on Fields' second two-bagger. Fields in turn scored when Sawyer helped ruin the Hawks' hurler, Homyak, who came in to relieve starter McNally, by bashing the ball for another Lebanon Valley double.

Then came the ninth and if St. Joe's thought that the hitting, running, and scoring was over, they had another guess coming for the Blue and White chased home five runs on one hit, six free passes, a balk and an error. Homyak walked Schadler who went to second when DiJohnson hit safely. Becker drew a base on balls to load the bags. John Stamato walked for catcher Merl Wise forcing Schadler

Measemen Slaughter Elizabethtown 15-2

Keeping in line with the joyous celebration of May Day, the Lebanon Valley College nine came up with a bizarre third inning and trampled Elizabethtown College's horsehiders by an overwhelming 15-2 count on Saturday afternoon. The baseball game was the first inter-collegiate contest of any sort to be played on the new athletic field and was a fine christening the new diamond. Al Murawski recorded his third win of the season as he went the distance in downing the visitors.

Once again "Chuck" Zimmerman and Tom Sawyer were the leading hitters for the Flying Dutchmen. Zimmerman had a perfect day at the plate collecting three hits for three times at bat, while Sawyer hit two for four. After E-town marked up one run in the top of the first, the Blue and White came back with five walks, four of which were consecutive, plus two flies to the outfield to let in three Dutchmen runs. Each team went without a run during the second inning and then came Elizabethtown's fatal third, which had the makings of a track meet. A total of seventeen men came to bat in this frame as the Valleyites created a scorekeeper's nightmare by scoring twelve runs on seven hits, six free passes, a hit batter, and a wild pitch. Upon completion of this miniature marathon Coach Ralph Mease began inserting replacements and there was no more scoring for the afternoon. E-town managed its other run in the top of the third before the Dutchman deluge.

The visiting pitchers, Kopenhauer and Walters, allowed a total of ten hits and fourteen walks. Who said the LV players missed the May Day events?

Lebanon Valley (15)				Elizabethtown (2)
ab	r	h		ab	r	h
Furda,lf	1	2	0	Martin,ss	4	1	1
Shel'b'ger,lf	1	0	0	Kell,cf	3	0	0
Fields,rf	2	3	1	Hess,3b,2b	4	0	2
Sample,rf	2	0	0	Kline,c	4	0	0
Sawyer,ss	4	3	2	Berger,2b	2	0	0
Z'm'man,3b	3	2	3	Goss,2b	1	0	0
Gluntz,3b	1	0	0	Snively,rf	4	0	1
Schadler,1b	2	2	1	Meyer,1b	4	0	1
Heb'ling,1b	2	0	0	Lehman,lf	2	0	0
DiJoh's'n,2b	3	0	1	Foster,lf	2	0	0
Woll,2b	0	0	0	Kopenhauer,p	1	1	1
Becker,cf	1	1	1	Walters,p	2	0	1
Tarantolo,cf	1	0	0
Wise,c	4	1	1
Murawski,p	4	1	0
31 15 11				33 2 7

E-town ..... 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-2
Lebanon Valley 3 0 12 0 0 0 0 x-15
Statistics: Errors, LVC, 1; E., 2. Two base hits, Sawyer; Wise; Schadler; Kopenhauer; Martin. Bases on balls, off Murawski, 3; Kopenhauer, 7; Walters, 7. Struck out, by Murawski, 4; Walters, 3. Hit by pitcher, Schadler by Kopenhauer. Losing pitcher, Kopenhauer. Umpires, Imboden and Dissinger.

in and keeping the sacks full. Here the homesters third pitcher, Crowley, took over the flipping chores. DiJohnson scored on catcher Readinger's error and then Becker was called home on Crowley's balk. Crowley walked Kraul and Shellenberger, who had replaced Furda, thus sending home Stamato. A new pitcher, Corson, entered to finish us, but before he hid, he walked Freddie Sample, who was batting for Fields. Sawyer flied out to center as Kraul scooted home and while Zimmerman was safe at first on his grounder, Shellenberger was

Dutch Diamonders Down Diplomats 8-5

Lebanon Valley played host to Franklin & Marshall College for its tenth game of the current campaign on Monday afternoon and after the ball game was over the Flying Dutchmen recorded their seventh victory of the season by blackjacking the Diplomats 8-5. Fred Fore marked up his third triumph as he handled the hurling duties for Coach Ralph Mease. Fore allowed six hits, struck out nine, and walked four as he performed the full nine innings against F & M's ace, Bob Forstburg.

The Measemen took a 2-0 first inning edge and were never headed as they coasted to their third consecutive win at home against no defeats. Lebanon Valley scored twice in the third, once in the fifth and three times in the seventh to round out the scoring for the day. The visitors from Lancaster came within one run in the seventh but the three Valley registrations in that period erased their duce and left the win intact. F. & M. threatened in the ninth as Forstburg took a base on balls and touched home on Longenecker's triple. The next batter, however, ended the rally and the other two went down in the same order. "Chuck" Zimmerman continued his good hitting by setting the pace for the Blue and White with two for four.

Lebanon Valley (8)				F. & M. (5)
ab	r	h		ab	r	h
Furda,lf	4	1	0	Longn'ker,ss	4	1	2
Fields,rf	3	3	1	English,3b	4	0	1
Sawyer,ss	4	2	1	M'B'ney,cf	5	0	0
Z'm'man,3b	4	1	2	Miller,c	5	1	1
Schadler,1b	2	1	1	L'phier,1b	3	0	2
DiJoh's'n,2b	4	0	1	Moore,2b	4	0	1
Becker,cf	3	0	1	G'bach,2b	0	0	0
Wise,c	4	0	0	P'r'b'gh,rf	4	1	0
Fore,p	4	0	0	Fisher,lf	2	2	0
				Forstburg,p	2	0	0
32 8 7				35 5 7

F & M ..... 0 1 0 0 1 0 2 0-5
Lebanon Valley 2 0 2 0 1 0 3 0 x-8
RBI's: Longenecker, English 2, Moore, Zimmerman 2, Schadler 2, DiJohnson 2. Errors: F & M 5; LVC 4. Two base hits: Longenecker. Double plays: Sawyer, DiJohnson, Schadler; Zimmerman, DiJohnson, Schadler. Strikeouts: Fore 9; Forstburg 10. Left on bases F & M 8; LVC 6. Bases on balls: Fore 7; Forstburg 7. Wild pitches: Forstburg 2. Umpires Emmerich and Bender.

thrown out at home. Heberling flied to right to end the rather hectic inning.

Lebanon Valley (13)				St. Joseph (6)
ab	r	h		ab	r	h
Furda,lf	5	1	1	Barr, B.,rf	2	0	0
Shel'b'ger,lf	0	0	0	Murphy,rf	2	1	1
Fields,rf	5	1	3	Young,ss	2	2	0
Sample,rf	0	0	0	Coogan,cf	4	1	2
Sawyer,ss	6	1	2	Leonard,lf	4	1	2
Z'm'man,3b	6	2	1	Olivo,1b	5	0	0
Schadler,1b	4	1	2	Clifford,3b	3	0	0
Heberling,1b	1	0	0	Barr, D.,2b	4	0	0
DiJoh's'n,2b	5	1	2	McGlone,c	2	0	1
Becker,cf	2	2	0	R'dinger,c	1	0	0
Wise,c	4	0	1	McNally,p	2	0	0
Stamato,c	0	1	0	Homyak,p	1	0	0
Thomas,p	4	2	1	Crowley,p	0	0	0
Kraul,p	0	1	0	Corson,p	0	0	0
Murawski,p	0	0	0	Galvin	0	1	0
42 13 13				32 6 6

a—walked for Corson in ninth.
Lebanon Valley 1 0 0 0 2 1 2 25-13
St. Joseph ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 23-6
Statistics: Two base hit, Fields, 2; Schadler, 2; Sawyer; DiJohnson; Coogan. Three base hit, Leonard. Left on base, LVC, 10; St. Joe, 5. Bases on balls, off Thomas, 7; Kraul, 4; McNally, 1; Homyak, 4; Crowley, 2; Corson, 1. Struck out, by Thomas, 5; Murawski, 1; McNally, 1; Homyak, 1. Balks, Thomas and Crowley. Wild pitches, McNally, 2. Errors, LVC, 2; St. Joe, 5. Winning pitcher, Thomas; losing pitcher, McNally. Umpires Emil and Waldecker.

Cassel and Tomilen Star; But LVC Loses

Coach Roger Robinson's Lebanon Valley College track team still continued to face more experienced and well balanced competition as they went down to two more defeats. The Flying Dutchmen bowed to Franklin & Marshall at Lancaster on May 3 by an 86½-39½ score and on Tuesday the Blue and White dropped a 73½-52½ decision to Juniata at Huntingdon.

Against F. & M. Truman Cassel stood out again as he copped three firsts. He won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and took the broad jump. Bill Tomilen won the discus throw while Ken Kirkpatrick tied Bohee of F. & M. in the high jump. At Juniata, Cassel was a dual winner, taking both the 100 and 220 again. Tomilen joined him in taking two firsts as Big Bill came out on top in the shot put and discus. Others taking firsts were Kirkpatrick in the high jump, who tied with Ulsh; and Thomas in the broad jump who beat out Cassel.

Here are the statistics of the Juniata meet:

Pole Vault: Won by Dietrich J; Kirkpatrick LV and Ulsh J tied for second; height 9 ft. Shot put: won by Tomilen, LV; Morris J; McGary LV; distance 41 ft., 8½ in. High jump: Tied by Kirkpatrick LV, Ulsh J; Hackman J; height 5 ft., 8 in. Javelin: won by Fleck J; Wagner J; Kirkpatrick LV; distance 146 ft., 8 in. One mile: won by Bayer J; Britton J; B. Oxley LV; time 4:38. 440: won by Stauffer J; Maston LV; Geesey LV; time 55. 100: won by Cassel LV; Long J; Thomas LV; time 10:5.

120 High Hurdles: won by Ulsh J; Hackman J; MacDougal J; time 18. Broad Jump: won by Thomas LV; Cassel LV; Fusco J; distance 20 ft., 8½ in. Discus: won by Tomilen LV; McGary LV; Ciccozzi J; distance 122 ft., 7 in. 880: won by Britton J; B. Oxley LV; Bayer J; time 2:6.8. 220: won by Cassel LV; Stauffer J; Thomas LV; time 23.2. Two miles: won by Bayer J; Britton J; B. Oxley LV; time 10:52.7. 220 Low hurdles: Hackman J; Cassel LV; MacDougal J; time 28.7.

Bill Tomilen and winning discus toss.

La Vie Collegienne

26th Year—No. 23

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, ANNVILLE, PA.

Thursday, May 18, 1950

Governor Duff Will Address the 1950 Graduating Class

Baxtresser, Fairlamb Program Tonight

Margaret Barthel Baxtresser and William Fairlamb, Professors of Piano at L V C, will present a Piano Ensemble Recital, Thursday evening, May 18, 1950, at 8:15 P.M. in Engle Hall of the Conservatory of Music. The public is cordially invited to attend and there is no charge for admission. The program is given in memoriam of Mme. Olga Samaroff and an offering will be taken for the benefit of the Olga Samaroff Foundation Scholarship Fund.

The Olga Samaroff Foundation was started immediately following her death by a group of students, who wished to create a living memorial to her and the musical ideals for which she stood. The Fund is used to provide financial aid to talented American students of the piano. Mrs. Baxtresser and Mr. Fairlamb were both scholarship students of Mme. Olga Samaroff, and it is particularly fitting that Thursday night, almost the exact anniversary of her death two years ago, the collection be taken for the Olga Samaroff Foundation.

The program will include: "Concerto Grosso No. IV"—Movements Largo-Allegro, by Handel-Krug; "Sonata in D"—Movement Allegro con spirito, by Mozart; "Variations on a Theme by Haydn" by Brahms; "Four Pieces for Organ" by Dupre, arranged for one piano four hands by Robert K. Clark, a classmate of Mr. Fairlamb, at the Philadelphia Conservatory and now studying at Juilliard; "Fetes (Festivals)" by Debussy-Samazeuilh; "Hoe Down" by Copland; "Waltz" by Arensky; and "Ritmo" by Infante.

Jiggerboard Officers Elected for '50-'51

The Resident Women's Student Government Association of Lebanon Valley College announced today the election of officers for 1950-'51.

President, Barbara Metzger, Harrisburg; Vice President, Ruth Withers, Dallastown; Secretary, Lois Adams, Williamstown; Treasurer, Nancy Myers, York.

Other members of the Board include Helen McFarland (Glenside), Margaret Bower (Chambersburg), Florence Dunkelberger (Newville), and Phyllis Barnhart (Waynesboro).

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Miller announced the birth of a son, Larry Vincent Miller on Friday morning, May 12, at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon. Gerry Miller is a junior at the college and Mrs. Miller is secretary in the Public Relations Office.

Field Trips Held By Sociology Department

On Wednesday and Friday of last week, May 10 and 12, members of the Criminology class participated in a field trip to various penal institutions in the State. On Wednesday the class visited Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia and Graterford Prison at Collegeville. Eastern State is one of the oldest prisons in the State, and the class was interested in the setup of its facilities.

Dr. Shearer, prison psychologist, conducted the group on a tour of the prison, showing the students the cell arrangement, the printing shops, kitchens, the craft shops, and library. He also distributed typical prison records of prisoners in order that the students could acquaint themselves with the official entrance procedure maintained by the prison. Many of the modern trends in the handling of prisoners were explained to the students.

In the afternoon, the class went to Graterford Prison in Collegeville. This is one of the most modern prisons in the country. Within its sixty-two acres of walled grounds are large recreation areas, a modern auditorium with facilities for plays and motion pictures, weaving shops, tailor and shoe shops, a laundry, refrigerator plant, hothouse, and bakery. Because very few prisoners at Graterford remain there longer than five years, morale seemed to be higher. Many students expressed wonder at the extremely modern facilities.

Friday the group began its tour with a visit to the State Police Training School at Hershey. There they were guided by Sgt. Grossnich, a part time student at LVC. He showed them the facilities at the school and explained the training program at the school. From Hershey, the group went to Harrisburg, where they were introduced to Judge Rupp in his chambers at the Dauphin County Courthouse. Judge Rupp explained his duties as County Judge and answered many questions put to him by members of the group. After visiting the Law Library and various courtrooms in the ultra modern courthouse, the group proceeded to Whitehill Industrial School for Boys at Lemoyne.

During their visit to this ten-year-old institution, the students witnessed the many activities of the boys. Since the ages of boys are between fifteen and twenty-five years, the group was anxious to see what the officials of the school have provided for their rehabilitation. Under the guidance of Dr. Philips, chief psychologist at Whitehill, the class was able to roam rather freely through the many buildings. They saw the boys who attend the many classes of high school level,

(Continued on Page 3)

Graduating Class Largest In History of College

One hundred and ninety Bachelor Degrees and five Honorary Degrees will be conferred by Lebanon Valley College, to the largest graduating class in the history of the College, at the Eighty-first Annual Commencement Exercises, Monday morning, June 5th.

Those persons receiving Honorable Degrees include: The Honorable James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws; The Reverend Claude C. Grover, of the Hill Memorial Evangelical United Brethren Church of Bradford, Pennsylvania, who will receive the Degree of Doctor of Divinity; Professor Merle M. Hoover, of the English Department of Columbia University, who will receive the degree of Doctor of Letters; The Reverend Millard J. Miller of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Westerville, Ohio, who will receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity; and Professor Harling E. Sponseller, Director of Student Teaching and Laboratory Schools of Shippensburg State Teachers College, who will be granted the Degree of Doctor of Pedagogy.

Governor Duff, who will deliver the Commencement address this year to the graduating class, was formerly the Attorney General of Pennsylvania. He was born January 21, 1883, at Mansfield (now Carnegie), Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, where he has since continually resided. Governor Duff was graduated from Princeton University in 1904, attended the University of Pennsylvania Law School the succeeding two years, and the next year the University of Pittsburgh Law School, where he graduated in 1907. Elected Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in November 1946, he was inaugurated on January 21, 1947.

The Reverend Grover, a graduate of the Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, received the degree of Bachelor of Theology from Burton College in 1932. Having been ordained at the Annual Conference on September 4, 1926, Rev. Grover has served several pastorates, including the Hill Memorial Church, Bradford, Pa., where he has served since 1941. He has been the treasurer of the Erie Conference Ministerial Pension Society, Inc., the Mutual Benefit Association, and the Conference Mission Board.

Professor Hoover, an alumnus of Lebanon Valley College, who will speak to the Alumni at the annual Alumni Banquet, received his A.M. Degree from Columbia University in 1911. He has been a member of the English Department of Columbia University since 1919, when he became a full-time Instructor. Professor Hoover, in 1948, was honored by the establishment of a $15,000 scholarship given anonymously by a New York woman because her "life has been enriched in many ways" by attending Mr. Hoover's classes. He is the author of text books and of contributions in history of American literature and recently was elected one of the honorary members of the Alumni Association of the School of General Studies at Columbia University.

The Reverend Miller, an alumnus of Lebanon Valley College, who will deliver the Baccalaureate address, was graduated from Bonebrake Theological Seminary in 1933. After two years in the capacity of superintendent of the Virginia Conference, he was elected National Director of Youth Work and Leadership Education for the United Brethren Church. In 1945, he became the pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Westerville, Ohio, the church adjacent to the campus of Otterbein College. He has contributed articles to numerous periodicals and recently was co-author of "Our Church," a publication for the education of adults for church membership. At present, he is President of the Westerville Ministerial Association, a trustee of the International Society of Christian Endeavor of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, and of the Temperance League of Ohio.

Professor Sponseller, a graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers College and former student of Lebanon Valley College, received the M.A. Degree from Columbia University. Born and reared in Frederick, Maryland, he served as an officer in the Air Corps of the U. S. Army in the First World War, and is a decorated veteran of five battles. He is presently Director of Student Teaching and Director of the Laboratory Schools at Shippensburg State Teachers College. A leader in many capacities in the Messiah Church, Shippensburg, he has taught the Men's Bible Class of 125 members for 26 years. He is a past president of his Rotary Club, a past commander of both the V.F.W. and American Legion, and holds other posts of civic responsibility.

Campus Chatter . . .

Never thought the time would arrive, but it's here and gone. The last big dance of the year—the Senior Ball—has had its fling and is now past history. Hotel Brunswick again the center of the festivities. Andy Kerner and his orchestra out of this world as usual. President Bob Uhrich doing the honors for the class.

All the old faithfuls there—never did see so many engaged girls in one class—loads of best wishes and congrats to Jan Eppley and Norm Bucher and to Toni Reed and Lee Spangler on the engagements. Those diamonds were outshone only by the gleams in their eyes.

Good to see the many nonsocialite men day students treating their wives to a good time—Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. George Mayhoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Womer, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis to mention a few. Don Potter, Ralph Roberts, and crowd with girls from their local stamping grounds. Bob Kline and Mickey Baker escorting local lovelies—Marion Millard and Jean McClure respectively.

Elliot Nagle (escorting Polly Stoner) given the raspberries by the chem department. Seems like old times to see Ruthie Kramer and Bill Miller. Lefty Euston and Beatie Meiser having fun together. Bob Moller and Phyl Dale a new couple. Bob Eigenbrode and Eppie Gehman with John Beddall and Dotty Kline. Ray "Hiram" Kline coming stag and rushing all the faculty wives. Good to see John McClure with Nancy Moyer and Dan Fraunfelner with Mary Daugherty back after a semester in the cold cruel world. Al Zangrilli with a cute little trick from home.

Ephrata Legion looking like second Hotel Brunswick later in the evening. Have you heard about George Roman and Hank DiJohnson exchanging shoes? And so a gay time was had by all.

The Flying Saucer Story

By Jay Flocken

I have kept the story which Orm told to me secret for several months. Why? Who would believe that not only had I seen a "flying saucer," but that I had spoken to a man in one of them? Who would believe me if I said that he spoke a language which I could understand—because it was my own?—Who would believe a college student if he said that he knew the reason people saw "flying saucers," when scientific, military, and other expert testimony had been published that nothing anything near descriptions of the saucers existed?

Why do I now release the story? I will answer that when I have set down Orm's story . . .

I was standing in the corner of the stack room in the library. It must have been 8 o'clock, because I saw through the window other students huddled about the television set in Washington Hall, watching the strip of newspaper pass before their eyes telling, I suppose, the lurid details of the recent murder.

Then I saw it. Over the top of North Hall appeared a circular object, shimmering a dull white glow. It hovered above the dorm for a moment and then floated noiselessly down into the excavation that will be the new gym. I rubbed my eyes and pinched myself . . . but no, a soft radiance now shone from the pile of earth beside the construction. I left the library and walked over to the spot on the campus where I had seen the thing disappear. It sounds corny, but I whistled "Onward Christian Soldiers," the wind whipped the tune back over my head and I couldn't hear if I was making noise or not, so I beat out the notes with my hand. As I approached the light I heard a queer humming sound, like that of a powerful radio tuned to a station that isn't on the air.

Losing interest quickly, I turned to run into the White House, when a hand caught my shoulder and a voice said,

"Lookin' for somethin' buddy?"

"Who the devil are you?" I asked, thinking some gink from the Men's Dorm had spotted my rather peculiar meanderings.

"My name's Orm. Whatcha lookin' fer?"

Orm? I knew there wasn't a name like that on campus.

"Orm? Where do you live . . . er, I mean, do you go here?"

"Well not exactly, I guess. But I do spend a lot of time around the place. Just at night, though, so I guess no one sees us."

"Us? Are there more?"

"Why sure thing, buddy. But say, let me introduce ya to 'em. C'mon down."

I bit through my pipe stem and was led over the pile of earth, down into the excavation.

"Yep," Orm was continuing, "we spend a lot of time over here on your campus. Right good deposit you have, too. Guess we'll soon finish up though and move on to the next job."

The men I saw were moving silently about the hole, filling huge bottles (I guess they were bottles) with the earth that had been piled up beside the excavation by the bull-dozer.

"What in the world are you doing? What are you putting in those bottles that seems so important?"

"That? Why sonny, where I come from that stuff is priceless and if it weren't for holes like this we'd be in a pretty mess of cheese."

"Just where are you from, Mr. Orm?"

"Oh, I thought you knew. In that case I'll let you have fun guessing. I'll give you a hint, though . . . you see it right now up above you."

I looked up into the sky. He couldn't mean there.

"I'm afraid I don't get it, Mr. Orm."

"Well the F.O.E. boys was right all right. You folks don't know nothin', do you?"

Senior Snapshot

By Betty Bakley

Last but by no means least (in the words of that good old cliché) is that suave and sophisticated man about campus John Smith better known as J. C. or just plain Smitty, who is the senior personality of the week. And speaking of personality, Smitty has just that. A debonair guy with friendly blue eyes (behind those distinguished-looking horn rims), Smitty is a well-known figure on campus. His title in the '49 Quittie of the Best Dressed Man was a well deserved one, for his excellent taste in clothes is a trade mark.

Smitty who hails from Berwyn, Pennsylvania, is a business administration major. Among the offices which he has held, with president of the Men's Senate heading the list, are: president of freshman class, vice president of the sophomore class, and treasurer of Kalo for two years. A member of the Pol. Sci. Club, he went with the group sent to ICG in 1950. A fitting climax to this string of honors was his election to Who's Who of 1950.

Something in the field of business or perhaps politics, in which he is interested, seems to be in the future for Smitty. It wouldn't be hard to picture him in either role.

An active guy who did a great deal for his college Smitty will be missed by all. Its the same old line—but sincere—"good luck, Smitty."

"I admit I'm stupified. But what is all this and who are the F.O.B. boys?"

"Not F.O.B. It's F.O.E. . . . Files on Earth. You see where I live, it's mighty important to know all about everybody in the whole world. Just like all the other planets and moons, you know, to sort of see that things is spread out a bit more equal."

"You mean you're from another planet?"

"Now you're getting' warm. Well, I'll tell you so's you don't think I'm stringin' you along. I'm from Moon. I said you could see where I was from just by lookin' up into the sky. That Moon is my home . . . these boys live there, too."

"But . . . there's no life, no air . . . er, no water, no ground . . ."

"Now look here, young man, we don't go truckin' around the universe to talk nonsense with dumb kids. I don't want to seem impolite, but please don't tell me nothin' 'bout no air, or life, or nothin' like that. I'm life, that's why we're here. Our head Mooner is a consermoonist, and we're following out his new land policy. We are kinda short of ground on Moon, and since the Bright Brothers invented this new Moonmobile parked over there, we can go anywheres we please, and gather up ground. We don't need much. See, you're ground weighs more on Moon than it does here, and we treat it with some kinda stuff the LuBont people developed that makes it go further."

"This is fantastic. I don't believe it, not a bit of it!"

"Would you like a ride in the Moonmobile to convince you? I guess we still have enough spare beams to get us back to Moon if I took you for a spin."

"No, its a trick of some kind: You think a freshman would fall for this stuff like a mock murder or somethin'. I'll bet you're from Albright. But I'm not a freshman, and I don't go for this moony stuff, anyway."

"O.K., buddy, I just wanted to let you in on the secret. You know how many people have seen these Moonmobiles and mistook 'em for somethin' else. I thought we could explain it decent like and stop all this foolishness. Guess the F.O.E. boys was righter than right."

So saying, Orm turned on his heel and addressed the working men. "O.K. fellows, that'll be enough for this trip. Load the bottles in the Moonmobile and let's take off."

I wasn't noticed by any of them after that. They carried all the bottles to the far side of the excavation and disappeared with them behind another pile of ground. Orm did stop to wave at me, and then he disappeared too.

I waited for something to happen. Nothing did. I convinced myself that I was having hallucinations and walked back to the library to sober up on the Congressional Record. But as I entered the stack room again, a dim, circular glow rose up from the site of the new gym and after what seemed like a second, softly lifted into the sky until I saw it disappear in the cold reflection from the moon . . .

That's the story . . . that's what I've been harboring within myself for almost two months. I can't believe it myself, but it must have happened. The pile of ground is going down somewhat, and the other day a construction worker found a large glass bottle, stamped with the words "Moonshine Excavators." I'm not ready to say it is so, but Lebanon Valley College has already been visited by what a man from Moon described to me as Moonmobiles. I release this story so that proper action can be made to investigate the condition.

Who's Who in the Conserv

This week's candidate for Who's Who in the Conserv is senior William Lemon III, representative of Middletown, Pa. Bill has quite an impressive record piled up behind him. His school record alone is well worth mentioning. Before his graduation from Middletown High in 1943, he was student conductor of the school band, and directed a band for Dr. Frank Simon and Albertus Myers. He served as the president of the Safety Council and was a member of the National Honor Society. As proof of his early vocal accomplishments he sang in the School Glee Club and the Boys' Octette. Somehow Bill found time to play in the School Symphony Orchestra and lead the School Dance Band. He also directed the Junior High School Orchestra.

After his graduation from high school, Bill served 32 months in the Army, with 17 months overseas. Continuing his career in music, he held the rank of T/4 as a member of the 243rd Army Ground Force Band, and was assistant in charge of the radio program in Baltimore.

In his hometown Bill is a member of the Official Board of the Middletown Methodist Church where he also serves as the assistant choir director. An added feather in Bill's hat is one season with the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra, and he has directed his own 30-piece concert band and the Elizabethtown Municipal Band.

At Lebanon Valley Bill has been a member of the Concert Band, the Symphony Orchestra, and the Glee Club Accompaniment Orchestra, and he sang in the College Chorus. He has also played in the band for intercollegiate Chorus under the direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard and assisted Prof. Rutledge in the direction of the band for the May Day program, and he played in the Jazz Concert in Engle Hall.

Conserv Notes . . .

By Dottie Cohen

Friday, May 19, marks the last day of work as Conservatory secretary for Mrs. Helen Anglemeyer. We'll be sorry to see her go . . . she did a grand piece of work . . .

Word comes that June 17 is the big day for Sid Gaverich and Charlie Tome . . . July 29 is tentatively the date for Gerry Rothermel and Russ Getz's wedding . . . Ellen Jepsen and Norm Lukens planning for an August 5 ceremony . . . Mary Edelman and Johnny Light also joining the wedding parade in the summer months . . . Min Fuller and Bill Lemon joining hands on August 27 . . . Congratulations and best wishes to all . . .

Commencement recital is coming up on June 2nd . . . Professor Freeland is bidding farewell to the Lebanon Valley campus at the end of this year . . . He will be most sincerely missed by all his students and admirers . . . We really regret his leaving.

All the recitals are more-or-less over and done with. This busy and most successful season will be brought to a conclusion by a Memorial Concert in Engle Hall this evening by Mrs. Baxtresser and Wm. Fairlamb, Professor of Piano here in the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory.

FIELD TRIPS

(Continued from Page 1)

the cell blocks, recreation areas, kitchens, furniture factory, coffee roasting plant, and hospital.

The last place on the busy agenda of the class was the Dauphin County Prison in Harrisburg. This very old building, with its comparatively poor facilities and dim atmosphere, lent striking comparison to the other prisons the group had visited. Nevertheless, the class was amazed to see what has been done to improve the conditions of the prison in the last few years.

The two day trip was under the supervision of the class instructor, Professor Marvin E. Wolfgang of the LVC Department of Sociology.

Another Valley View

By Bill Fisher

Concerning our views of Valley sports some of the following comments were gathered after a short session with Athletic Director Ralph Mease.

Coach Mease also felt that a local league would help to create more fan interest for all colleges concerned. But he was quick to point out that efforts have been made in the past to formulate a league but met with little success.

It seems that the biggest obstacle to overcome is deciding who's in whose class. Some of the teams feel that the others are too big for them and vice versa.

Much of the impetus for establishing such a league should and probably would have to come from the Middle Atlantic Conference; but as an example of what success the MAC has had at forming a league, take basketball.

It used to be that MAC was composed of three divisions—the Northern, Southern, and Western—of about 4 teams each. But in a short time even a part of this system broke up because some of the colleges didn't like the competition in their division.

The whole thing seems to come down to the fact that each college wants to have their own way and say, which in the long run won't prove a thing.

No league can be perfect. Someday maybe these small colleges will learn that. One thing they must realize is that never failing axiom that, "When somebody wins—somebody else has to lose." Naturally some of the teams are going to constantly run up against stiffer competition; that's how a league operates.

As for having Albright as our last game, Mease replied that "It's being worked on, but contract commitments will probably make it 2 or 3 years before it can be arranged."

Attention Seniors:

Seniors who have not yet forwarded the questionnaire requested by the Office of Public Relations will note deadline is May 20th. Seniors desiring home-town publicity regarding graduation, activities, and degrees, are responsible for furnishing above office with information.

Character is what the medical entrance board will ask you if you've got, before they reject you because their school is too crowded.

—College Fun

A tommy hawk is what if you go to sleep suddenly and wake up without hair, there is an Indian with.

—Yale Record

Moravian Trims Valley Sluggers

An eight run seventh inning by Moravian on Saturday afternoon resulted in a 15-8 triumph for the visiting Greyhounds and dampened any hopes Lebanon Valley might have had for being invited to the Middle Atlantic Conference baseball playoffs. The loss was the first inflicted on the Flying Dutchmen at home this year. Fred Fore received the beginning chucking assignment and was charged with the defeat. However, Fred cannot be totally blamed for the loss since Valley errors and a lackadaisical attitude accounted largely in the Measers' fourth loss in an even dozen starts.

Lebanon Valley led 3-1 until Moravian took over at 5-3 in the top of the fifth and then the Valley came back in the bottom making it 5-all. After a scoreless sixth came the fiasco as Moravian connected for six hits, three walks, two errors, and a stolen base to chase home eight runs and sew up the victory. Al Murawski relieved the let-down and disappointed Fore and he had no trouble until the final inning when Gerenser led off with a double and Seifert did even better by plastering a triple thus chasing in the last two of the Bethlehem-ers' runs with the help of another error.

The Dutchmen scored their other two runs when Mark Heberling tagged one of tosser Seifert's pitches for a homerun in the seventh and Floyd Becker fascinated the crowd by also homering in the ninth with Hank DiJohnson aboard. "Chuck" Zimmerman once again was leading hitter by gaining two nicks in four attempts with DiJohnson and Becker duplicating exactly. Heberling had two for five.

Lebanon Valley				Moravian
	ab	r	h	ab	r	h
Furda,lf	4	1	1	Dotter,cf	5	2	1
Colucci,lf	1	0	0	Lobb,2b	6	1	1
Fields,rf	1	1	0	Stengele,ss	5	2	3
Sample,rf	1	0	0	M'chlitz,lf	6	2	2
Sawyer,ss	3	1	1	Laban,rf	5	1	1
Zim'man,3b	4	2	2	K'blaugh,c	4	1	0
Gluntz,3b	1	0	0	Garin,1b	4	1	1
Heb'ling,1b	5	1	2	G'encer,3b	5	2	2
DiJ'son,2b	4	1	2	Seifert,p	5	3	3
Becker,cf	4	1	2
Wise,c	4	0	0
Fore,p	3	0	0
Mur'ski,p	1	0	0

Totals ..	36	6	10	Totals ..	45	15	14
Moravian .....	0	0	1	0	4	0	8
LVC .....	3	0	0	2	0	1	2

Runs batted in: Dotter, Lobb, Stengele, 3; Muschlitz, 4; Laban, 2; Gerenser, Seifert, 3; Zimmerman, Heberling, 3; DiJohnson, Becker, 2. Two-base hits: Zimmerman, Stengele, Seifert. Home runs: Dotter, Heberling, Becker. Errors: Moravian 2; Lebanon Valley College 5. Bases on balls: Fore, 3; Murawski, 1; Seifert, 7. Strikeouts: Fore 8; Murawski, 3; Seifert, 5. Hits off: Fore, 12 for 13 runs in 6 1-3 innings. Hit by pitcher: by Seifert, (Sawyer). Wild pitches: Seifert. Passed balls: Knoblauch, Wise. Losing pitcher: Fore. Umpires: Imboden, Sin-cavage.

Views of the Valley

(Continued from page 4)

so far. We like it because a kettle is closely related to Pa. Dutch folklore and is a good size for a trophy case and scores.

So when Albright is finally secured as the final game on our schedule, let's start awarding the trophy. What a natural!

And I can see the headlines now—
LV WINS OLD IRON KETTLE BEFORE 10,000 IN ANNVILLE.
Well, I can dream, can't I?

But I've been dreaming 4 years. Please, for Lebanon Valley's sake, let's make this dream come true.

VIEWS From The VALLEY

By Bill Fisher

As Good as Dead?

Someone once said, "Life consists of wanting. When a man is satisfied, he's as good as dead." Assuming that also applies to us, we shall direct this week's buoyant essay of hope to whom it concerns—Lebanon Valley students and administration.

We'd like to say a little about a little something that LV seems to have little of, athletically anyway. Tradition is the word.

What is to follow is simply one small voice put forth with full faith and hope that something will be done. It is, we believe, a fair representation of opinions, ideas and wishes we have heard verbalized in 4 years at the Valley. As we see it many of the opinions are connected in one way or another with what we've chosen to call tradition—or lack of it.

Webster Says . . .

What is tradition anyway? That old dependable Webster says, "Something handed down from the past; an inherited culture, attitude, etc."

In the realm of sports what "inherited culture" or "attitude" do we here at LV have handed down from the past? Don't snicker please, there is more involved here than you think.

The feeling persists that LV has no tradition; and we can't think of a more opportune time to start establishing tradition, if such a thing is possible, than right now. What with a new gym, new stadium and new coaches all set to put an about face on Valley sports, the time for action is today.

As a Starter

Let's have some schedule changes; and we're speaking now of football and basketball. As of next fall when the new gym is completed the Valley will have to face a crowd problem—how to draw a crowd, that is.

The popular consensus seems to be that LV won't be able to draw fans to athletic events in Annville, and the basis for this belief seems well-founded. Sports fans, being the fickle folk they are, sometimes get pretty choosy about their ball teams.

Therefore something must be done to make our games a bit more attractive than in the past, because if not, the 4 miles between Lebanon and Annville may just as well be 40 as far as some Lebanon customers are concerned.

The notion here has been, and still is, that we can draw in Annville—if we get some schedule changes and try to form a league of some sort.

LV does not really have a set schedule in football or basketball, neither is there a good league tie-up. True, in basketball we are included in the Middle Atlantic Conference; but if that outfit has functioned in good competitive fashion over the past few years it has not been visible to the naked eye.

In football there is no league. As a consequence we have no really big traditional game, possibly with the exception of Albright—but more about that later.

Over the past 4 years we have played no less than 15 different football teams, an inevitable result being a loss of fan interest. A prescription to possible prosperity would seem to be the formation of a "local" league of, say 6 to 8 teams, who would play each other through the season.

In addition to increasing spectator appeal, a local league would stir up keen rivalry at each game and make for better ball games as a win would naturally boost a team in the league standings.

Middle-of-the Road

Granted, problems are bound to arise when a league is proposed. One thing sure is that any league should include teams which are on a par athletically; all of which brings up the question as to what local colleges are in our class.

The impression in this corner is that LV football is in a precarious middle-of-the-road position. Seems we are a little too good for our own class and maybe not quite strong enough for the next class.

Perhaps an explanation is due. Our class, we've been informed, is those teams who do not have spring training and who play freshmen—teams like Juniata, Susquehanna, Moravian, Albright, and Mt. St. Mary's. The group above us, the one we like to believe is our class, is F & M, Gettysburg, Dickinson, Western Maryland and Muhlenberg.

So, if a league is to be formed, the question will have to be answered, and soon, which road LV shall take—the high or low. Here's one firm vote in favor of the high road.

Salvaged Glory or Icing on the Cake?

Another improvement, a definite must, is to get Albright as our last game of the season. If we have anything near a traditional game now, it's Albright; but it is a game that has tremendous possibilities in the future.

For instance, with Albright last, no matter what happens during the season there's always the BIG GAME coming up. If we have a bad season then there is the traditional game left to salvage some glory from. And if we have a good season, then an Albright win would simply be icing on the cake.

LV vs. Albright as the season's finale is a natural—if only we can soon get together and take advantage of it.

If we may be allowed, we'd offer one more suggestion.

An Old Iron Kettle

Let's add a little trimming to the Albright game by offering an Old Oaken Bucket or Little Brown Jug type of trophy to the winning team.

As a suggestion, why not award an Old Iron Kettle to the winner. Each year the kettle would be placed in the trophy case of the winning college with the score of the game painted on the side.

The trophy need not be a kettle, that's simply the best idea we've had

(Continued on Page 3)

West. Maryland Succumbs To LV Onslaught 19-10

Western Maryland may have beaten Lebanon Valley in football; given us a rough time before bowing in basketball; but when it comes to baseball, well let's face it, Western Maryland is "nowhere." The Green Terrors rolled into Annville on last Wednesday afternoon and then proceeded to engage the Flying Dutchmen in a game of baseball, if that's what you care to call that athletic endeavor which was demonstrated. Anyway, the ensuing slaughter was decided to be called at the end of six-and-one-half innings by mutual consent of the respective schools' coaching staffs. At the end of the third frame the Flying Dutchmen were coasting a 13-2 bulge and moved this to 19-4 before the Marylanders six run surge in top of the seventh which finally ended the fray at 19-10, Lebanon Valley.

Oddly enough, the Mason-Dixonites scored first when they registered two unearned runs in the initial inning. However, the Dutchmen came back and pushed six markers across in the bottom of the first and second stanzas and that decided the ball game right there. Thereafter, the Measemen managed to tally in every frame until the game was finished. Henry DiJohnson joined "Chuck" Zimmerman and Tom Sawyer in their usual pulverizing of the pellet by having a perfect day at the plate, hitting three for three. Zimmerman collected two hits for three times at bat while Sawyer slashed out a double and a triple in four trips up. Frosh catcher Merl Wise also came in for his share of pitcher-belted plaudits as he connected two out of three times. While nearly everyone was having an enjoyable time fattening their batting averages, Neal Woll, or as he is better known, "the people's choice," became the outstanding hero on the field as he stunningly surprised his razzers and turned their jeers to cheers by picking up the maple, taking aim, and batting the ball into deep, left center for Lebanon Valley's first home run at home this season.

Glenn Thomas was the winning twirler and was one of four pitchers used by Coach Ralph Mease. Bill Frazier was injected in the fourth and did very well. Mease then sent Neil Krall in in the last frame, the seventh, and the freshman right-hander ran into quite a bit of trouble as the rejuvenated Marylanders jumped on him for five hits and six runs. With one out, Al Murawski was called on to act as fireman. Big Al struck out two of the three batters facing him, one managing to reach first on an error; and thus the high scoring affair was ended.

Lebanon	Valley	Western Maryland
ab r h	ab r h	ab r h	x—Batted for Spencer in 7th.
Sh'b'er,lf	4 0 0	K'man,lf	4 1 0
Tar'tola,lf	1 2 0	Spencer,c	3 0 1
Fields,rf	3 2 1	Gordon,x	1 1 0
Sample,rf	1 0 1	G'nelli,cf	4 3 3
Sawyer,ss	4 3 2	Shook,rf	3 0 1
Woll,ss	1 1 1	Wilsey,xx	2 0 0
Zim'man,3b	4 2 3	T'h'ski,ss	3 1 0
Gluntz,3b	1 0 0	Phipps,2b	4 1 1
Schadler,1b	3 2 1	Douglas,lf	0 0 0
Heb'ling,1b	0 0 0	Dodd,ss	3 2 2
Jones,2b	3 0 0	Orion,3b	4 1 1
DiJ'son,2b	2 2 3	Shivers,p	2 0 1
Becker,cf	3 1 1	Hudson,p	2 0 1
Colucci,cf	1 1 1
Wise,c	3 2 2
Thomas,p	2 1 1
Frazier,p	1 0 1
Krall,p	0 0 0
Mur'ski,p	0 0 0
Total ..	37 19 18	Totals ..	35 10 11

Western Maryland . . . 2 0 0 0 1 1 6—10
Lebanon Valley . . . 6 6 1 3 2 1 x—19

Runs batted in: Sawyer 2, Woll, Zimmerman 3, DiJohnson 3, Becker 2, Wise 2, Thomas 2, Phipps 2, Errors Western Maryland 5; LVC 6. Two base hits: DiJohnson, Sawyer. Three base hits: Sawyer, Giamelli. Home run: Woll. Double plays: Phipps, Kauffman, Tere-shinski; Dodd, Kauffman. Bases on balls: Shivers 2; Henderson 2, Thomas 1; Krall 3. Strikeouts: Shivers 1; Thomas 4; Frazier 5; Murawski 2. Hits off Krall 5 for 6 runs in 1-3 inning. Hits off Thomas 3 for 2 runs in 3 innings. Hits off Frazier 3 for 2 runs in 3 innings. Winning pitcher: Thomas. Losing pitcher: Shivers. Umpires: Shenk and Emerich.

Lebanon Valley's 1950 baseball team.